REMEMBERING DEVIL'S LAKE CORRAL

Submitted by Yvonne Slemko | Onoway and District Historical Guild

Johnny Cash, the Kingston Trio, Kris Kristofferson, Charlie Pride, Ricky Nelson, Bob Newhart, Anne Murray – in Onoway, you say? Impossible! But it did happen!

Devil's Lake Corral, dubbed "The Home of Legends", was for a time Canada's largest dinner theatre complex. It was situated on 37 acres of land on the shores of Devil's Lake. The brainchild of local entrepreneurs

Wayne Bourke and Larry Schlichenmayer and many local investors, the facility with a seating capacity of 2,300 operated in the early 1980s. The management brought in Las Vegas type entertainment with Canadian warm-up acts such as Laura Vinson and Red Wyng; these entertainers covered many genres of music (country, folk, rock, pop) and comedy.

Due to a downturn in the economy, the distance from Edmonton (buses were chartered to bring fans to the shows), high ticket prices and possibly being ahead of its time, the Corral closed its doors after two years of operation.

Recently the Onoway and District Historical Guild marked the site with a sign that will help preserve many memories that the facility created. The sign provides a list of world class performers who came to Onoway – just the thought of these big names is staggering! Names like Glen Campbell, Red Skelton, Nana Mouskouri, Tom Jones ... they were here!

LAKE ISLE AND LAC STE ANNE STATE OF THE WATERSHED REPORT - EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Submitted by Angela Duncan, Vice Chair | LILSA

Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne are important recreational lakes in central Alberta. Due to their proximity to Edmonton the lakes are popular recreational destinations for activities including swimming, fishing, boating and camping. Lakeshore development is significant and continues to increase as demand for lakefront properties rises across Alberta. Lac Ste Anne is also the site of one of the largest religious pilgrimages in Canada due to a belief in its healing and sacred waters. The pilgrimage site was named a National Historic Site of Canada in 2004 because of its social and cultural importance.

The Lake Isle and Lac Ste Anne Water Quality Management Society (LILSA) was formed in 2013 to address concerns related to lake health. Residents at the lakes are concerned about deteriorating water quality, blue-green algal blooms, invasive species, proliferation of aquatic vegetation and lake levels. In 2014, LILSA approached the North Saskatchewan Watershed Alliance (NSWA) to prepare a State of the Watershed Report for Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne. The purpose of this report is to characterize the environmental state of both lakes and their watersheds through the evaluation of key issues, biophysical information and watershed stressors.

The Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne watersheds cover a combined area of approximately 865 km² and are located within the Sturgeon River watershed, which is a subwatershed of the North Saskatchewan River Basin. Climate in the region is typical of the Dry Mixedwood Subregion, but an analysis of temperature and precipitation data in the region indicates a warming and drying trend in recent decades (NSWA, 2016a). Currently, 36% of the land cover within the watersheds of Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne are agriculture and “developed” land, whereas the remaining cover consists of forested areas, scrubland, grassland, bare earth, water and wetlands (AAFC, 2015). From 1966 to 2015, agricultural land cover transitioned from predominantly cropland to pasture land. The primary land uses in the watersheds are agricultural production and urban development which cover 76% and 8% of the disturbed land, respectively (ABMI, 2016). Aggregate extraction is the primary industrial activity in the watersheds (ABMI, 2016).

Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne are relatively shallow lakes that are well mixed throughout the year resulting in uniform temperature and oxygen levels through the water column. However, on hot calm days both lakes may stratify, resulting in depleted oxygen levels near lake bottom.

Blue-green algal blooms occurred in the lakes prior to European settlement. However, ongoing watershed development has increased eutrophication in these lakes (Blais et al., 2000). Currently, Isle Lake is rated as hypereutrophic whereas Lac Ste Anne is rated as eutrophic in the east basin and hypereutrophic in the west basin.

