MARCH 2016 NEW ONOWAY JR./SR. HIGH SCHOOL UPDATE

Submitted by Principal John Lobo

We are at the 1 year mark since Binder Construction started on the new school building on March 2015. The project is right on track, and we anticipate the school will be handed over to Northern Gateway Public Schools in early July 2016.

Regular external drone pictures and some internal photos and a video from February 2016 have been posted on the school's website if you wish to follow in the progress.

In June and July 2016, it's a matter of moving all the items over to the new school to the correct classrooms. Additionally, vendors will deliver new furniture, appliances, tools technology, and have everything set up for August 2016. It will be a busy regular school year shut down and we celebrate GRAD 2016 on Saturday June 25 at the Onoway arena.

In order to have our parking lot complete for August 2016, the cafeteria/band room and large gym of our current school have to be closed off by June 6, so cleanup can occur and demolition starts early in July when all students are off on summer holiday.

We are hosting a Community Open House on SATURDAY MAY 29, 2016 from 1-5 pm. This is an opportunity for past staff and students to have one final walkthrough through of the whole Onoway Jr./Sr. High School Building that was started in 1960, opened in 1963 and has served the area till 2016. There will be opportunity to leave memory messages and favourite story, purchase a memory book (Pictures of Artwork gracing the walls), and bid on a person's favourite Art work on the school interior door. More information will be posted on our website <http://onowayhigh.ca>.

CANADIAN CITIZENSHIP ACT – BILL C-6

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Liberal Minister of Immigration, Citizenship and Refugees, the Honourable John McCallum, tabled Bill C-6, an ‘Act to Amend the Citizenship Act and make consequential amendments to another Act.’ This Bill, introduced on February 25th, is extremely worrying.

I am deeply concerned that the Liberals’ first priority when it comes to immigration and public safety legislation is to give back the citizenship, and protect the rights of a committed member of the Toronto 18, Zakaria Amara. He, and future people convicted of terrorism, are clearly the biggest beneficiaries of this Liberal announcement.

Why is it that one’s citizenship can be revoked for fraud but not for committing a terrorist act? This, in my view, is an unacceptable double standard.

Internationally, France’s political elite is currently involved in a heated debate over whether to revoke the French citizenship of convicted terrorists with dual nationality, while the U.K. has stripped almost 40 people of British citizenship in the last half-dozen years, including some born in the country.

I believe Canadians deserve to be protected from acts of terror, and dual citizens who commit these barbaric crimes — terrorism, espionage, treason and taking up arms against members of the Canadian Armed Forces — should not enjoy the many privileges and benefits that come with Canadian citizenship.

As I do with all legislation that passes through Parliament, I will examine the bill. However, like you, I am extremely concerned by these changes.

PULLING A TOOTH SHOULDN'T COST AN ARM AND A LEG: WILDROSE SUGGESTS DENTAL FEE REFORMS

Submitted by Wildrose MLA Drew Barnes

Most people don't like going to the dentist.

It doesn't matter how kind the hygienist is, or how friendly the dentist. It's uncomfortable to sit there with your mouth wide open, having to grunt responses to polite – and horribly timed – questions.

Nevertheless, Albertans understand how critical these services are to our communities – especially for young families.

However, there is more that can be done to increase competition, improve services and reduce costs throughout Alberta's dental system.

Here in Alberta, families pay more out-of-pocket on dentistry costs than anywhere else in the country, according to Statistics Canada's most recent National Household Survey. In fact, costs have risen dramatically since 1997, when the Alberta Dental Association (now the Alberta Dental Association and College) stopped publishing their fees. Even insurance plans are growing more costly more quickly in Alberta than in other provinces.

Especially in these difficult economic times, when thousands of Albertans are out of work and struggling to make ends meet, Wildrose believes that Albertans don't need more reasons to worry. That's why, in response to the government's review of dental fees, we have put forward a comprehensive strategy to address the strain on Albertans' pocketbooks caused by the most expensive dental care in the country.

Our plan would increase transparency in Alberta's dental system by allowing and encouraging dental offices to post pricing information online. It would also promote consumer choice and a competitive market by relaxing the strict limitations on advertising and promotional offers currently in place in the dental profession.

Now, we understand that the cost of doing business isn't cheap, and that dentists must cover their overheads and make a profit margin. However, unlike almost all business owners in Alberta, our dental professionals are not operating within a transparent and efficient free market.

