WILDWOOD & DISTRICT AG. SOCIETY NEWS

Submitted by Carol Riehl

SPRING IS HERE!!!! And so is the fire season. Take care burning those leaves and other debris as we clean our garden patches and yards. Speaking of garden patches, I hope you are planting seeds with plans to enter some of your harvest in the Wildwood Annual Fair.

The society is diligently making plans for another successful fair. We are asking for your help – we need one convener and one helper to convene goats, sheep, poultry and rabbits. Doesn't that sound like a fun job that you could do? Call Wilma @ 780-325-2424 for more information or to volunteer. There are more volunteers needed in other areas as well—so your help is needed.

Your drawing for the cover of the fair book has not yet been received. Remember the drawing/artwork must be in black and white and vertically done. The theme is Feathers Flowers and Old Fashioned Fun which gives you many options for designs, right? Another reminder is to the conveners—if you have any changes you would like to see to the fairbook, please get them to Wilma as soon as possible. The Fair Book will be dedicated to long time member Ken Carlstrom. What a deserving candidate. Four of this society's members attended the volunteer appreciation gala sponsored by the Yellowhead County. Thank you YHC for a wonderful evening honoring our many community volunteers.

WESTJET EMPLOYEE CHARGED IN TRAVEL CREDITS FRAUD

Submitted by Mike Tucker, Communications Manager, Alberta Law Enforcement Response Teams (ALERT)

Calgary... A joint investigation between ALERT and WestJet's Corporate Security has resulted in fraud and theft charges against an airline employee.

ALERT Calgary's Financial

Crime team arrested and charged Terance Gough, 43, on April 19 with fraud and theft over $5,000. ALERT is an integrated team consisting of Calgary Police Service and RCMP members.

Gough is alleged to have fraudulently issued over a quarter million dollars' worth of WestJet travel credits between 2012 and 2015. ALERT alleges that these travel credits were being bought and sold by a third-party, and no WestJet customers were defrauded.

The investigation was referred to ALERT in July 2015 after WestJet conducted an internal investigation on the matter.

Members of the public who suspect drug or gang activity in their community can call local police, or contact Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477). Crime Stoppers is always anonymous.

ALERT was established and is funded by the Alberta Government and is a compilation of the province's most sophisticated law enforcement resources committed to tackling serious and organized crime. Members of Alberta Sheriffs, Calgary Police Service, Edmonton Police Service, Lethbridge Police Service, Medicine Hat Police Service, and RCMP work in ALERT.

SITUATION IN INDIGENOUS COMMUNITIES -- EMERGENCY DEBATE

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

OTTAWA: Jim Eglinski, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, participated in the emergency debate in the House of Commons the evening of April 12 on the suicide crisis playing out in Attawapiskat First Nation as well as in other communities. The emergency debate allowed parliamentarians to address this crisis and work together to solve the problem.

During the debate, MP Eglinski stated:

"Mr. Speaker, the problem that we are talking about today has been here for a long time. I go back to my first week as a police officer in early 1968. I do not think I was on the job three days before I had my first suicide, and I have never seen them stop. They need to stop.

We need to work together with our aboriginal communities, and we need to do something now. There is a lot of discussion of what we are going to do with programs, but we need to do something now.

I ask my honourable friend here if he can tell us some of the things that we could do immediately to look at the problem and try to resolve the situation that we are faced with today?"

Attawapiskat's chief and eight councillors declared a state of emergency on Saturday, citing 11 suicide attempts so far in the month of April and 28 recorded attempts in March.

Aboriginal leaders are scheduled to address the Commons Indigenous Affairs Committee on April 14, after Northern Ontario First Nations communities declared a public health emergency earlier this year.

JOKE OF THE WEEK

A store manager overheard a clerk saying to a customer, "No, ma'am, we haven't had any for some weeks now, and it doesn't look as if we'll be getting any soon."

Alarmed by what was being said, the manager rushed over to the customer who was walking out the door and said, "That isn't true, ma'am. Of course, we'll have some soon. In fact, we placed an order for it a couple of weeks ago."

Then the manager drew the clerk aside and growled, "Never, never, never, never say we don't have something. If we don't have it, say we ordered it and it's on its way. Now, what was it she wanted?"

The clerk smiled and said ... "Rain."