The collective findings of this report indicate that regional hydrology and water quality in the watersheds may be changing. An analysis of stream flow data from the Sturgeon River at Magnolia Bridge (WSC Gauging Station #05EA010) revealed a significant decline in stream flows during the past twenty years (NSWA, 2016a). Lake levels at Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne have also been on the decline since the 1990s. Nutrient and ion concentrations at Isle Lake appear to be increasing. A similar upward trend in ion concentrations is also evident at Lac Ste Anne.

Blue-green algal blooms are common at both lakes and Alberta Health commonly issues advisories, warning residents to use caution when recreating during bloom events. Fish kills are common at both lakes; winter and summer kills occur frequently at Isle Lake and winter kills occur intermittently at Lac Ste Anne. Declining lake levels and increasing nutrient concentrations have the potential to increase the frequency and severity of blue-green algae blooms and fish kills on both lakes.

Flowering rush (Butomus umbellatus) has also infested Isle Lake and could further exacerbate water quantity and water quality concerns by reducing lake inflow and outflow, choking out native plant species and reducing lake oxygen levels.

Lake Isle and Lac Ste Anne State of the Watershed Report - Executive Summary

Several data gaps are identified in this report; these include riparian health, groundwater hydrology, water quality in the individual basins of Lac Ste Anne, and recreational pressures on the lakes. A Riparian Health Assessment has been initiated for Isle Lake but not yet for Lac Ste Anne. Riparian Health Assessments are useful to help direct management efforts for restoring lost riparian habitat. Recent information is not available to fully evaluate groundwater trends in the watershed. Further investigation is warranted to characterize the relationships between groundwater and surface water for both lakes. Recent water quality data for Lac Ste Anne have been generated from whole-lake composite samples. Because of the very different morphometries of the east and west basins they should be sampled separately; this would also allow comparisons with historical data. Lastly, it would be useful to evaluate recreational pressure on both lakes, considering increased urban development around both lakeshores in the last fifty years.

The overall health of the Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne watersheds was assessed using a coarse-scale lake screening and assessment tool developed by the NSWA. The potential to influence or impact lake water quality is used as the end point for the screening criteria. The condition of the two lakes and their watersheds with respect to each factor is screened as low, medium or high concern, and then an overall interpretation is presented. Based on this assessment, the condition of Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne (and their watersheds) were considered moderately to highly sensitive to human encroachment.

Action is necessary to prevent further degradation of these watersheds, especially in light of declining water levels and changing water quality. Future recommendations for Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne include continued water quality, quantity and invasive species monitoring, enhancement of stewardship activities around the lakes and in their watersheds, and development of best management practices to reduce land use impacts.

It is recommended that a watershed management planning process be initiated to prevent further degradation of Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne, and to promote restoration and conservation activities for key watershed features. The management plan would ideally align with the goals and directions of the larger Integrated Watershed Management Plan for the North Saskatchewan River in Alberta (NSWA, 2012). The plan should address impacts from agricultural and industrial activities, urban, recreational and rural developments. The plan would be developed through engagement of key stakeholders, who should work collaboratively to address the range of issues at Isle Lake and Lac Ste Anne. Remembering Devil's Lake Corral

The Corral was a part of Onoway's history that should not be forgotten. Thousands of people were entertained there; it put Onoway on the map and was the talk of the town; and it employed hundreds of locals. Kudos to those that shared in the vision.

Today the site of the original Corral is the home of the Jehovah's Witnesses Assembly Hall. Drive out to Devil's Lake and stop to read the sign – that will bring back many memories! For younger people and newcomers to the area, reading that sign will show you a unique facet of Onoway's history. If you want to know more, come to the Onoway Museum.

A clipping from the July 21, 1981 issue of the Onoway Tribune showing what the Corral was offering.

