INFORMATION SESSIONS ON FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS FOR SENIORS

Submitted by Stefan Felsing

There are a number of programs available to support seniors, financially, through the federal and provincial government. Yellowhead County FCSS (Family and Community Support Services) will host information sessions to help answer your questions and give details on these support services.

“For Seniors on a low income there are financial benefits to ease some of the cost of aging, and providing an opportunity for people to become aware of them is important,” says Yellowhead County FCSS supervisor Wendy Robinson. “Learning about the various programs available can help people to plan their major expenses for the year and maximize the benefits available to them.”

Information workshops are being offered in Peers, Mackay and Evansburg for individuals to come out and learn about the various programs available to them. This is valuable information for everyone nearing retirement, as well as those currently benefiting from the various benefit programs available for seniors.

Information Sessions will be occurring on the following dates:

- Evansburg Heritage House. August 31, 2016: 10 am – 12 pm
- Mackay Community Hall. August 31, 2016: 1:30 pm – 3:30 pm
- Peers Multiplex. September 14, 2016: 1:30 pm – 3:30 pm

Registration is free, but pre-register is required so enough handouts and seating is available for everyone, in addition to coffee and snacks! You can register for these workshops at 1-800-814-3935.

FCSS is a preventive social services program available in 99% of the communities in Alberta. It is based on the premise of local solutions to local needs and building community and individual capacity to solve challenges. FCSS is an 80/20 funding partnership between the Province of Alberta and individual municipalities.

NEW PLAYGROUND WITH EXCITING FEATURES FOR MARLBORO & MILLERS LAKE RESIDENTS

Submitted by Stefan Fel-sing

It's official! A fantastic adventure playground is coming soon to a community near you! Over the past year, the Yellowhead County Parks and Recreation Department has been working with the communities of Marlboro and Millers Lake to develop a new and modern playground to suit the appropriate ages and needs of the children in these communities. The community also participated in helping to decide which concept would ultimately be chosen.

On Wednesday July 20, 2016 the vote results from the community were tallied and we're pleased to announce that Canadian Recreation Solutions will be contracted to build an amazing new playground in Marlboro. Construction is estimated to begin this September with completion shortly thereafter!

The consultation process with the communities included presentations about the types of new playground equipment available, workshops to "Create your Own Playground", and a community vote to determine which concept would be the winner!

The community has chosen some great features for the new playground – have you ever heard of a Gravity Rail or Mega Tower? Have a look at these exciting concept photos and get ready to try it out! For more news and information, please contact Parks and Recreation at 780-723-4800.

ALBERTA PARKS MAKES BOOKING CAMPSITES EASIER WITH MOBILE ACCESS

Submitted by Government of Alberta

In response to user demand, many campsites in Alberta's provincial park campgrounds can now be booked on personal devices through Reserve.AlbertaParks.ca (RAP).

People can use RAP while on the go, making it easy to change a campsite booking, extend a stay or reserve their next camping trip.

And there's more. The RAP website has undergone a complete revamp, including an updated campsite vacancy calendar.

"Albertans love to use our provincial parks and with the new improvements to the RAP website, it will be much easier to get outside and explore Alberta's great outdoors."

Shannon Phillips, Minister of Environment and Parks

The system boasts many new features, including a responsive design to make it more user-friendly and interactive from both personal mobile devices and desktop computers. Enhancements will give campers more access to information for trip planning (deep linking, event and program information) and sharing of information via social media. It also features a more intuitive search function (users can search campsites by map, nearest community or campground).

Bookings as of May 12 of this year are six per cent higher than in 2015, with more than 55,000 reservations processed.

To book a campsite, group camping area or comfort camping unit through a mobile device, just go to the Reserve.AlbertaParks.ca website, search and book a spot.

Alberta Parks encourages wildfire evacuees of Fort McMurray to access free camping options through its contact centre by calling 1-877-537-2757 and not the RAP mobile feature.

