FEEDER ASSOCIATION LOAN GUARANTEE PROGRAM

Submitted by Oneil Carlier, Minister of Agriculture and Forestry

The cattle industry is a key driver in Alberta's rural economy, and feeder associations are vital to the success of the industry. That's why we need to keep this sector strong.

Alberta beef is known worldwide for its quality. Cattle feeders add significant value to the way we produce quality food. Success in this sector relies on a large number and range of feedlots, many of which are long-standing, family-owned operations.

Agriculture and Forestry Minister Oneil Carlier with Eric Boot, Feeder Associations of Alberta Provincial Board Chair and Kerry Fahlman, Chairman of South Eastern Livestock Feeder Ltd. Discussing the increase to the Feeder Association Loan Guarantee program on a farm near Medicine Hat.

Feeder Association Loan Gurantee Program

For many years the invaluable work of the Feeder Association of Alberta has kept our feedlots healthy. Through the Feeder Association Loan Gurantee Program (FALGP), the association supports producer-run co-operatives in obtaining competitive financing for members to buy, feed and sell live-stock – both cattle and sheep – for profit.

The sector is thriving and demand is exceeding the overall provincial loan gurantee cap of $55 million.

That's why our government is making a move to support our province's cattle feeders, and it is why we announced on Sept. 14 an increase to the overall provincial loan gurantee to $100 million from $55 million.

What this does is give the program more flexibility in meeting the demand for capital. This rise in the government loan gurantee will help cattle feeders get the capital they need to be successful, especially in a time with increasing demand and high prices for cattle.

This move will benefit our new and young farmers, our family farms and small feedlot operators – all hardworking Albertans who deserve support from our government. Their work not only advances their own livelihood but also fortifies agriculture in our province.

Economic diversification is our government's priority and the agricultural sector plays a pivotal role. We want to ensure that our rural and resource communities have the tools they need to contribute to Alberta's prosperity.

This loan gurantee program has been highly successful for more than 75 years. We have worked closely with the industry to evaluate the program and make this change for the benefit of both cattle feeders and our agriculture industry.

As we get into the busy fall season, I trust this loan gurantee program enhancement will immensely help many of our feeders.

WHITECOURT TOWN COUNCIL UPDATE

Submitted by Tara Gallant

The Town of Whitecourt will be investigating the possibility of changing its municipal status. At the current population, Whitecourt could apply to the Province to be a city; however, the municipality will be weighing benefits and disadvantages, including financial implications, prior to proceeding with the application.

Whitecourt will be submitting a number of emergent resolutions to the Alberta Urban Municipalities Association (AUMA) at the upcoming convention in October. AUMA acts as an advocate for urban municipalities across Alberta to the provincial and federal governments. Whitecourt will be asking AUMA to advocate to the provincial and federal governments in regards to the following topics:

- Support for the Northern Gateway Pipeline Project;
- Opposition to the proposed crude tanker ban proposed for BC's coastline;
- Support for further research in regards to the Caribou Range Management Plan.

Whitecourt Mayor Maryann Chichak will be putting her name forward for a seat on the Alberta Urban Municipalities Association (AUMA) Board of Directors. Election to the Board will be held at the AUMA convention in October. If Mayor Chichak wins a seat on the Board of Directors, she will also put her name forth to sit on the Executive Committee. Mayor Chichak has served as Vice President Towns on the Executive Committee since 2015, and as the representative for Towns West on the Board of Directors since 2014.

Whitecourt Town Council has approved a request to proceed with the imposition of a local improvement tax to pay for river erosion measures along the Athabasca River bank adjacent to the Millar Western Forest Products' property. The total cost of the project, estimated at $2.42 million, will be collected from the property owner through the local improvement tax over the next 25 years.

The Whitecourt & District Chamber of Commerce and Eagle River Casino, in partnership with Whitecourt Woodlands Tourism, will be promoting the creation of a destination management fund to the local accommodation sector. A Destination Management Fund (DMF) provides dollars for tourism marketing at a municipal level that could assist with building the community's reputation as a tourist destination. The group is hosting an information session on September 13 to promote the initiative.