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

OTTAWA: Jim Eglinski, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, congratulated Jadey Van der Vlis on receiving a post-secondary bursary and for being selected as the 2016 Ponoka Rodeo Queen.

The following is the statement

he delivered:

"Mr. Speaker, last Saturday in Leslieville Community Centre in central Alberta, I had the privilege of attending the Rocky Mountain House Agricultural Society's annual "Salute to Agriculture" banquet. This event celebrated the achievements of local farmers in the area.

During the event, post-secondary education bursaries were given out. Miss Jadey Van der Vlis from Alhambra, Alberta, in her first year of education at Red Deer College, was one of the recipients. Later on, I was speaking with Jadey about her wishes to become a teacher and her future. During the conversation, she excitedly mentioned that she had been selected as a finalist in the Miss Ponoka Rodeo Queen competition. I have just learned that she was selected.

Congratulations to Jadey for becoming the 2016 Ponoka Rodeo Queen and for winning a post-secondary education bursary. Well done, young lady!"

MLA ERIN BABCOCK'S MAIDEN SPEECH TO THE LEGISLATURE, APRIL 5, 2016

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm very proud to rise today and share my thoughts in response to the Speech from the Throne. I'd like to take this moment to acknowledge Alberta's Lieutenant Governor, the Hon. Lois Mitchell, who not only safeguards the constitutional traditions and principles of this House but also engages with Albertans on a continual basis. It is the examples set by strong women of our past and present that lay the groundwork for the change we expect to see in our future.

So let's look to the future, not today, not right now, to our children's and our grandchildren's future. We need an economy that is resilient to energy price swings, captures the full value of our resources, and offers a prosperous future for our children. We are working hard to improve public services, minimize the impact of the current recession on Alberta families, and mend the infrastructure deficit throughout Alberta. I'm very proud of the work that we as a government have accomplished by reinstating the STEP program as well.

I'm privileged to rise today to espouse my riding of Stony Plain, and I'm privileged and humbled to represent what is, I am sure, the most diverse, hard-working, and beautiful constituency in all of Alberta. We are farmers and ranchers, business leaders and entrepreneurs; we are coal miners and teachers. Our riding encompasses everything from Winterburn Road in Edmonton to the Pembina River, the North Saskatchewan in the south to the Yellowhead in the north, except that we scooch down around Spruce Grove.

Stony Plain is one of the very few original ridings with the original name, formed in 1905. The boundaries may have changed, but the location hasn't. The town of Stony Plain, historically known as Dog Rump Creek, is the town of the painted past due to our nearly 40 murals painted in various locations throughout the town.

Another one of the great attractions in the town of Stony Plain is the Multicultural Heritage Centre, which is housed in the town's first school. One of the biggest draws at the multicultural centre is Homesteader's Kitchen, where you can get artisan breads, homemade soups, and an endless selection of home-made pie. As a new draw for the Stony Plain region Ryan Smyth, the former player for the Edmonton Oilers, is now playing for the Stony Plain Eagles triple-A senior men's team.

The Multicultural Heritage Centre is just off Main Street. On Main Street there are boutique shops of every description, from village fashions to Phina's, from Blue Diamond Jewellers to Bing's restaurant. Across from my constituency office is Pet Foods Etc., and I'm kitty-corner to the co-op.

Recent census data shows that the town of Stony Plain has 16,127 residents and Parkland county has 30,568 residents, a growing and vibrant community rich with culture and history. I'm advocating for infrastructure enhancements such as roads, vibrant businesses, local health resources, local agriculture, and our local schools.

Rural tourism is a strong industry west of Edmonton. In one day you can have a picnic at the Devonian gardens, run through the corn maze, catch a fish for dinner at Jackfish Lake, and sleep under the stars at Wabamun. It is a true destination located just around the corner.

The Stony Plain constituency is on the traditional territory of Treaty 6. There are two indigenous bands that also call Stony Plain home, the Enoch Cree First Nation and Paul First Nation, and I am proud of the ongoing work with these nations. As a result of what our government has heard from most of Alberta's indigenous governments, we will repeal Bill 22 and will engage indigenous communities on the consultation they as nations would like to see to support the capacity of First Nation and Métis peoples. This government will also consult indigenous people on a new indigenous people sacred ceremonial objects repatriation act that would facilitate the return of sacred objects to the nations to whom they belong.