A strong market economy relies on competition: it unleashes innovation and passes savings from business efficiencies on to consumers. Competition allows for fair prices and fair profits, and provides a natural means of balancing a market quickly and efficiently.

It also removes the need for price controls.

The last thing Albertans want is a dental system burdened with more red tape and government regulation. Allowing and encouraging dental offices to make their prices publicly available and allowing dentists to advertise more freely would provide a more effective solution to record dental fees than imposing set fees.

There is a rare opportunity here to allow Albertans the ability to make informed decisions and exercise their purchasing power in choosing a dentist. We'd like to see a common-sense solution that brings best practices to the dentistry market – where consumers are empowered, and dentists are free to compete for your dollars.

We are disappointed that to date, the NDP government has rejected many of these constructive recommendations that would improve the lives of and health care choices for Albertans. If you agree with our suggested changes, I encourage you to send an email to the Health Minister at health.minister@gov.ab.ca.

Wildrose hopes the government will take up our proposals for increased transparency and consumer choice in dentistry as it reviews dental fees in our province.

We think it's a good way to improve access and choice for families.

Everyone agrees, farm safety is important but it's not always easy to talk about it. Communication is key in promoting safety on the farm and preventing injuries or fatalities.

Let's talk about safety now and stop accidents before they happen. Remember, most farm injuries are predictable and preventable! Whether a parent and child, an operator and a farm employee, or neighbour to neighbour, start a conversation and Let's Talk About It! Visit www.agsafetyweek.ca

TELEPHONE SCAMS

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

The Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) is noting an increase in telephone scams where the caller claims to be from the CRA but is not, and is asking Canadians to beware—these calls are fraudulent and could result in identity and financial theft.

Some recent telephone scams involve threatening taxpayers or using aggressive and forceful language to scare them into paying fictitious debt to the CRA. Victims receive a phone call from a person claiming to work for the CRA and saying that taxes are owed. The caller requests immediate payment by credit card or convinces the victims to purchase a prepaid credit card and to call back immediately with the information. The taxpayer is often threatened with court charges, jail or deportation.

If you get such a call, hang up and report it to the Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre.

These types of communication are not from the CRA. When the CRA calls you, it has established procedures in place to make sure your personal information is protected. If you want to confirm the authenticity of a CRA telephone number, call the CRA by using the numbers on its Telephone numbers page. The number for business-related calls is 1-800-959-5525. The number for calls about individual concerns is 1-800-959-8281.

To help you identify possible scams, use the following guidelines:

- The CRA:
- never requests prepaid credit cards;
 - never asks for information about your passport, health card, or driver's licence;
 - never shares your taxpayer information with another person, unless you have provided the appropriate authorization; and
 - never leaves personal information on your answering machine or asks you to leave a message containing your personal information on an answering machine.

When in doubt, ask yourself the following:

- Is there a reason that the CRA may be calling? Do I have a tax balance outstanding?
- Is the requester asking for information I would not include with my tax return?
- Is the requester asking for information I know the CRA already has on file for me?
- How did the requester get my email address or telephone number?

• Am I confident I know who is asking for the information?

ALBERTA'S HIGHEST HONOUR

Submitted by Hon. Oneil Carlier - MLA, Whitecourt-Ste. Anne

They are incredible people, the kind of people who do so much good in the world they inspire the rest of us to do what we can. They are talented, soulful, visionary--sometimes famous, more often unknown, but always unforgettable.

Do you know someone like this? You can help that person get deserved recognition. If a remarkable Albertan has touched your life – an entrepreneur, educator, volunteer or any other type of community builder – consider nominating that exceptional person for the Alberta Order of Excellence.

They may be from the fields of medicine, science, engineering or law. They may be from the non-profit and voluntary sector, from education, agriculture, multicultural groups or the arts. They can be people with an extraordinary impact in business, labour, the political sphere, or in Alberta's indigenous community – and beyond.

They all have one thing in common: they have made an outstanding impact on the provincial, national, or international scene. They have done extraordinary things that stand the test of time. The Alberta Order of Excellence honours these remarkable Albertans and preserves their stories for future generations, encouraging others to follow their lead.