Whitecourt Woodlands Tourism recently rebranded and launched its new website and social media pages last week. Follow the group on Facebook or Instagram to get current information on events and activities around town, and check out the new website at www.whitecourt-woodlandstourism.com.

GREETINGS FROM THE ONOWAY LEGION

Submitted by Lorinda McCool

I would like to apologize for the typing error in the last issue stating the Celebration of Life for Warren Waddell would be held on September 21, 2016. The correct date is September 24, 2016 at 1:00 pm on the family farm. I am very sorry for any inconvenience my mistake may have caused.

The Chicken Tournedo Meal

was prepared and served by Bob C., Jay K., Marcelle J. and Pat St. Hilaire with Scouts Harvey and Zackery doing a great job of clearing and cleaning the tables. Thanks to Randy W. and Liane W. for their help with cleaning up and washing dishes. Close to seventy customers enjoyed the supper and draws especially Val O'Toole who won both the free meal voucher and the meat draw. Wendy Cunningham was the lucky winner of the 50/50 draw. Our next supper is Tenderloin Steak sponsored by Norm Blakeman's Drilling Ltd., WJB Consulting and Wildwillow Enterprises. Meal reservations are strongly recommended for this corporate sponsored supper and please note that free meal vouchers will no longer be accepted at fund raising/corporate suppers.

Thirty dart players competed in the first Tuesday Night Darts with many regulars showing up to enjoy lots of fun and camaraderie. Welcome new players Harold Dalheim, Kayla Chudley and returning player Gloria Apperley. The popcorn machine was a tasty addition with bags of the freshly popped treat selling for only a loony each. Thanks to Liane W. for ensuring the refreshments and the popcorn machine both ran smoothly.

ONOWAY THRESHING BEE AT ITS NEW LOCATION

Submitted by Onoway and District Historical Guild

Yes, the threshing bee organized by the Onoway and District Historical Guild will still be held on Saturday, Sept. 24 starting at 11:00 AM. HOWEVER, there will be a major change with the 10th anniversary edition. A new location was required as it was not possible to hold the event on the Brian Turnbull farm because of development. Instead, activity will take place on the Gordon Adam property on the northwest corner near the junction of Highways 43 and 633.

Spend a day reliving harvests of the past? The event serves as a fund-raiser for the Onoway and District Historical Guild in support of the Onoway Museum.

All the activities will be conducted with old machinery, including 1 threshing machine. Antique tractors will drive the separator. Even the crop of oats will be cut with an old John Deere binder. Want a chance to pitch in to load and unload the wagons then come prepared to lend a hand.

Blacksmithing skills will again be on display. One of the most popular activities for families is rope making – children line up for the chance to get a piece of home-made rope. Horse-drawn wagons will provide rides for all ages.

There will be a display of antique tractors and equipment. We are always looking for antique tractors to drive the threshing machine and owners are encouraged to bring their tractors and try them out. Owners of classic trucks and cars are encouraged to display them.

A large number of activities are planned for members of the younger generation who will try their hands at pioneer games. The Onoway Museum will have static displays of historical interest.

The demand for hamburgers and homemade pies will be high so come early if you want to satisfy your hunger. Connie Lefebvre will be entertaining once again this year.

Gates open at 11:00 A.M. with threshing activity getting underway at noon. Other activities will be scheduled between demonstrations of threshing. Admission is by donation so load up a car and take part in all the activities. As the activity is taking place on Highway 43, make it a point to stop in and look at the past.

As the threshing site is accessed from the southbound lanes of Hwy 43, it is imperative that extra precautions be taken. Do not stop to watch from the highway.

For more information, contact Brian at 780-908-7244 or Bill at 780-498-3660.

DARWELL PUBLIC LIBRARY NEWS

Submitted by Sandra Stepaniuk, Library Manager

We are currently working on our fall program schedule and as the details are finalized we will let you know what is happening so watch for our articles and posters in the community. We currently have a signup sheet in the library for a 4 month beginner Tai Chi class that would run 2 times a week. We need 10 people to register to see the program go forward so if you are interested please stop by and add your name to the list along with your preference for daytime or evening sessions.