These are tough economic times, especially for my constituency of Stony Plain. However, the residents in my constituency are resilient, innovative, and hard-working, and there is no doubt in my mind that we will get through this together. Taking care of the people around us while encouraging industry to grow are goals we need to work towards as a community, a government, and a province. To move forward in a careful, considered way while encouraging growth in consultation with those affected is of the highest importance. There will be a measured approach for the spring session at the Legislature. We have laid the economic framework, and now it is time to tweak some of the smaller pieces so we can continue to play the role of a shock absorber for the economy and encourage diversification and job creation while in this downturn.

We're also investing $34 billion in infrastructure to build the roads, schools, and other vital facilities that Albertans need, which will help keep our tradespeople and our professionals at work. Investing in infrastructure, public health, and education have been priorities during this downturn. We have one of the youngest, strongest workforces in Canada, and maintaining that workforce is part of what will help get us through these rough times. Our greatest resource is our people, the way we care about and care for one another. Our government will continue to act with focus and determination to engage the citizens of Alberta in skills training, retraining, and expanding access to the workforce for people facing unemployment. We will ensure access to venture capital. Updated credit union legislation and, of course, Bill 1, Promoting Job Creation and Diversification Act, will help entrepreneurs and businesses in my riding to create new jobs and growth.

The opposition members have obviously been listening to our economic development minister's speeches, and they were paying attention to our announcements in our throne speech, as proven by the approximately six points of their 12-point job action plan that our government has obviously already mentioned. I'm excited to be able to share and discuss with my constituents in Stony Plain details about our expansion of access to workforce and skills training and retraining for the unemployed. This is a commitment for the present and the future, the future of Albertans in our economy.

We are extremely proud in Stony Plain to supply 40 per cent of the energy for all of Alberta. In the region there is Keephills, Sundance, and some work across the river at Genesee. Many more people support our energy by working at the Highvale mine in pits 03 through 09. The hard work of our men and women ensure that people's lights stay on across our province. Over 1,300 people in the riding of Stony Plain help produce that power and will continue to do so for the next 14 years. New legislation will give force and effect to key elements of Alberta's climate leadership plan such as phasing out harmful emissions from coal-powered generation by 2030 to protect our health and our environment.

A modern royalty system will promote innovation and efficiency and provide full transparency and public accountability on the calculation of our royalties. Alberta is an economic leader, buoyed by our energy sector, and we know that right now we need leadership to ensure that we get our product to tidewater. The continued engagement on pipelines is proof that our government is fighting hard for Alberta, its interests and its economy, and we will not back down.

A fair number of Stony Plain residents are employed in the oil and gas sector, the sector that has seen some of the most drastic fluctuations of all industries in this past year, and I understand the stress that puts on our communities. To that end, our government is vigorously urging the federal government to take account of the current economic shock affecting the resource industry and reconsider employment insurance rules that exclude too many Albertans from those much-needed benefits, those of us still around Edmonton.

The new child benefit plan will help 380,000 children living in low-income households. The plan to create new jobs and opportunities while building on traditional economic strengths is what our province needs right now. My constituents have told me that, as I'm sure others have around the province. There are too many low-income households in Alberta. Many of those households are single-parent families.

My beautiful children spent much of their lives in one of those households. We have lived in government-funded housing and other low-income situations. When my children and I moved to the capital region, it was so I could pursue educational opportunities. As a single parent I returned to school, and one of my greatest accomplishments was earning my licensed practical nurse diploma. Though it was difficult, I taught my daughter that pursuing an education is always worth the hard work, and I taught my son what a strong woman looks like. Since my partner, Will, has come into our lives, he has continued to encourage me to always strive for my goals, and he has supported my work as a nurse and as a legislator.

As a nurse and a caregiver the most important part of my job was service and advocacy, to serve those who couldn't always perform the activities of daily life that healthy people take for granted and to advocate for those without a voice to those who needed to hear the message. I spent a number of years working diligently with vulnerable populations. My first role was working with individuals with developmental disabilities. It is where I found my passion for health care. There were many challenges for both my clients and myself, and one of the biggest challenges was the high staff turnover. It can take an individual who lives in care a minimum of six months to come to trust a new caregiver that comes into their lives due to the high turnover in that profession. When there is no trust between caregivers and clients, it makes many situations more dangerous and more difficult for both. Everything from personal care to outings is more stressful for the individuals and the caregivers. Unfortunately, if a client doesn't have capacity to emotionally handle stress, the person may, understandably, lash out at caregivers.