Campers are reminded that fire bans and restrictions remain in place for areas of the province. People camping this weekend should check ahead to beta.AlbertaFirebans.ca or AlbertaParks.ca to check on the status of fire bans and restrictions, including off-highway vehicle restrictions, to avoid fines.

Anyone experiencing an issue with the mobile access booking function can get technical assistance at Reserve.AlbertaParks.ca or phone the Alberta Parks Contact Centre at 1-877-537-2757.

The RAP system, introduced in 2009, has processed almost 800,000 camping reservations since inception and boasts more than 433,000 account holders. Last year alone the system processed more than 151,000 camping reservations.

MOUNTAIN PINE BEETLE – WHAT IS THE LIBERAL’S PLAN?

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

OTTAWA: On May 16th, in the House of Commons, Jim Eglinski, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, asked the Liberal government what their plan was to stop the Mountain Pine Beetle from spreading.

“Mr. Speaker, Jasper National Park, in my riding of Yellowhead, is in trouble. From the west along Mount Robinson to the east park gates, the park has been overtaken by the mountain pine beetle. Local government and forest companies are counting on Parks Canada to stop this epidemic before it moves into Alberta’s west central forest area.

The Liberals say they have a plan, but, as usual, nothing is being done. What is the Liberal plan to stop these evil weevils?”

Again, on May 17th, MP Eglinski asked the following question in the House:

“Mr. Speaker, yesterday in the House, the member opposite said he was more than happy to have a conversation with me about the mountain pine beetle. Unfortunately, on the ground in Alberta, government employees have been told they cannot talk to the local officials about this issue.

Why are the Liberals muzzling scientists and researchers who are critical to this issue?”

READY OR NOT, IT'S HEALTHY TO HAVE A PLAN

Submitted by Alberta Health Services

Whether you're ready to start trying for a baby, or not ready to start trying, it's healthy to have a plan.

Alberta Health Services is sharing this message with all Albertans of reproductive age, through a new website: www.readyornotalberta.ca.

Launched January 18, www.readyornotalberta.ca provides helpful tips, tools and to-do lists for Albertans who are not yet pregnant, but who are either contemplating trying for a baby, or, who want to ensure that they remain not pregnant. For both groups, there are important considerations, many of which will impact health today, and in the future.

Given 40 per cent of pregnancies are unplanned, it's important that Albertans be aware of their health, before they conceive. This includes considering birth control options, but also goes far beyond that to include such things as nutrition, healthy weights, exercise, environmental factors and drug, alcohol and medicine use.

Visit www.readyornotalberta.ca for information and tools to support your health today, whether you're 'ready' or 'not'.

A REFERENDUM ON ELECTORAL REFORM

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Instead of doing the right thing by giving Canadians a chance to vote in a referendum, the federal Liberals released a 38-page booklet for Canadians to organize their own electoral reform discussions. Even if Canadians do wish to organize events like this, the Liberal Government has no obligation to legislate what is laid out in the responses.

A recent poll by Forum Research says 65% of Canadians agree that a national referendum must occur before any changes are made to the way we elect our MPs. Just 18% said that giving Canadians a vote on the matter is not necessary and the remaining 17% had no opinion. Yet Prime Minister Trudeau and his Liberal Government continue to come up with new ways to avoid letting Canadians vote on this important question.

If the Liberals truly believe that Canadians will support their plan, why are they dragging their heels on calling a referendum? To be fair, the Democratic Institutions Minister, the Honourable Maryam Monsef, hasn't ruled out a referendum, but she has expressed that she doesn't feel a national vote is needed.

However, precedence shows that referendums are expected by Canadians when it comes to electoral reform. Prince Edward Island (2005), Ontario (2007), and British Columbia (2005 and 2009) all held provincial referendums on whether to get rid of the first-past-the-post system. Our best examples of voting system consultations in Canada all concluded with a referendum. That's the standard of behaviour that Canadians now expect. These provincial governments knew that this was not their decision, but the decision of voters.

Maybe it's time the Liberals let the majority of Canadians decide what they want – a referendum.