Are you aware that the library has passive programming available during regular hours? Passive programming is programs that are self-directed by patrons and available anytime at the library. We have a few things available in the library for families and individuals to do when they come to visit. The colouring club, family games and makerspaces are examples of passive programming. The great thing about passive programming is that it always fits into your schedule, no specific dates and times to remember, just come down when you want to. We encourage you to ask about our passive programming and provide ideas for what you would like to see in the library. We look forward to hearing you.

As the weather holds through September the used book shed (green shed behind the library) will be open on the following dates: Wednesday, September 21 from 5-8 and Monday September 26 between 1 and 4pm. We encourage you to drop by and peruse the titles, take what you want and leave a donation of your choosing. All money received will go directly towards the completion of the library expansion.

Family Movie Night, at the Lake Isle Community Hall, will be held on Friday, September 23, 2016. We will be showing the pre-release "G" rated title "Finding Dory". The doors will open at 6:30pm and the movie starts at 7:00 pm. Admission is $ 2.00 and a concession will be available. See you there! All of our programs are sponsored by The Darwell Public Library Society, Darwell Library Friend Society, FCSS and the CLSA Library Grant.

The Book Club will be meeting on Monday, October 3, 2016 at 7:00p.m. to review "Crazy Rich Asians" by Kevin Kwan . Do you love to read? Do you like to discuss what you have read with others? We are always interested in a new perspective to add to our conversation. If you are interested in participating you can register and make arrangements for loan of the current title by calling the library @ 780-892-3746.

The Darwell Public Library Society will be holding their next regular meeting on Monday, September 26, 2016 starting at 7 pm. All meetings are open to the public and everyone is welcome to attend. The Library is open 11:00 am to 4:00 pm on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday and from 5:00 pm to 8:00 pm Wednesday and Friday, closed Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays. MLA TREVOR HORNE ON THE MINIMUM WAGE INCREASE

Submitted by Trevor Horne, Constituency: Spruce Grove-St. Albert

Prior to being elected as MLA for the wonderful constituency of Spruce Grove-St. Albert, I spent many years working in the service industry—making minimum wage. The wage I was paid barely kept up with the costs of school, let alone living expenses, even if I worked full time. I know the struggles many families in my community are facing as they try to make ends meet on less than $15 per hour.

Across the province, 300,000 Albertans work for minimum wage. I hear the argument that many of these people are teenagers who are trying to earn money to buy video games and new clothes. However, the truth is that 56 per cent of Albertans earning less than $15 per hour are over the age of 25. These are people who are trying pay for food, transportation, rent and child care. Even if we go back to the original argument that low-wage workers are teens and college students, so what? Just because they're young doesn't mean they don't have financial obligations. And it certainly doesn't mean they don't deserve a decent wage.

Another argument I hear about raising the minimum wage is that it's irresponsible to do it during this economic downturn. However, no one has ever been able to explain to me how keeping nearly 10 per cent of Alberta's population at below poverty wages is responsible.

Our government consulted with business owners in order to roll out the minimum wage increase in a balanced way. The phased-in approach of a series of increases gives employers maximum certainty and predictability. Certainty and predictability are also the reasons why our government passed all three annual increases at once, rather than make a decision year to year. Now business owners know exactly what the increase will be and when it will take effect. Businesses do benefit from a minimum wage increase. More money in workers' pockets, means more money for them to spend locally; after all, one business' employee is another's customer. Additional benefits include increased employee productivity and job satisfaction, as well as decreased turnover and training costs. Employers spend tens of thousands of dollars each year to replace workers who leave.

I know Albertans are hard-working people. And everyone in this province who works full time shouldn't have to visit a food bank or choose between a roof over their head or electricity. Moving Albertans closer to living wage will give them economic security and allow them to live with dignity.

