UPDATE ON OFFICER-INVOLVED SHOOTING NEAR EVANSBURG

Submitted by Jason van Rassel (acting), Alberta Serious Incident Response Team

On March 29, 2018, the Alberta Serious Incident Response Team (ASIRT) was directed to investigate an officer-involved shooting on Highway 16 near Evansburg.

On the same day at approximately 5:15 pm, a member of the RCMP driving a marked police unit identified a vehicle associated with an active Calgary Police Service homicide investigation. The driver of the vehicle failed to stop for police, and a prolonged pursuit ensued. This pursuit involved additional police units, and the vehicle was eventually brought to a stop on the highway with the assistance of a spike belt. The lone occupant of that vehicle, a 21-year-old man, got out and immediately began firing a gun, striking and injuring an RCMP member. Officers returned fire, striking and fatally wounding the man in the exchange of gunfire.

ASIRT's investigation continues and an autopsy is currently scheduled for Tuesday morning. With the investigation well underway, no further information will be released at this time.

ASIRT's mandate is to effectively, independently and objectively investigate incidents involving Alberta's police that have resulted in serious injury or death to any person, as well as serious or sensitive allegations of police misconduct.

tive of the support and concern that has been flooding in from colleagues and the public. The entire RCMP Division is standing behind him and wishing him a speedy recovery.

BACKGROUND:

Evansburg, Alberta – Evansburg RCMP can confirm that one of their members has been injured on March 29, 2018 following an exchange of gunshots. The member suffered non life-threatening injuries and has been transported to an Edmonton hospital.

Earlier this afternoon, an RCMP member in Evansburg located a male believed to be wanted on a Canada Wide Warrant out of Calgary. At approximately 5:15 p.m., efforts were made to stop the male suspect in the vehicle he was driving. The male failed to stop for police and a pursuit ensued.

The pursuit continued on Highway 16 between Evansburg and Entwistle, traveling eastbound and westbound multiple times. The suspect vehicle avoided tire deflation devices. RCMP members from Stony Plain, Spruce Grove, Edson, and Drayton Valley assisted Evansburg members in the pursuit.

JOKE OF THE WEEK

Two guys are out hunting in the woods when one of them collapses. He doesn't appear to be breathing, his eyes are glazed over. The other man pulls out his phone with trembling fingers and calls 911. He gasps, "My friend is dead! What can I do?" The operator says "Please stay calm. I will help you. First of all, let's make sure he's dead." There's a silence, then a gun shot. The guy gets back on the phone and says "OK, now what?"

PARLIAMENT UPDATE – WEEK OF MARCH 26, 2018

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

This week was cut short due to the Easter holiday. Debate was largely focused on the new firearms legislation, rural crime, and cultural heritage.

The following was debated in the House:

- Bill C-55 – An Act to amend the Oceans Act and the Canada Petroleum Resources Act (Third Reading)
- Bill C-68 – An Act to amend the Fisheries Act and other Acts in consequence (Second Reading)

- Bill C-71 – An act to amend certain Acts and Regulations in relation to firearms (Second Reading)
- Bill C-232 – Canadian Jewish Heritage Month Act (Third Reading)
- Bill C-374 – An Act to amend the Historic Sites and Monuments Act (composition of the Board) (Report Stage)
- M-166 – Postal banking system
- M-167 – Rural crime in Canada

• M-168 – Net neutrality

Last week, the Liberals introduced new firearms legislation, Bill C-71. I was scheduled to speak during the debate on Monday, but the Liberals stalled and used their majority to shut down debate before many Members, including myself, had the opportunity to represent our constituents' concerns. Justin Trudeau claims to listen to Canadians, but shoving legislation through the House without allowing for proper debate is the exact opposite of listening to Canadians.

Also on Monday, the Prime Minister exonerated six Tsilhqot'in chiefs who were unjustly hanged in British Columbia in 1864. The current chiefs of Tsilhqot'in First Nation were present on the floor of the House of Commons during the exoneration, and a drumming ceremony also took place.