FIREFIIGHTERS GET FIRED-UP FOR PROVINCIAL TRAINING GRANTS

Submitted by Government of Alberta

The Fire Services Emergency Preparedness Program provides grant funding to municipalities and First Nations to help local authorities and volunteers prepare for, mitigate, respond to, and recover from fires and other emergency situations.

“Local firefighters and emergency responders provide an invaluable service to their communities. These men and women, many of whom are volunteers, brave dangerous situations in order to protect the public. Our government is proud to invest in emergency preparedness training as just one of the ways we will continue to help these individuals who help others.”

Danielle Larivee, Minister of Municipal Affairs

This grant program helps first responders develop the skills they need to respond effectively in fire and emergency events. The program is especially crucial for smaller fire departments, which rely heavily upon the commitment of volunteer firefighters.

A priority is placed on applications that include regional collaboration. Grant recipients are encouraged to train together, so different municipalities and First Nations can find common ground to expand and enhance the emergency services they provide to residents in their region.

“The Ermineskin Cree Nation Fire Protection – Disaster Services provides critical, life-saving emergency response within our community and thanks to mutual aid agreements, our Nation is also asked to provide fire response to surrounding communities and neighbours. Provincial training grants help ensure our trained volunteers can enhance their expertise and practice their skills, so they are ready, and Ermineskin Cree Nation is ready, in case of an emergency.”

Randy Ermineskin, Chief of the Ermineskin Cree Nation In 2016, Municipal Affairs will provide $500,000 to support fire training and $150,000 to support emergency management training. Municipalities will be notified of their grant applications within the coming weeks.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

Preventing Crushes

• From rolling machinery to falling front-end loaders there are countless crush hazards on a farm. While farm operators and workers can't prevent every hazard on a farm, they should prevent every hazard they can by taking simple preventative measures while working.

• Failure to block-up equipment safely can result in a fatal crushing injury. A jack may slip, a hose or overhead support may break, or the equipment may roll. Always take the precaution of placing support blocks under the equipment prior to working with raised machinery for any reason.

Farm Safety Tips

March 13 - 19

- Hire right – hire the right person and pay them fairly rather than hire an unqualified person for less money then pay for their liability and errors.
- Get a check-up – make sure every worker is checked up on at least every two hours
- Know the code – the Code of Practices for Farm Safety (PEI) has set the industry standard for agriculture
- Train for safety

ANIMAL RELATED INCIDENTS

A study reveals significant patterns in the types of animal-related incidents. For example, almost half (46.5 per cent) of horse-related injuries happen to women, age 16 to 59, and are caused primarily by falls when riding. Men, age 16 to 59, are most frequently (68 per cent) injured by cows during the calving season of February to June. Men aged 60 and older are most frequently (57 per cent) killed by bulls in the month of August as the breeding season starts.

Keep an eye for safety

The type of safety eye protection you should wear depends on the hazards in your workplace. If you are working in an area that has particles, flying objects, or dust, you must at least wear safety glasses with side protection (side shields). If you are working with chemicals, you should wear goggles. If you are working near hazardous radiation (welding, lasers, or fibre optics) you must use special-purpose safety glasses, goggles, face shields, or helmets designed for that task.

Be SAFE - Plan Ahead

Spot Hazards

Both employers and employees need to regularly check for hazards. Procedures should be put in place to have this done on a regular basis. By involving your workers in the process of identifying hazards and developing safety solutions, they will be more committed to making the solution work. Have your workers inspect and identify hazards in the workplace along with you.

LIFE MED PHARMACY WELCOMED AS THE NEWEST SPONSOR AT THE ALLAN & JEAN MILLAR CENTRE

Submitted by Tara Gallant

Life Med Pharmacy recently announced its partnership with the Allan & Jean Millar Centre. Life Med Pharmacy has committed a generous $20,000 to sponsor the Parent Link/Early Childhood Development and Childmind Room.

“We are excited about partnering with the Town to support a healthy and active lifestyle for the families in our community,” remarked Trevor Bills, Owner-Manager of Life Med Pharmacy. “We recognize the importance of the facilities and programs provided at the Allan & Jean Millar Centre and we are proud to be a part of it. The community has supported us and we want to support the community.”

The Life Med Pharmacy Kid’s Corner offers child mind services for facility users at the Millar Centre, and is also a venue for a number of Early Childhood Development Programs.