Sometimes due to these stresses an individual may lose their housing supports. If a person loses their housing, the chances of other supports falling to the wayside are very high. People in this situation often run out of money, which leads to a person with no income on our streets. When the physical health of a person on the streets is compromised and, with luck, that person ends up in a hospital, the individual must stay in an acute-care bed until supports are found for that person. This leads to many people staying in acute-care beds for much longer than is needed, and as we all know, acute-care beds are not the appropriate place for long-term care. This is why we are investing in health and housing.

As an acute-care nurse I specialized in patients with acute stroke and acute geriatric patients. This involves many aspects of care, from total care to rehabilitation, from palliative care to dementia care. All care is essential, and every situation is unique. There's an old saying in nursing: they may not remember your name, but they'll always remember how you made them feel.

There are many parallels between nursing and serving as an elected representative. Both professions are about serving people and advocating for them. When a constituent contacts my office in Stony Plain, many times that person is at the end of their rope. Whether it's an agency they are having difficulty contacting or not knowing what resources are available in our community, it is my job and the job of my staff to advocate for each and every constituent who contacts us. We advocate in many ways, from directing a constituent towards a resource to connecting the constituent to the services and supports in our community to bringing forth their concerns to the relevant ministries.

We also value the role that local government plays in supporting our interactions with local residents. I am heartened by the opportunity this government will provide by inviting the public and municipal governments to comment on a modern Municipal Government Act. The tri-municipal region, which encompasses the town of Stony Plain, the city of Spruce Grove, and Parkland County, is well known for their strong co-operative projects and initiatives. It should be a model for every municipality in Alberta. Having a strong region makes for resilient communities, which makes for sustainable living. There are many ventures in our tri-municipal region such as the Tri-Municipal Leisure Centre, the Meridian Foundation, the heritage pavilion, the EMS facility, and the soon-to-be new RCMP detachment, to which two if not all three of these partners contributed. The tri-municipal region works because a small community can do something good, but a strong region pulling together can do many great things.

I'm proud to be a voice for Stony Plain and Parkland county residents and families in the Alberta Legislature, promoting solutions that will make Albertans' lives easier and more prosperous. This agenda is large and ambitious, but I support this initiative to create a better, more prosperous, more diversified, and more caring Alberta.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

REGISTER TO BE AN ORGAN AND TISSUE DONOR

Submitted by Government of Alberta

April 17 – 23 was National Organ and Tissue Donation Awareness Week in Canada. With more than 600 Albertans waiting for an organ transplant, and many more waiting for tissues, increasing the number of Albertans registered as donors is an important part of improving health outcomes.

Individuals can register their consent to donate at ultimategiftalberta.ca, and also have the opportunity to register when renewing or applying for a driver's licence or identification card. Since the registry launched in April 2014, more than 230,000 Albertans have registered their consent to donate.

Talking to your family and friends about your wish to donate is also important, so they can support your choice when the time comes.

Facts About Organ and Tissue Donation

- Alberta's rate of deceased donors is increasing, from 9.9 deceased donors per million population in 2012, to 13.6 in 2014.

- Tissue donation is equally as important as organ donation. For example, donated corneas can restore sight and heart valves are life-saving.

- About 2,500 Albertans register every week to become organ and tissue donors.

- Just one organ and tissue donor can save up to eight lives and make life better for up to 75 other people.

To register your consent to donate, or to learn more about organ and tissue donation, please visit ultimategiftalberta.ca.

ORAL HEALTH: IT'S ABOUT MORE THAN THE MOUTH

Submitted by Alberta Health Services, Population, Public and Aboriginal Health

Most of us know that diet and exercise play an important role in keeping us healthy. Did you know that a healthy mouth is also an important part of your overall health? With April being Oral Health Month, it's a great time to think about the importance of keeping your teeth and gums healthy.

Although the mouth is part of the body, we often think of it as something separate. Mounting evidence tells us otherwise.