ALBERTA SECURITIES COMMISSION EMPOWERS SENIORS TO IDENTIFY AND AVOID INVESTMENT FRAUD

Submitted by Alberta Securities Commission

Financial abuse is one of the most frequently reported forms of elder abuse in the province according to the Government of Alberta. With World Elder Abuse Awareness Day (June 15) approaching, the Alberta Securities Commission (ASC) is empowering Alberta's seniors to self-protect against investment fraud by providing straightforward tips. These 10 simple tips will assist seniors to combat investment fraud and help to safeguard their hard-earned money.

Financial fraudsters often target seniors in Alberta for various reasons. Many seniors are trusting individuals and, by virtue of their age, have typically amassed more wealth than other segments of the population, in the form of retirement savings, residential and vacation properties and other assets. In addition, new online technologies are sometimes difficult for seniors to navigate, making them a vulnerable target. Further, because of shame or embarrassment, seniors are not likely to speak up when fraud happens to them.

"Investment fraud costs Albertans millions of dollars annually, and many victims are elderly," says Alison Trollope, Director, Communications and Investor Education, Alberta Securities Commission. "We encourage seniors to have open lines of communication with their advisors or the person managing their finances to diminish the chances of investment fraud and help protect their retirement savings and assets. The most important thing to remember is your money belongs to you, and you alone."

In conjunction with the North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA), the ASC has outlined 10 tips to protect seniors' retirement savings and assets. They include:

1. Don't be a victim of your manners – Con artists will exploit your good manners. It's OK to say "no" to an investment opportunity.
2. Check out strangers touting "strange" deals – Trusting strangers is a mistake anyone can make in their personal finances. Say "no" to any investment professional who presses you to make an immediate decision, giving you no opportunity to check out the salesperson, firm and the investment opportunity itself. Visit Checkfirst.ca to check the registration of the person and organization offering the investment.

3. Always stay in charge of your money – Beware of someone asking to manage or invest your money into something you don't understand or who urges you to leave everything in his or her hands, including power of attorney.

4. Don't judge a book by its cover – Successful con artists can sound and look professional.

5. Watch out for salespeople who prey on your fears – Con artists know that you worry about your future, including having enough money to live the retirement of your dreams, being able to leave a legacy for your family and the possibility of outliving your savings. Scammers will use those fears to convince you to hand over your money.

6. Don't make a tragedy worse with rash financial decisions – The death or hospitalization of a spouse has many sad consequences – financial fraud shouldn't be one of them.

7. Monitor your investments and ask tough questions – Keep an eye on the progress of your investments. This is prudent even if you're not concerned about fraud.

8. Look out for difficulties retrieving your principal or cashing out profits

– If the individual has assured you that you can withdraw your money at any time, but stalls when you want to pull out your principal or profits, you may have uncovered someone who has cheated you.

9. Don't let embarrassment or fear keep you from reporting investment fraud or abuse – Scam artists know that you might be hesitant to report you have been victimized by fraud.

10. Beware of “recovery room” scams – Faced with a loss of funds, some seniors who have been victimized once will go along with another scheme in which the scam artists promise to make good on the original funds lost, and possibly even generate new returns beyond those originally promised.

In addition to being aware of the tips on how seniors can protect themselves against investment fraud, Albertans are also encouraged to educate themselves on the ways that seniors are often approached:

- Affinity fraud: A fraudulent opportunity is introduced by a family member, friend or a member of a community organization (such as a church or a curling club) and exploits the trust built in these types of relationships.

- Online ads: Pop-up ads will appear on various websites that seniors may visit, such as lottery and investing sites and social media sites such as Facebook. These ads are designed to lure viewers in, with promises of “easy money” and “high return, low risk” investments. Clicking on the ad will lead to the fraudster’s website, which contains more misleading information on the investment opportunity.

- Cold calls: Persistent sales people use aggressive sales tactics over the phone to pitch genuine-sounding investment opportunities.