SUDOKU OF THE WEEK

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ANSWER:

GOLFER'S GUIDE

HOW TO MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR DAY ON THE COURSE

(NC) Most great golf games are filled with sun, competition and camaraderie, but you can enhance the experience with a few tips that have less to do with your swing, and a lot to do with your 18-hole enjoyment:

Dress for success: The right golf apparel can be as important as the clubs you carry. Check the weather in advance to make sure you'll be as comfortable as possible during play. Determine if you're dressing to impress or to elevate your game. Light, non-restrictive clothing will allow you to swing freely and keep you comfortable and cool in the heat, or warm if the temperature drops. If you're a guest, always check out the dress code at the club you'll be visiting to ensure you comply with the rules.

Choose your company carefully: Your playing partners can have a lot to do with how you play and how you socialize on the golf course. If you're out with friends, you can relax and enjoy the day knowing what to expect. But if it's a game with your boss or clients, always make sure to test the waters. Will they play by the rules or is it just a relaxed day? Are your clients there to play golf or do business? Understanding the landscape on the first tee will alleviate any awkward moments later on.

Create friendly competition:

Sure, there's already a scorecard, but you can add more competitive fun to your game by creating a little friendly rivalry. For example, try a little Bingo Bango Bongo - a points based game that awards a total score based on three kinds of achievement: Bingo - first person on the green gets a point; Bango - the player whose ball is closest to the pin when all balls are on the green gets a point, Bongo - the player who is first to hole out gets a point. Add up the points and the person with the highest total for the round wins.

Walk it off : Make a small 'healthy' tweak to your game by walking vs. taking a cart. When you choose to walk rather than drive 18 holes, you'll cover approximately six kilometres and burn around 1,500 - 2,000 calories. Golfers that ride carts will burn only about 1,100 - 1,300 calories.

Say cheers and enjoy: The 19th hole remains one of the best holes on the course. Cap off a great day by enjoying a light meal or a light beer such as Molson Canadian 67, which is brewed to 67 calories per 341ml bottle and 3% ABV. This crisp, refreshing beer can be paired nicely with a protein boost of chicken or fish.

FIVE TOP GOLF TIPS TO HELP BOOST YOUR GAME

(NC) When it comes to golf, it's the little things that can have the biggest impact on your game. Whether it's your first attempt, or 10th season, golf expert Bob Weeks has got you covered at the links this summer with these five tips:

Choose the right clubs: Regardless of your experience or skill level, choosing the right equipment can be the difference between duffing it and striking the ball straight down the fairway. It's important to work with a professional to get the clubs best-suited to your game and then, to have them custom fit. You should be fit for the length, loft, lie angle, shaft flex and even the grip size. If your clubs aren't custom fit, it will be like walking around in shoes that are the wrong size.

Get on the ball: Choose the right kind of golf ball for your game. While golf balls all look the same, it's what's inside that determines if it's right for you. Golf balls fall into two categories: distance or control. Distance balls are generally two-piece balls with a large core and a cover. They are harder and better suited for higher handicappers or beginners. Control balls, usually three- or four-piece balls, are softer and spin more meaning they will land on the green and stop. More skillful players should use these.

Consider the elements: Weather is always a factor in golf and dealing with it must always be considered. For instance, in cold temperatures, the ball will travel shorter distances, so take more club. The opposite is true for warmer temperatures. If you're playing into the wind, swing easy as that will keep the ball from spinning too much and rising up into the breezes. And downwind, make sure to judge the intensity of the breezes so you can choose the proper club. Your ball will roll further than normal on a downwind shot so take that into account.

Putting and chipping is priority: Lots of players like to boom their drives and will spend a lot of time on the range hitting their drivers. But if you want to improve your scores, you should spend more time working on your putting and chipping. Since most average players miss a lot of greens, the best way to save strokes is by chipping it close and making more putts. Focus more on your short game than your drive and you will improve.

Play the 19th hole: Win or lose, there's no better way to celebrate than hitting the 19th hole. Less is often more in golf and the same applies when considering what to eat and drink after a round. Molson Canadian 67 for example is specially brewed with 67 calories and an ABV of 3% per 341ml, offering a light, refreshing alternative for active players.