“I am pleased to welcome Life Med Pharmacy as a naming sponsor at the Allan & Jean Millar Centre,” added Whitecourt Mayor Maryann Chichak. “Over the years, we have been fortunate to have strong interest from our business community wanting to support the facility. Having committed partners demonstrates the community’s belief in our programs, and the importance local families place on healthy living.”

Sponsorships, donations and advertising revenues make it possible for the Town to expand its programs, services and initiatives while reducing the need for additional user fees or use of tax revenues. Sponsorships also provide a great opportunity to assist your organization to meet its corporate goals. There are a variety of facility and partnership opportunities available at the Allan & Jean Millar Centre, as well as with other Town facilities and special events. For more information on opportunities please contact Kelly Sadoway, Manager of Recreation, at 780-778-3637 ext. 407.

ONOWAY ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION NEWS

Submitted by Lorinda McCool

Greetings from the Onoway Legion. I was asked by a friend last week if we still had redpolls at the feeders because it seemed their flocks had disappeared. When I looked out this morning

I am sure the tiny birds were all here as there must have been over two hundred of the little critters all over the woods and the feeders. The ground looked alive as they hopped around eating and then flying as a huge flock up into the trees. We have lost our grosbeaks but the redpolls are still keeping us very entertained with their antics.

Seven teams competed in the Legion fun dart tournament on February 27th. Congratulations to Jay for being in charge of his very first tournament breakfast and lunch and thank you to Sandy, Cheryl, Kelsey and Marcelle for their assistance in the kitchen. First place was awarded to Zoey Potter's team from Onoway, second place to Bruce's team from St. Albert and third place to Broley's team from Onoway. All participants had a lot of fun and everyone is eagerly looking forward to the next monthly tournament.

Scouts Harvey and Jack did a terrific job of clearing tables at our Ham Supper on February 26th. Thank you as well to Bob, Jay, Jim and Dora for their prep, to Allen for coming in specially to carve the hams and to Kyle and Christina for their dish washing and kitchen clean-up. Louise made sure everyone had the refreshments of their choice while Scott was busy selling tickets on the draws. Much excitement erupted as Jerry Mussell picked the Queen of Clubs out of the remaining cards and took home the prize. Lisa Johnston won the free meal draw, Bill Nicholl the meat draw and congratulations again to Jerry for finding the Queen.

Teach small children the rudiments of safety, such as which areas are off-limits. As they grow older, explain why certain things are dangerous. When they start helping with the work, make sure they are properly trained, keeping their limited strength and experience in mind. The safe way to do things is not always obvious to a child, so always explain and enforce the safety aspects of the job.

FOOD BANK FRENZY AT ONOWAY ELEMENTARY

Submitted by Lori Bell, Assistant Principal

The Grade 7 Leadership Team at OES worked hard in the month of February to promote the Lac St. Anne East Food Bank. This group of students began the journey by meeting with Food Bank Board members Carolyn Saumer and Pastor Rick Foster and found out lots of information about the needs of the Food Bank. With this information, the team designed weekly themes that promoted items needed at the Food Bank. In total, over 1970 items were collected which weighed in at 791 kg. Cash donations to the Food Bank totaled $265.

The work of Leadership team inspired students who belong to the Green Team. This group, along with Mrs. Hetherington, decided that the recycling money collected in the month of February should go to the Food Bank. A cheque for $1310 was also donated to Ms. Saumer and Pastor Rick. They were very pleased with the efforts of OES students and staff and their support of the local Food Bank.

The Food Bank is experiencing higher than normal demand as many families are facing financial stresses with the shift in our economy. Thank you to all our school community for your continued support of this worthwhile event at OES. Showing community spirit and responsibility is an ongoing goal for all OES students.

Preventing Pinch Points

°The instant pain followed by a few days of discomfort after catching your finger in a closing door doesn't compare to the destructive force of farm machinery. A pinch-point injury can be seriously disabling and can cause amputation, or even death. °Often pinch-point injuries are the result of workers who are not properly trained, don't realize the dangers of machinery, or who take shortcuts to get the work done more quickly, but end up injuring themselves instead. Never perform a task without proper training, by taking shortcuts, or bypassing procedures- the consequences could be serious.

Auto TUNE-UP

ITEMS TO INCLUDE IN YOUR AUTOMOTIVE EMERGENCY KIT

Road trips can make for great weekend getaways or even more lengthy vacations for those who can't get enough of the open road. But before embarking on any road trips, motorists should replenish their automotive emergency kits with the following items so they are fully prepared in the event of an accident or an injury.