- Investment seminars: Seniors are lured into an educational seminar, which often includes a free lunch or coffee. The seminars are usually sales pitches for “exciting” and “lucrative” investment opportunities. The elderly often feel obligated and pressured to invest because they have accepted the lunch or coffee.

GOLFER'S GUIDE

TIPS FOR NEWCOMERS TO THE GAME OF GOLF

Few hobbies can be as enjoyable one moment and as frustrating the next as golf. Golfers know a great putt can be quickly followed by a bad tee shot, and maintaining their composure through the highs and lows of the game is a key to success on the links.

Maintaining that composure isn't always easy, even for the professionals. It's even more difficult for beginners, who quickly learn the game of golf involves more than just spending sunny weekend afternoons on pristine golf courses. In fact, golf can be quite demanding, and beginners would be wise to heed a few tips before hitting the course.

* Don't commit to an expensive set of clubs right off the bat. Golf clubs can be very expensive, so beginners should buy an affordable secondhand set of clubs so they can get the hang of what they like before spending a lot of money. Visit a pro shop and explain that you are just a beginner. The shop will likely make some valuable suggestions and might even let you try out a pair of clubs. In addition, many driving ranges allow customers to rent clubs, and this can be a great and inexpensive way to find the right clubs for you.

* Take lessons. Even the very best at self-teaching might find it extremely difficult to become a self-taught golfer. When first trying your hand at golf, take some lessons and don't expect to be playing 18 holes any time soon. Before hitting the course, where you might be discouraged and you might frustrate those golfing behind you, learn the fundamentals by taking a few lessons at the driving range. Learn from a professional, who won't offer you any hidden secrets to golfing glory (there aren't any) but will offer sound advice on the game's fundamentals.

* Take the game home with you. Beginners can even take advantage of golf's vast popularity by taking the game home with them. This doesn't mean building a putting green in your backyard. Rather, purchase some instructional DVDs to learn the game during your down time throughout the week. Many golfers don't have time to hit the links during the week, but they do have time to watch some DVDs when they get home from work. Such instructional DVDs can help you master your grip and stance, which you can then take with you to the course over the weekend.

* Have fun. Golf is a fun game; it just takes time to hone your skills. But even if you aren't ready for the professional tour after your first few rounds, you can still have fun. Don't let some beginner's frustration, which every golfer experiences, ruin the fun of the game. Take note of your surroundings when you hit the links, and appreciate the time you're spending with your group. If the game becomes more a source of frustration than fun, then take a break and put in some more work away from the course, be it at the driving range or studying at home.

GOLFER'S GUIDE

DON'T LET GOLFING PAIN BE PAR FOR THE COURSE

(NC) A little know-how can help golfers avoid unnecessary injury. Considering the number of times a swing is repeated during a game, it's not surprising that the season often ends early for those who are not physically prepared.

Below are a few simple stretching techniques that can help prevent or reduce the impact of injuries:

Side bending stretch

1. Stand with feet shoulder-width apart.
2. Hold the golf club above your head with your arms straight.
3. Slowly bend to one side, without rotating, until you feel a stretch in the side of your back.
4. Hold for 15 seconds and repeat twice for each side.

Shoulder stretch

1. Hold the shaft of a golf club vertically behind your back.
2. Gently pull the club up with your top hand until you feel a slight stretch in the shoulder of your lower arm. Hold for 15 seconds.

3. Gently pull the club down with your bottom hand until you feel a stretch in the top shoulder and arm.

4. Hold for 15 seconds.

5. Reverse hand positions and repeat.

DRIVE HOME A WINNING GOLF TOURNAMENT

(NC) The arrival of warmer weather has many Canadians dreaming of the hitting the local golf course. It is also the time that many companies, organizations, charities and other groups start planning their golf tournaments.

Hosting a golf tournament is a great way to entertain customers, thank employees or raise funds for your group. While there are many details to arrange, organizing such an event doesn't have to be distressing.