Poor oral health is not only associated with potentially significant and lifelong health problems such as diabetes, heart disease and respiratory illness, it has also been linked to pre-term and low-birth-weight babies.

Anyone who has experienced poor oral health can also attest to the negative impact it has on overall quality of life. Mouth pain, missing teeth or oral infections can influence the way a person speaks, eats and socializes, affecting their physical, mental and social well-being. Oral health problems can also be a sign of something more serious, including oral cancer.

The good news? Good oral health is something we can all maintain. Make it a habit to brush teeth at least twice a day (in the morning, and before bedtime), and be sure to visit an oral health professional regularly, for routine cleanings and check-ups.

If you are experiencing signs of oral health concerns, including bleeding gums or irritation or pain in the mouth, don't ignore it. Visit an oral health professional.

To help prevent tooth decay in children at higher risk and in financial need, AHS delivers a preschool fluoride varnish program for eligible children aged 12 to 35 months, and a school-based fluoride varnish and dental sealant program for children in Kindergarten to Grade 2 and Grades 1 and 2, respectively.

For tips on proper brushing and flossing technique, and the importance of routine dental care, visit www.myhealth.alberta.ca and search "mouth and dental health".

HOW TO TALK TO YOUR CHILDREN ABOUT DRUGS AND GAMBLING

Submitted by Alberta
Health Services – Addiction and Mental Health

Children are smart and they are learning all the time. You are the best person to show them how to make good decisions. The thought of your children using drugs may scare you, but your children will hear you better if you talk calmly.

Take time to learn the facts about different drugs and gambling. Tell your children the facts without sounding scared and without scaring them. You can show your children that they can trust the information you give them.

Things to Remember

- You start teaching children about drugs sooner than you think.

You have been teaching your children from the time they were very small. You have done this by telling them not to touch anything in the medicine cabinet, not letting them have adult drinks like coffee and beer, and telling them to stay away from cigarettes. Start talks with your children by asking what they understand about drugs and alcohol, if they are concerned about anyone's use, or if they have been asked to use.

- A drug is a substance that's taken to change the way the body and mind work.

A drug can do a lot of good, or it can be harmful. If you take the right amount of medicine, you can get better. By taking too much, you can get very sick. Talk about this with your children. You can also talk about different kinds of drugs like medicine, legal drugs, and illegal drugs.

- Talk about gambling in a way that your children understand.

It's good to use real-life examples. Ask your children if they've ever made a bet with anyone about doing something that is hard or unsafe. An example might be betting a chocolate bar that someone couldn't walk along the top of a fence. Explain that this is a type of gambling. In this example, if the person takes the bet and walks on the fence, he or she is at risk of getting hurt. The person betting may lose the chocolate bar. Both people are risking something they value, whether they know it or not.

Children gamble for fun and don't usually think of it as gambling. They usually call it betting or daring. If you use these types of words, it will be easier for them to understand what gambling is.

- Try to think of good examples.

Have you seen a movie or read a book with someone in it who has a drug or gambling problem? Do your children have any examples to share? Talk about the people in the book or movie. Talk about their lives and the decisions they make. You can use this time to give your children good information. Keeping your children informed is the best way to help them make good decisions.

ACHIEVE THE IDEAL SOUND EXPERIENCE AT HOME

(MS) - Advancements in digital technology over the years mean that almost anyone can own a home theatre or music room or build a recording studio in their home. When you're planning your project, there are a number of elements that will make the difference between good and great sound.

Just like in real estate, location is crucial, so finding the best space within your home will be vital. You want to find a place that will provide ample room, comfortable temperatures and easy access. A room with windows is fine, as long as they are double glazed, sealed correctly and don't open. Be sure to install a heavy, well-insulated door to prevent sound leakage.

Insulation is among the most critical steps in creating an ideal sound experience. Many professionals recommend Safe'n'Sound insulation produced by Roxul. Specially designed for your home's interior walls, ceilings and floors to reduce the transfer of noise from one room to another, this high-density stone wool insulation provides an excellent acoustic barrier that effectively absorbs sound. Its nondirectional fiber structure composition, density and friction-fit prevent any gaps and combat airborne noise such as music, speech and traffic sounds.