• First-aid kit: A first-aid kit can treat cuts and abrasions suffered while you are out of the car and even some minor injuries that may result if you are in a car accident. Include essential items like adhesive tape, antibiotic ointment, antiseptic wipes, aspirin, bandages, a cold compress, gauze, and scissors. Visit www.redcross.org for a more extensive list of items to include in your first-aid kit, which should be kept in your car at all times.

• Tools: It's important to include tools in your automotive emergency kit. While a full toolbox might be unnecessary, bring along an adjustable wrench, a flat head and Phillips screwdriver, a pair of pliers, a tire jack and crow bar, an ice scraper, and a flashlight. Extra roadside flares and reflectors also should be packed should you need to pull over and address an automotive problem, such as a flat tire. Keep a tire pressure gauge in your glove compartment or with your other tools so you can check tire pressure if you feel your car is not operating as smoothly as it normally does.

Items To Include In Your Automotive Emergency Kit

- Fluids: While it's best to check all of your vehicle's fluids before beginning a road trip, it does not hurt to bring along some extra fluids just in case you start to run low while out on the road. Fluids to pack include motor oil, antifreeze, brake fluid, and windshield washer fluid. Include a funnel with these items so you can easily pour them in should you be running low. Pack an empty spray bottle as well so you have something to spray washer fluid from if a problem arises with your wiper blades.

- Wiper blades: Include an extra set of wiper blades in your automotive emergency kit. Maintaining wiper blades is an oft-overlooked component of vehicle maintenance, so bring along an extra set of blades should your existing blades succumb to wear and tear while you're on the road.

- Miscellaneous items: Some items that may not seem synonymous with road trips can come in handy should you find yourself in an emergency. Pack a blanket so you and your passengers can stay warm should your car break down at night. In addition, pack some energy bars and bottled water so no one gets too hungry or thirsty while waiting for help to arrive. It's also good to keep a pair of work gloves in your car so you can still use your tools or change a tire when the temperatures dip or your hands get sweaty on hot days.

SIMPLE WAYS TO TRIM AUTO INSURANCE COSTS

The cost of owning an automobile extends beyond maintenance and fueling costs. One of the biggest expenses motorists must plan for is auto insurance, the cost of which can vary greatly depending on geography and driver history.

But no matter where drivers live or what their histories are, there are some simple ways for drivers to save money on their monthly insurance premiums.

- Reassess your driving habits. Auto insurance companies consider how many miles drivers drive per year when determining the cost of an insurance policy. Many drivers provide this information when opening a policy, but then never update it when renewing or extending their policies. If you drive less now than you did when you opened your policy, notify your insurance company and you might end up paying less each month, especially if your daily commute is considerably shorter than it used to be.

- Check your credit rating. Another way to save money on your auto insurance is to check your credit rating and, if necessary, take steps to improve your credit score. Credit rating is another variable insurance companies use to determine drivers' premiums, and a good credit rating can save drivers a substantial amount of money on their policies. If your credit rating has improved since you opened your policy, contact your insurance company and you might see the cost of your insurance reduced dramatically. It's also good to periodically view your credit report to determine if there are any errors that are negatively affecting your rating. Such errors may be inflating your auto insurance premiums.

- Hit the books. No matter how many years you have behind the wheel, your auto insurance company may offer you discounts if you periodically take defensive driving courses. Such classes are inexpensive, but they may save you as much as 10 percent on the cost of your auto insurance policy. Young, inexperienced drivers and seniors tend to benefit from defensive driving courses more than other drivers.

- Change your policy. Drivers also can save money by making changes to their policies. Raising your deductible is perhaps the easiest way to save money without affecting your coverage, and such a decision can save you as much as 15 percent depending on how high a deductible you're willing to pay. Drivers whose cars are older and completely paid off might want to drop their collision insurance, which pays you if your car is damaged or destroyed in an accident. Such insurance won't yield much in return if your car is not worth much money, and dropping it from your policy can save you between 10 and 15 percent.

Auto insurance is a necessity for drivers of all ages, but there are several ways to cut the costs of insurance premiums without affecting coverage.