RIDING UPDATE – SEPTEMBER 1-16, 2016

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

As many of you may know, the House of Commons reconvenes on September 19th. I have been busy preparing my summer notes from meetings I had with constituents, as well as attending Alberta Caucus and National Caucus meetings.

I started out the month recording radio messages for a 'Don't Drink and Drive' campaign over the Labour Day long weekend, as well as a 'Back to School Safety' message to remind drivers to slow down in school zones.

I enjoyed the long weekend at home with my family before leaving the following week to meet with other Conservative Members of Parliament from Alberta to discuss issues specific to our region. I later attended the Conservative National Caucus Meeting to discuss national matters and how we will continue to hold the Liberal Government accountable.

The week of September 19, I will be travelling with the Standing Committee on Environment and Sustainable Development (ENVI) as it visits our riding. I look forward to touring Yellowhead with the committee and educating its members on the industries and environmental concerns in the region.

So far, my office has received over one thousand responses to the poll in my householder sent out this summer on electoral reform. Thank you to those that have responded. If you have not yet responded, I encourage you to participate in the poll and mail it, postage free, to my Ottawa office. I will be compiling these results in order to best represent my constituents' views on this issue.

When I return to Ottawa, I will begin updating you on a weekly basis.

SUSTAINABLE FLOORING OPTIONS ABOUND

Kitchen and bathroom remodeling projects tend to make great investments, earning homeowners significant returns when they sell their homes down the road. But flooring upgrades are another home renovation project that can attract attention and help sellers when they put their homes on the market.

Home flooring options abound, and it is easy to get excited and overwhelmed about flooring renovation projects. When choosing new flooring materials, homeowners should keep in mind the latest consumer trends, as those trends might help them recoup more of their flooring investment down the road.

One popular flooring trend is the use of sustainable materials. In addition to the more widely known benefits of choosing sustainable flooring, such as protecting natural resources and reducing a home's carbon footprint, sustainable flooring can help reduce indoor air pollution. Various studies from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency have shown that indoor air pollutant levels may be higher indoors than outdoors. A major contributor to indoor air pollution are the volatile organic compounds, or VOCs, being off-gassed by carpeting and other flooring in a home.

Flooring manufacturers and designers are embracing the green design and remodeling movement. Today there are many beautiful and sustainable eco-flooring options. Here are some of the more popular materials.

- Bamboo: Contrary to popular belief, bamboo is not a wood, but a grass. It is a fast-growing grass, and that makes it a smart choice in many design applications. Also, unlike wood, which will absorb moisture and can warp, bamboo repels water and can be used for flooring in areas where one wouldn't think to put wood, such as in bathrooms, entryways or mudrooms. Bamboo is naturally very light in color, but can be stained in many different hues to give homeowners more options.

- Green carpeting: Consumers can now find a wide range of sustainable carpets and rugs that are available at competitive prices. Wool carpets made with undyed or vegetable-dyed yarns and minimal glues are some options. Some carpets are even made from recycled content, such as rubber and plastics. Water-based, low-VOC adhesives paired with recycled cotton padding can reduce the toxicity and impact of carpeting even further.

- Cork: Growing in popularity, cork is a material harvested from the bark of cork trees found in the forests of the Mediterranean. The bark grows back every three years, so it is a handy renewable resource. Cork boasts fire-retardant properties and may naturally repel insects. It can usually be stained to suit various color schemes.

- Rubber: Rubber flooring may call to mind fitness gyms and playground safety substrate, but it's also slowly finding its way into homes. Made from recycled tires, rubber flooring is flexible underfoot and can be long-lasting and colorful.

- Reclaimed wood: Rather than purchasing brand new hardwood planks for flooring, homeowners can opt for reclaimed wood reused from other building applications. After some sanding, staining and finishing, reclaimed wood provides homeowners with the opportunity to choose traditional hardwood flooring without any concerns about deforestation.

Eco-friendly flooring materials continue to evolve and can be smart choices in today's homes.

ADD CURB APPEAL TO YOUR PROPERTY

Many people are familiar with the idea that a strong first impression can go a long way. While that idea is most often referenced in regard to personal interactions, it's also applicable to real estate.