Sound can often echo and reverberate. Sound dampening measures such as carpeting can help alleviate the problem or you can purchase acoustic panels that prevent sound reflections throughout your room. With basic DIY skills, you can also simply and affordably construct your own acoustic panels, using stone wool rigid board called Comfortboard IS, which is effective at reducing the intensity and propagation of noise.

Insulating properly will help achieve optimal sound quality. It will also allow you to get the most of your space without disturbing the rest of your family or neighbors. All that's left is to turn up your tunes and enjoy.

EXTERIOR PAINTING POINTERS

A fresh coat of paint on a home's exterior can give a property a vibrant new look. Whether you decide to go with a bold new color or repaint a house in an existing color, new paint can add some life to the exterior of your home.

Summer has long been considered the ideal season to paint home exteriors, but advancements in technology have made it easier to paint home exteriors later in the year. According to paint manufacturer Sherwin-Williams, traditional latex-based paints need temperatures above 60 F to cure properly. Sherwin-Williams also notes that one of the more common mistakes homeowners make when painting their homes' exteriors is to paint during times of the year when temperatures fluctuate greatly between the days and nights. When nighttime temperatures dip considerably lower than they were in the afternoon, dew will form and the paint can stop coalescing. When that happens, moisture gets into the uncured paint and surface staining and adhesion problems may result. So even if the temperature is a comfortable 60 F during the day, homeowners should avoid painting if the nighttime temperatures figure to drop considerably.

In addition to choosing the right time of year to paint, consider the following painting pointers to ensure your home's exterior gets the fresh look you are aiming for.

· Monitor weather reports. It's not just the temperature at night after you paint that should be monitored. Sherwin-Williams advises that the temperature should be in the suggested range and above the dew point for at least 48 hours after application so the paint film can form properly. So applying a fresh coat of paint on a beautiful autumn Saturday is not ideal if Sunday figures to bring the first hints of winter.

Don't skimp on quality. Some paints are cost more than others, and homeowners working on a budget may be tempted to choose the least expensive option available. While price and quality are two different things, it's important that homeowners avoid choosing a paint solely because it is the least expensive option. Research paints before buying a particular one, emphasizing quality over cost. Today's paints last longer than the paints of yesteryear, so you likely won't need to paint your home's exterior again for a long time. A budget-friendly yet low-quality paint will not only make your home less appealing, but you will likely need to paint again sooner than you will if you go with a higher quality paint.

Don't paint to cover up a problem. Rotting wood or siding is unsightly, and some homeowners think paint can cover up such a problem. But paint will not stick to rotten wood and siding, and the problem will still be noticeable after you paint. A fresh coat of paint is not the solution to rotten wood or siding. Consult a professional contractor if your home is experiencing such a problem.

A fresh coat of paint on your home's exterior can be a great way to improve your home's curb appeal. But it's important homeowners follow some of the same rules the pros adhere to when painting the exteriors of their homes.

GUIDE TO REPLACING HOME SIDING

Few home improvements can transform a home more than the installation of new siding. Replacing siding can be a costly venture, but the right siding will maintain its appeal for years to come.

Updated siding can improve home's energy value by enabling owners to save on heating and cooling costs. A new design and color also can improve a home's property value and set it apart from neighboring properties. According to the Professional Builder's Home Exteriors Survey, exterior design and materials used are a top priority for new home buyers.

Project costs depend on the size of the home as well as which siding material homeowners choose. Considering new siding is a major renovation, it pays to get the job done right.

Choose a qualified contractor

It is important for consumers to do their research when it comes to siding materials and contractors. A contractor who takes shortcuts or improperly installs the siding may void a manufacturer's warranty. Always ask family members and friends for recommendations before choosing a contractor, and check out each prospective contractor's work for yourself. Interview more than one contractor and compare both their costs and what they offer. Ask plenty of questions of the contractors, and avoid those who try hard-sell methods. Questionable contractors may try strategies like a promise of a considerable discount if you "act now" or scare tactics that your home is unsafe in its present condition.

Be sure the contractor carries general liability insurance as well as workers' compensation insurance for their subcontractors. Ask for a license number as well and verify its accuracy.