NEXT MEETING FOR REFUGEE SPONSORSHIP

Submitted by Mu Lavin

Refugee Sponsorship Update
Next meeting: Monday, March 14th at the Anglican Church in Onoway at 7:30.

Four delegates were delighted to attend a large gathering put on by Catholic Social Services in Edmonton March 5th. The purpose of the meeting was to bring together many parishes and give them an opportunity to talk about their experiences sponsoring refugees. In roundtable discussions, we discussed what was the most rewarding and most challenging and how the sponsorship process could be improved. Some groups had sponsored as many as 14 families, just since November.

What an opportunity for us! As one of a handful of groups who has not yet received our family, it was an incredible learning opportunity. We connected with a number of other groups who have offered their support in navigating the process and troubleshooting problems. We learned about lots of challenges we hadn't thought of yet, and got to hear some incredible stories of the suffering refugee families have lived through, and are continuing to deal with, while building new lives in Canada.

As well as the many Edmonton groups, we were delighted to find delegates from Hinton, Thorsby, Stoney Plain, Rocky Mountain House, Villeneuve and Spruce Grove. So inspiring to see the involvement of the rural communities, some even smaller than our own!

One of the most touching stories was of how a local school in one of the Edmonton Parishes took on the challenge of furnishing rooms in home being prepared for the new families. Each grade had a specific project. The students made charts and did the planning. Lots of learning took place, both in terms of the organization and implementation of the donations and in thinking what it would be like to lose everything and be starting from nothing in a foreign land.

The Thorsby representative told a wonderful story of how her local grocer took her aside and gave her the address of a store in Edmonton specializing in Middle Eastern food. He got his niece to accompany her to the shop where they chose foods that would make the family feel at home. So many inspiring stories of how we can make a family welcome.

The families that have been received so far came from widely ranging backgrounds. Some had two professional parents with children in private English schools, some had spent the last 15 years in a refugee camp in Lebanon and didn't know a word of English. All had lost everything they ever had. All are starting a new life in Canada, with nothing.

For me, the most moving moment came after reflecting on the huge amount of suffering there is in the world. 60 000 000 refugees, terrorism and civil wars, how can we know where to start? Then the speaker spoke of Mother Teresa who said you start with the one right in front of you. It doesn't matter who we help. It matters that we help.

The next meeting will be Monday, March 14th at the Anglican Church in Onoway at 7:30. Everyone is welcome. We will share more about the meeting we attending and hope to hear from a nearby community that has sponsored a family before. The last hour will be a chance to meet with your committee group if you want to join one. Kathleen Arnold.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR: COAL PLANTS

Submitted by Mary Thiesen

Dear Editor,

We live in one of the most beautiful landscapes in the world. We all want to keep it this way for our children and grandchildren, but we need to look outside our community to see what's happening in the world.

- China's population wear masks outside – due to smog not the avian flu
- China is steadily reducing imports of our coal
- A Canadian sold jars of fresh air to China
- Holes in the Ozone have been self-correcting because governments listened to experts and removed lead from fuel
- UV index now on global weather reports
- California reports on smog daily
- Red Deer utility bills tell residents what to do when there is an air quality alert
- Extreme weather is increasing at an alarming rate – globally
- The US declares a state of emergency regularly
- If temperatures change 4 degrees lower we are entering the next ice age

• If temperatures change 2 degrees higher entire communities will be under water

Climate change isn't coming – it's here.

A household producing 1 pound of garbage per person per week means Alberta produces 3,645,257 pounds; Canada 47,388,341 pounds; and Globally 9,288,114,836 pounds. That's roughly how much garbage is generated – in ONE week.

Garbage leaches chemicals not found in nature into the ground that NEVER completely degrade.

Where does it all go?

We bury it in the ground - the same dirt that we plant our crops in, get our drinking water from and eventually build communities on top of.

We put it on barges and send it out into the oceans of the world. If it makes it to land, the Third World dig through it for salvage.

Insecticides and herbicides don't degrade so the air we breathe, food we eat and water we drink are full of it. When weeds and pests become resistant we make it stronger.

What is the result of these man-made chemicals? Multiple Sclerosis, cancer and Alzheimer's are more and more common. Whose family has not been touched by one or more of these?

China isn't buying our coal and the federal government has mandated closures. Retrofits of existing coal fire plants are possible, have been done successfully on a commercial scale, and plants continue to employ their workers. Coal mine closure plans are coupled with transitional job training plans.