When selling a home, homeowners who emphasize curb appeal may find it far easier to sell their homes. Curb appeal refers to the impression a home's exterior makes on people seeing the home for the first time. In 2014, the online real estate database Zillow® surveyed real estate agents and found that curb appeal was one of the five most important factors when selling a home.

Projects that improve curb appeal can be vast undertakings or simpler projects, and the following are a handful of projects to improve a home's curb appeal that run the gamut from simple to complex.

- Clean up the yard. Cleaning up the yard is among the simpler yet most effective projects to improve a home's curb appeal. When selling their homes, homeowners should clear the yard of any clutter, including kids' toys, grass clippings or items that might be scattered throughout the yard. A cluttered yard suggests homeowners do not care much about their home's appearance, and that may lead buyers to think that indifference extended to maintaining the home's interior as well. Many buyers will ignore properties without any external aesthetic appeal, but cleaning up the yard does not require much effort or expense on the part of sellers.

- Make the main entryway more inviting. Creating a more inviting entryway won't be as simple as cleaning up the yard, but it can help create a strong first impression without breaking the bank.

Add Curb Appeal To Your Property

To begin, remove plants and furniture from the front porch or area surrounding the doorway, as such items can create a cluttered feel. If the front door is old, replace it. Custom doors may be expensive, but they might add the wow factor buyers are looking for. If a new door is beyond your means or just unnecessary, repaint the door, ideally in a color that complements the color of your home and the surrounding landscape.

· Address pavement problems. Paving problems are not necessarily an expensive fix, but the cost of repairing driveways and walkways can add up if it's been awhile since these areas were refurbished. Still, one of the first things buyers will notice when getting out of their cars is the ground they're walking on, so patch and repair or even replace driveways and walkways that have fallen into disrepair.

· Add or upgrade outdoor living spaces. Outdoor living spaces also can set a property apart from others on the market. A recent study from the National Association of Realtors found that buyers would not hesitate to pay asking price for homes with outdoor living spaces. When adding or upgrading outdoor living spaces, try to depersonalize the spaces as much as possible, as buyers want to picture themselves, and not the sellers, enjoying these areas. Include some comfortable furniture, adequate lighting and a dining area in your outdoor living space as well.

Curb appeal can add a lot to a home, while lack of such appeal can make a home difficult to sell. Homeowners who want to sell their properties for asking price or more should address curb appeal before putting their homes on the market.

FACTORS TO CONSIDER WHEN PLANNING A HOME OFFICE

As technology has made working remotely easier, more and more professionals are working from home. Working from home can help working parents save money on childcare costs and help all workers avoid rush hour traffic jams and the costs of commuting to and from the office.

The right working environment is essential for men and women who work from home. An environment that's conducive to work can help people increase their productivity and make their employers more likely to allow more employees to work from home. Professionals who are new to working from home may find it takes some time before they can create the perfect working environment, but the following are a few factors to consider when planning a home office.

Space

One of the disadvantages to working from home is that remote workers don't have access to the same level of equipment as in the main office, such as color copiers or scanners. If you want to include even scaled-down versions of such equipment in your office, you will need ample space. In addition, less spacious home offices can feel too tight and enclosed, making workers uncomfortable and less enthusiastic about working every day. Pick a spot in your home that affords room for your equipment and the ability to move around so you don't feel cramped throughout the workday.

Lighting

Lighting is another factor remote workers must consider when they're planning their home offices. Natural light can provide an energetic boost and improve your mood, so choose a room in your home that gets lots of sunlight during the day. Many professionals who work remotely do so from the basements of their homes, which can make it difficult to rely on natural light. If the basement is the only location in your home that can fit a home office, look for lighting sources that replicate daylight so you are not working in dark quarters. Speak with your physician about how to arrange lighting to reduce eyestrain caused by staring at a computer.