Select a durable material

Siding comes in all types of materials - from wood to plastic to fiber cement - but vinyl is among the most popular due to cost and availability. Research how well particular brands of siding stand up to conditions and which are the least likely to crack, warp or discolor. Find this information from online reviews or through consumer advocacy groups. Also remember, vinyl and other synthetic materials have improved and can now mimic the look of many other materials for a fraction of the cost.

Calculate how much you need
Before you price out siding with contractors, estimate how much you will need for your house. Consumer Reports suggests multiplying the height times the width of each rectangular section of your house in feet, going by what you can measure from the ground, to determine their areas. Multiply the approximate height and width of gables and other triangular surfaces and divide each total by two. Then add all the totals. To allow for waste, don't subtract for doors, windows or other areas that won't be covered. Finally, divide the total square footage by 100 to estimate how many squares of siding you will need. A square represents 100 square feet. Knowing how much you need can save you money.

Vinyl siding can completely transform the look of a home and make it more energy efficient. Consumers who do their homework will get the best value for their investments.

RCL WILDWOOD BRANCH 149 NEWS

Submitted by Charlotte Winters for RCL Wildwood Legion Branch 149

Friday April 8th, 2016 our Ukrainian Supper was enjoyed by almost a full house. Our cook and her helpers did a fantastic job! Judging by the people up dancing most of the night they really enjoyed the band Flat Broke. A group from Edson made our supper their first trip out with their motorcycles. The weather was very nice for the first part of the evening, but the wind really came up later. Next supper night is May 13th and it will be roast pork. We hope to see you all again. Remember to phone the Legion at 780-325-2015 to reserve your tickets early! Thank you for your support!

Entertainment for the evening will be the band, My Dog Sam. Come and enjoy the evening with us.

The meat draws are well supported each week. Thank you for all your support. Chase the Ace was won at the supper April 8th. The lucky winner Sharon French, drew the ace from the 11 cards that were left. Draws for Gift Certificates for $50.00, from River Run, won by Dixie Pennell, from the Legion, won by Dave Walker, and from Walmart, won by Yvonne Nielsen. Congratulations to all of you!

We want to liven up our Friday afternoons with a Euchre league, is anyone interested? Please let us know if you have any other ideas as well.

Our Thursday lunch is served from 11a.m. till 1:30 p.m. The special is different each week. Crib is also on Thursday afternoons at 1p.m. New crib players are welcome. Come early, have lunch and spend the afternoon with us.

Bottle depot hours are Tuesday to Friday 11:00a.m. To 5:00p.m. And Saturday from 10:00a.m. To 5:00p.m.

Our friendly helpful staff asks you to phone ahead if you have a large amount of sorting to do, so they can minimize your waiting time as much as possible. Bottle drive loads are welcome, please phone ahead so we can accommodate you. Please phone 780-325-2015 and leave a message if you have any questions or concerns. The bottle depot will be closed on May 6th due to our park opening celebrations. Thank you for your business.

Call Zenobia at 780-727-2207 to arrange for a seat for our regular trips or to book the bus for that special trip. If you have ideas for a special trip please let us know and we will do our best to arrange it for you. Is anyone interested in going to the Dinner Theatre at the Mayfield in Edmonton? Your tickets and the bus ride would be in the range of $120.00 to $140.00 depending what day is chosen and what the show is. Please let Zenobia know if you would like to go so we can make plans. We would like to fill the bus. Riders from Peers to Wabamun would be welcome with central pickup points along the way.

President's message: We hope to see you for supper May 13th. Thank you for your continued support!

We still have a number of members who have been in hospital or sick at home. The nasty colds have been making some people very ill with pneumonia and other symptoms. Please join us for the grand opening celebration of our Veteran/Community Park at 11a.m. on May 6th with lunch to follow.

KEY MESSAGES FROM GRANDE YELLOWHEAD PUBLIC SCHOOL DIVISION PUBLIC BOARD MEETING

Submitted by Nikki Gilks

April 20, 2016

Celebrate with Us in Recognition of: Bus Driver Appreciation Day on May 2nd

Education Week "Learning Together" & Mental Health Awareness Week - May 2nd to 6th

The Board of Trustees approved the tender of $237,435 from Cobra Corporate Management Inc., subject to Ministerial approval, for a renovation project planned for Grand Trunk High School in Evansburg. The interior renovation project will include a new library entrance and public washroom, new student gathering area, new staff washroom and lounge, new student washroom and associated mechanical and electrical work. The majority of work is scheduled to be completed during the summer of 2016.