At the Paris world conference on climate change, a global plan was put in place to make sure developing countries will be included and developed countries will ensure this happens. We import a wide range of products used in the production of goods. In this supply chain, we can choose to purchase sustainably and environmentally produced products. The Rainforest Alliance is a global non-profit organization that certifies Third World and developing countries products for export.

We import solar panels from China, a main component of solar panels is sand, and we have potential sand from oil sand extraction so we could manufacture our own solar panels. Our government subsidizes Oil and Gas production. Support their efforts to transition those funds toward alternative energy production. Germany leads solar generation on the planet, yet Alberta has more annual hours of sun than Germany. Edson has 2,067 annual hours of sun compared to Berlin's 1,625. In 1975 a 150 watt system cost $20,000 and in 2015 a 250 watt system costs $300. There are grants in Alberta for farmers to install solar. With severe weather phenomenon increasing, food production is increasingly important. Solar grants for micro-generation require connecting into the existing grid with unlimited potential for expansion with this initial infrastructure in place.

Where will those who lose jobs find new jobs? Federal money is being put into infrastructure (construction), health care and education with many supporting positions also created. Transitional job training being offered by the government, take advantage.

You don't know what you don't know. Trust the experts; the government that we have overwhelmingly voted into office with the capacity to do what is necessary to benefit us all.

Many thanks,
Mary Thiessen

Preventing Pinch Points

- The instant pain followed by a few days of discomfort after catching your finger in a closing door doesn't compare to the destructive force of farm machinery. A pinch-point injury can be seriously disabling and can cause amputation, or even death.
- Often pinch-point injuries are the result of workers who are not properly trained, don't realize the dangers of machinery, or who take shortcuts to get the work done more quickly, but end up injuring themselves instead. Never perform a task without proper training, by taking shortcuts, or bypassing procedures- the consequences could be serious.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

Be SAFE – Plan Ahead Assess Risk

Risk concerns the expected value of results of a situation or event. The value of those results may be positive or negative. In the farming industry, the measure of risk can be rated as high, medium or low. Once the risk has been assessed, through your regular safety checks, employers can determine whether to take immediate action of a hazard or identify those that can be monitored and fixed at a later time. Regular assessment can help with budgeting time and resources for immediate or future repairs.

GUARD YOUR PROFITS

The bottom line for any business is profitability. An important part of maximizing profits is minimizing losses - and that includes non-productive time, costly machinery breakdowns as well as losses due to injury, illness, or death of the farmer, farm family, or farm workers.

Minimizing loss begins with making safety a priority, conducting a safety audit on your farm, keeping all machinery in good repair with guards and shields in place, having adequate accident insurance coverage, training workers in safe practices, leading by example every day.

Entanglements

° The average farm is full of machinery and device that can grab, cut, smash and entangle fingers, hands, toes, and feet causing injury to the extremities and even death. The sad truth is that most of these injuries can be avoided.

°Some of the key entanglement prevention measures to implement when working with or near machinery are:

- Before operating any machine or equipment, ensure that all guards are in place and in good condition.
- Wear tight fitting clothing, such as overalls. Avoid wearing any items that could become entangled, such as long coats or scarves.
- Never step over a PTO shaft or conveyer belt while it is still running.

°Ensure that anyone working with augers, PTOs, and other extremely hazardous machinery receives appropriate safety instruction and adequate supervision.

°Keep young children out of the farm or ranch work site, especially areas where there is moving machinery.

My Equipment, My Life:
Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)
Hand and Arm Protection:

Aside from the head, hands and arms are the most exposed part of the body and can fall victim to an endless list of injuries. There are three main categories of injuries:

1. Traumatic injuries caused by an impact when hands or fingers get caught, pinched, crushed or amputated.
2. Contact injuries can occur when hands and arms are injured through contact with chemicals and other substances that can cause burns or injure tissue.
3. Repetitive motion or musculoskeletal injuries which can happen when hands and arms become injured by tasks that require repeated, rapid hand movements for a long period of time, resulting in strains and sprains.

What PPE to use: There are gloves to protect against cuts, chemical burns, electrical current, and abrasions. Safety gloves can also work to protect you against one or more hazards at a time, while allowing dexterity so that workers comfortably can move their hands. Do not double-glove though; this can do more harm than good.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