Connectivity

Connectivity also must be considered when planning a home office. While wireless Internet has made Internet dead zones less problematic, certain areas or rooms in your home may still be touch-and-go with regard to Internet connectivity. Such areas should be avoided when choosing a room for your home office, as it can be difficult to remain productive if your connection to your office's external server is routinely compromised. Find an area where the wireless connection is always strong.

Distractions

While your home might be empty for much of the day, you don't want to be distracted when the kids come home from school or when your spouse or roommate arrives home from work. Avoid putting your home office too close to popular hang-out areas in your home, such as the kitchen and the living room. Instead, choose a room where you have lots of privacy so you can focus on your work and won't be routinely interrupted.

Working from home can pay numerous dividends, but professionals who telework must put careful thought into the rooms or areas of their homes where they plan to work.

HOW TO PREPARE A HOME FOR ELDERLY RESIDENTS

Upon reaching retirement age, new retirees may face decisions regarding their living arrangements. Some seniors may opt to stay put, while others may want to downsize their homes to save money and relieve themselves of the burdens of maintaining larger homes.

But those are not the only situations seniors find themselves in. Some seniors realize they can no longer care for themselves without assistance. In such instances, seniors may opt for assisted living facilities or choose to move in with a relative, such as a grown son or daughter. While assisted living facilities are designed to meet the needs of the elderly, young men and women welcoming seniors into their homes may need to take on some home improvement projects to ensure their homes are as safe as possible for elderly residents.

Convert a room on the first floor into a bedroom. While this may not apply to all seniors, some men and women struggle with stairs as they age, and that can make it difficult for them to fully participate in a household. Homeowners with an extra room to spare can convert a room on the first floor of their homes into a bedroom so seniors won't have to climb up and down stairs throughout the day. That ease of accessibility to the primary floor of the house encourages seniors to be active participants in a household. If possible, choose an area that is close to a first-floor bathroom.

Take steps to make bathrooms safer. The National Institute on Aging says that more than one in three seniors over age 65 fall each year, and 80 percent of those falls take place in the bathroom. Slippery tile floors can make it difficult for seniors to navigate bathrooms safely, and bathtubs and shower stalls present additional challenges. Install grab bars on bathroom walls and next to toilets to provide support. In addition, consider installing a shower chair or bench and removable shower nozzle in the shower or tub so seniors can sit down while they bathe and rinse without having to stand up on slippery surfaces. Make sure any mats around bathtubs and sinks are nonskid to reduce the risk of falls even further.

Install an extra phone line or two. While kids and adults between the ages of 18 and 50 may never use the landlines in their homes, many seniors still rely on traditional telephones as their primary means of communicating with the outside world. Install extra landlines in your home, including in seniors' bedrooms, so they can more readily access the phone should they fall and need to call for emergency help. Phones in seniors' bedrooms may also provide some additional privacy to seniors who don't want to carry on phone conversations in busy areas of the home, such as the kitchen or living room. Such lines may also reduce feelings of isolation.

Prioritize accessibility when storing items. When storing groceries, books, magazines, or other items seniors are likely to use, choose locations that are accessible to seniors. Avoid storing items on the top shelf of pantries, bookcases or entertainment centers, as seniors with limited mobility may not be able to reach them.

Many seniors move in with their adult children to make their golden years safer and more enjoyable and manageable. Such a change in living arrangements may necessitate some changes on the part of homeowners so they can ensure their homes are safe for seniors.

HOW TO ENSURE A SUCCESSFUL BASEMENT REMODEL

(MS) - By: Scott McGillivray

Americans continue to fuel remodeling spending across the country, driven by upward growth in real estate prices and the rising cost to trade up to a larger home. Basement renovations are expected to be a hot trend in 2016, as buyers look to maximize available living space rather than move, and as young buyers look to offset the cost of homeownership with potential income suites.

While finishing a basement can be a great alternative to moving -- especially if you love your neighborhood - there are some challenges homeowners must be aware of when tackling below-grade living spaces. Choosing the right products is vital to the comfort, safety and function of your new living area. Look for products that help to maximize energy efficiency and protect against moisture, fire and noise.