Trustees also received updates on two major capital projects: the modernization of Grande Cache Community High School (GCCHS) and the new replacement elementary school in Edson. The modernization project is on target for completion for the start of the 2017-18 school year. The final drawings for the Edson Replacement School are expected to be completed by the end of the week and then will be forwarded to Alberta Infrastructure for final approval.

OTHER News in Brief

- Financial support in the amount of $1,000 was approved after a request from the Skills Alberta Planning Committee for support of the 2016 North West Regional Skills Canada Competition to be held on April 21st & 22nd. Students from Grande Cache Community High School annually attend this competition.

- The Board offered their sincere appreciation to Western Financial Group's Edson Branch Manager Jean Sashuk who was on hand to present a cheque in the amount of $5,000 to the division in support of new playground equipment for the new elementary school in Edson. Monies were raised by local branch staff from their 2015 Support the Cause fundraising event held last May with additional funds from the Western Communities Foundation.

- Trustees approved the 2016-17 School Year Calendar as well as a tentative schedule for the 2018-19 year. The 2017-18 calendar was approved in principle in April of 2015.

- 77 staff will be recognized for their continuous long service from 5 to 40 years with Grande Yellowhead during the division's 2016 Welcome Back events scheduled for August 30th, 31st and September 1st.

- GYPSED has four high schools participating in the current High School Redesign Provincial project which has shown to significantly improve learning and teaching practices across the division as schools move forward with various Inspiring Education initiatives.

- Teachers from Edson, Hinton and Grande Cache schools have agreed to participate in Student Learning Assessment, Achievement and Diploma Field tests that are scheduled for April 2016-June 2016. Field participation in these provincially administered assessments is highly valuable as it is vital to the development of fair, valid and reliable provincial examinations for the benefit of students.

- A schedule of events to celebrate Education Week was provided to trustees for each GYPSED school and will be posted on the division's site for future reference.

- On April 14th, the Province announced the provincial budget which noted that funding grants would remain unchanged for the upcoming school year although it is anticipated that Infrastructure and Maintenance Renewal funding may increase by up to 58%. The division is evaluating the impact on the cost of operations with the Carbon Levy. The Province's projected revenues to the division are also based on significantly higher than anticipated enrolment projections.

PARLIAMENT UPDATE – WEEK OF APRIL 11

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

This week was largely spent debating the Liberal Government's 2016 Budget. We also covered topics including charitable donations, organ donor registry, and impaired driving.

Debated this week:

- Budget 2016-2017
- Conservative MP Ted Falk's Bill C-239 (Fairness in Charitable Gifts Act)
- Conservative MP Steven Blaney's Bill C-226 (Impaired Driving Act)
- Conservative MP Ziad Aboultaif's Bill C-223 (Canadian Organ Donor Registry Act)

• Government Bill C-10 (An Act to amend the Air Canada Public Participation Act and to provide for certain other measures)

For more information on Bills before Parliament, visit: www.parl.gc.ca/LEGISInfo/

An emergency debate was held late into the evening of April 12th regarding the state of emergency and suicides at the Attawapiskat reserve and other communities. My comments during the debate can be found on page 96 of the following link: <http://www.parl.gc.ca/content/hoc/House/421/Debates/037/HAN037-E.PDF>

As you may have seen in the news, the Liberal Government tabled legislation on physician-assisted suicide (Bill C-14). Debate is scheduled to start on April 20th.

I had the pleasure of delivering a statement on Friday, in which I recognized Jadey Van der Vlis, from Alhambra, Alberta. She was awarded a post-secondary education bursary at the Rocky Mountain House Agricultural Society's Annual Banquet. The next day, she called me to say that she was selected to be the 2016 Ponoka Rodeo Queen. If anyone in the riding knows of someone they want recognized, I invite you to contact my Ottawa office.

As Vice-Chair of the Standing Committee on Environment and Sustainable Development, I attended two meetings this week, where we heard witnesses on the Federal Sustainable Development Act.

This week, I attended 12 meetings and 3 events. Stay tuned for next week's update from Ottawa.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