Experts recommend that you cover the basics first. Picking the right date and a course that is suitable for your group is the first priority. The earlier you do this the better as you will get a wider selection of dates and courses.

Ensuring your guests are well fed and hydrated out on the course should be another priority. In the heat of summer, a good supply food and non-alcoholic beverages will ensure your participants enjoy a healthy and safe round.

What about prizes? The excitement of winning something is always a big draw, so hit up local businesses, suppliers, business partners and friends for prize donations.

To take your tournament to the next level, you could offer hole-in-one prizes such as a car, boat, trips or cash. "Adding big prizes to your golf tournament doesn't have to be an expensive or worrisome endeavour," says Andrea Martin, Senior Underwriting Manager, Wayfarer Insurance.

"You can get insurance coverage that will pay for the prize in the event that a golfer hits an ace."

One of the biggest tips is speak to the professionals at the golf course where you book your tournament. Often courses will have staff to assist you, or at least literature that will help you plan a successful event.

NEW SITE LOCATOR TOOL LAUNCHES

Submitted by Parkland County

Parkland County is excited to announce the launch of a new online site locator tool, designed to attract business to the area. Located at parklandsitelocator.com, the tool provides dynamic data and sophisticated mapping technologies to help expanding businesses meet their needs.

"In challenging economic times, Parkland County must continue to find and implement new and innovative ways to attract business investment. This tool speeds up and simplifies the process and will facilitate job growth," said Mayor Rod Shaigec.

Using Google Map software, the tool provides immediate access to in-depth information that previously took days or even weeks to research. Now, data including dynamic real estate, demographic and industry breakdowns are available instantly and at no cost for the entire region, along with a database of available properties with images.

Website visitors can view available properties, along with size, use, and cost. Corresponding demographic reports such as labor force, education levels, consumer spending, and age can be created. In addition, businesses are mapped by industry showing their distribution and concentrations throughout the area.

"This tool gathers economic, planning, infrastructure, geographic, and demographic information often sought by businesses looking to relocate utilizing a 'one-stopshop' business portal on the web. It allows users to view, create, and print maps; find available commercial or business property; and develop custom demographic reports," said Peter Vana, General Manager of Development Services.

ENTWISTLE RODEO WEEKEND

Submitted by Ava-Lynne Lauridsen

This years edition of the Entwistle Rodeo, proved to be a huge success. The weather did not always co-operate, but that didn't dampen the rodeo action. Rodeo fans experienced great rides, ropings, and races. Announcer Robert Lind kept spectators informed on the contestants, our sponsors and shared humorous banter with rodeo clown Earl Anderson.

Record setting sales in the 50/50 draws resulted in winning $585.50 on Saturday to Hayley Dudla, and $431.00 on Sunday to Braden Scherger. The draw for the travel corral panels, generously donated by Eric Quintel were won by Garth Hindes.

Event winners are as follows , High Point, Ladies Barrels and Pee-Wee barrels to Jewel Pollock; Bareback - John Hughes; Saddle Bronc - Brogan Nye; Bull riding - No qualified rides; Jr. Steer riding 12 & under - Wyatt Walker; Jr. Steer riding 13 - 15 - Tyann Mailer; Tie Down Roping - Aaron Mosicki; Jr. Breakaway Roping 12 & under - Denim Ross; Jr. Breakaway Roping 13 - 15 - Tommy-Sue Little; Jr. Barrel Race - Darby Danard; Team Roping - header, Mikenna Schauer and heeler Todd Schauer; Steer Wrestling - no qualified run; Ladies Cow Riding - Kim Arbohnott. Congratulations to all our winners! Rodeo contestants came from as far away as Texas, Nebraska, New Zealand, and Australia.

We send out a big thank you and a tip of the hat to all our sponsors, volunteers, and silent auction donors. In these challenging times we truly appreciate your support. Plans for next years rodeo will get underway this fall. We welcome all new members for whatever amount that they may be able to help out. Interested individuals may contact the rodeo committee at 780-727-3767.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