Here are the top points to consider to ensure a successful basement renovation.

Waterproof it. Check the interior foundation and floors to make sure there are no existing moisture issues, water damage or mold problems. Address any primary moisture issues before finishing the space. Examine grading to ensure water runs away from your foundation.

Insulation is key. Insulation plays a critical role in making your basement feel comfortable, while keeping it safe and dry. For the best results, install a rigid board insulation, like Roxul ComfortBoard IS, against the concrete foundation before you stud the wall. The board is mechanically fastened or adhered to the concrete foundation wall, which prevents thermal bridging through the studs, providing better thermal performance. Finish with a moisture-resistant and dimensionally stable insulation between the studs, like R14 Comfortbatt, to protect against common basement issues such as mold, mildew and rot.

Choose a functional design. Draw out plans, carefully taking into consideration any low ceilings or small windows. Try to incorporate structural features, such as attractive wood beams, into your design. Keep the space as open as possible. Select lighting that provides a bright, airy feel.

Don't forget to soundproof it. Soundproofing is the ultimate solution to maximize your basement's quiet and privacy. Whether your newfound space will function as a home theatre, music room, home office or playroom, it will benefit from quality acoustic insulation, like Roxul Safe 'n' Sound. Not only is it highly effective, but it's also easy to install.

Consider fire safety. Since many basements are now being renovated as income suites, fire protection is also a vital consideration. Whenever possible, select building materials with a high fire-resistance rating and look for products that will not off-gas or contribute to toxic smoke in the event of a fire. Include additional exits in your renovation plan and educate yourself on your local fire code.

Before you start your renovation, be sure to check with your municipality to secure the right permits and to ensure that you're complying with local bylaws and building codes. Finishing a basement can be a smart renovation, if done properly, adding to a home's value, increasing its function and providing greater enjoyment or income potential.

ACHIEVE THE IDEAL SOUND EXPERIENCE AT HOME

(MS) - Advancements in digital technology over the years mean that almost anyone can own a home theatre or music room or build a recording studio in their home. When you're planning your project, there are a number of elements that will make the difference between good and great sound.

Just like in real estate, location is crucial, so finding the best space within your home will be vital. You want to find a place that will provide ample room, comfortable temperatures and easy access. A room with windows is fine, as long as they are double glazed, sealed correctly and don't open. Be sure to install a heavy, well-insulated door to prevent sound leakage.

Insulation is among the most critical steps in creating an ideal sound experience. Many professionals recommend Safe'n'Sound insulation produced by Roxul. Specially designed for your home's interior walls, ceilings and floors to reduce the transfer of noise from one room to another, this high-density stone wool insulation provides an excellent acoustic barrier that effectively absorbs sound. Its nondirectional fiber structure composition, density and friction-fit prevent any gaps and combat airborne noise such as music, speech and traffic sounds.

Sound can often echo and reverberate. Sound dampening measures such as carpeting can help alleviate the problem or you can purchase acoustic panels that prevent sound reflections throughout your room. With basic DIY skills, you can also simply and affordably construct your own acoustic panels, using stone wool rigid board called Comfortboard IS, which is effective at reducing the intensity and propagation of noise.

Insulating properly will help achieve optimal sound quality. It will also allow you to get the most of your space without disturbing the rest of your family or neighbors. All that's left is to turn up your tunes and enjoy.

SUDOKU OF THE WEEK

Fun By The Numbers

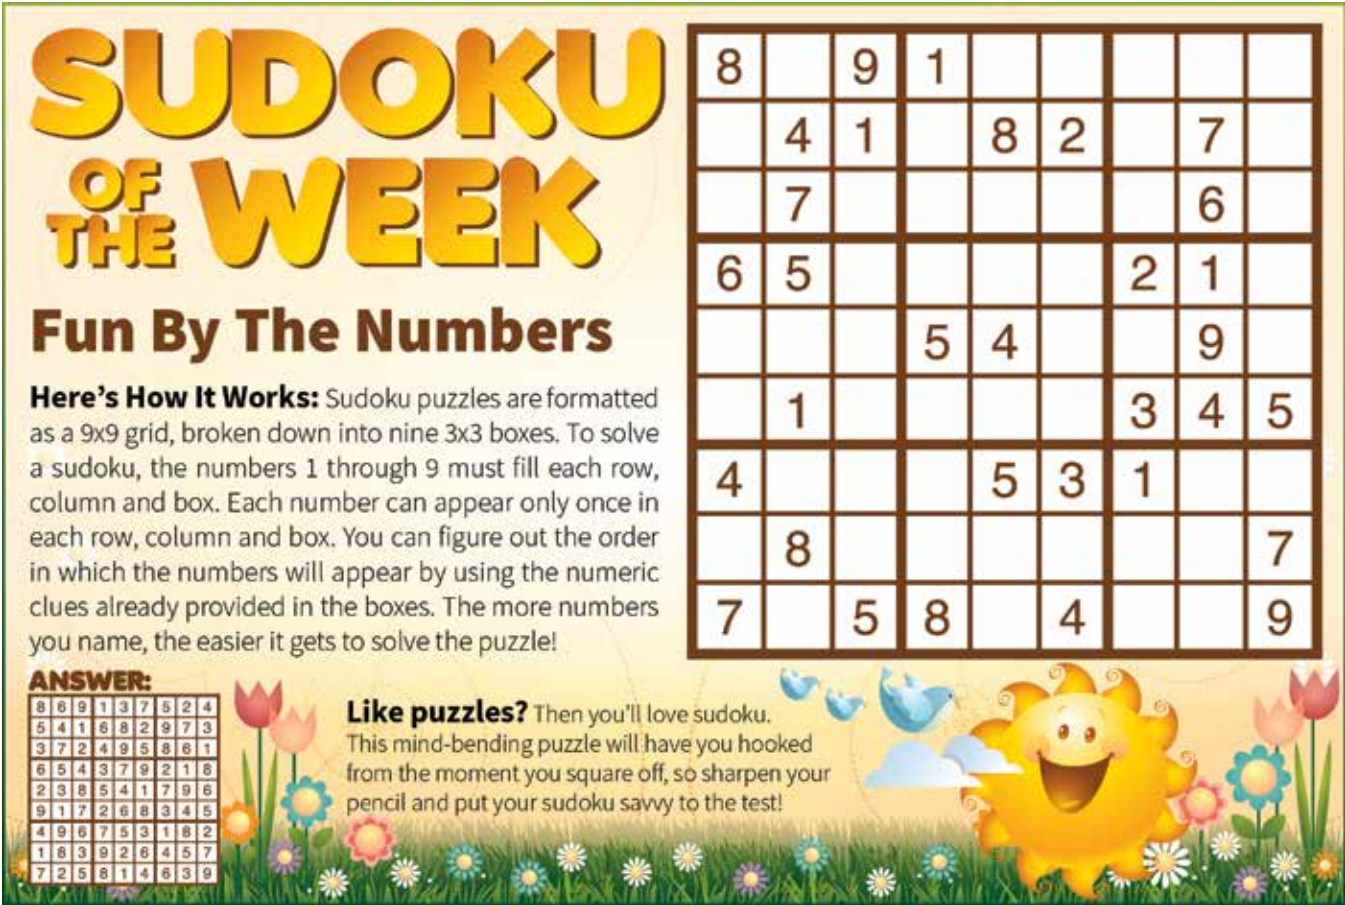

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

	4	1		8	2			7
	7							6
6	5					2	1
			5	4				9
	1					3	4	5
4				5	3	1
	8							7
7		5	8		4			9

ANSWER:

8	6	9	1	3	7	5	2	4
5	4	1	8	2	9	7	3	6
3	7	2	4	9	5	8	6	1
6	5	4	3	7	9	2	1	8
2	3	8	5	4	1	7	9	6
9	1	7	2	6	8	3	4	5
4	9	6	7	5	3	1	8	2
1	8	3	9	2	6	4	5	7
7	2	5	8	1	4	6	3	9

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