On Wednesday evening, I had the pleasure of attending the screening of the film, Myth, and a reception at the Embassy of Ukraine.

You can read comments, speeches, and debates in the House on the corresponding day's Hansard at www.ourcommons.ca/en.

In the Standing Committee on Canadian Heritage (CHPC), we began a study on cultural hubs and cultural districts in Canada. For more information on these meetings, visit the CHPC Committee website at www.ourcommons.ca/Committees/en/CHPC.

This week, I attended six meetings and two events, and I taped one video message. I will return to the riding on Thursday evening as the House will not sit on Friday due to the Easter holiday. I will remain in the riding over the weekend and the next two weeks while the House is on recess. My next update will be on my travels throughout our beautiful constituency of Yellowhead.

SEPTIC SENSE WORKSHOP COMING TO PEERS

Submitted by Dan Ivanov,
Communications Department | Yellowhead County

Did you know the average person puts 340 litres of sewage through a private sewage system (septic system) every day? For a family of four living in a two-bedroom house, that amounts to 1,360 litres per day and just under half a million litres per year! Improperly managed septic systems have the potential to have a significant negative effect on the Alberta landscape.

Rural property owners are responsible for ensuring their systems operate properly and safely. If you have a septic system on your rural property, you will benefit from attending this workshop. Presenters will teach you how to understand, assess and properly manage your septic system, enabling you to protect your investment in your property and the valuable natural assets associated with your land.

During the workshop we will cover:

- What a septic system is and how it works
- Regulations
- Design and installation
- Appropriate use of your septic system
- Maintaining your septic system
- Troubleshooting

Learn what you can do to properly manage and maintain your septic system. Attend the Septic Sense workshop on April 18th at the Peers Multiplex, hosted and presented by Yellowhead County with technical expertise provided by the Alberta Onsite Wastewater Management Association (AOWMA) and program coordination by Land Stewardship Centre (LSC).

Sign up for our Septic Sense workshop today. Please pre-register for the workshop by April 10th by calling the Yellowhead County Wildwood Office at: 1-800-814-3935 or (780) 325-3782.

The charges consist of two separate counts of:

- Interfering with an inspector or investigator exercising or carrying out duties or attempting to do so, an offence contrary to section 227(j) of the Environmental Protection and Enhancement Act

The first court appearance is set for April 17 in Drayton Valley Provincial Court.

Alberta Environment and Parks focuses on education, prevention and enforcement to ensure all Albertans continue to enjoy a clean and healthy environment. ## LAUNDRY ROOM RENOVATION IDEAS

To former apartment dwellers or those who have never enjoyed the benefit of a dedicated laundry area, even the smallest washer and dryer space can seem like a luxury.

The benefits of dedicated laundry rooms abound. However, disorganized laundry rooms can nullify such benefits. Depending on the needs and preferences of each homeowner, laundry room designs can be customized for convenience.

Employ vertical space

Floor space may be at a premium in a laundry room, especially for those who want to devote as much space as possible to bulk-size washer and dryer units. Therefore, utilizing wall space is key. Use shelving, wire racks, hooks, and other organizational tools to store items on the wall. Shelves can be tucked into just about any space, and there are different options that can fit into corners or shallow areas. These are a great option for keeping detergent or other laundry essentials nearby.

Clean designs reduce clutter

Simple, clean designs can be an asset in a laundry room. If budget and space permits, cabinetry built into the design will help keep items out of sight in the laundry room. Cabinets hung directly above the appliances can store detergent, bleach and fabric softener. Use cabinets elsewhere in the room as catch-alls for cleaning supplies used in various other rooms around the house.

Incorporate a sink in the design

Some older laundry room setups have a slop sink to drain discharged water from the washing machine. However, newer homes may have plumbing installed directly through the floor or walls. It is still a worthwhile idea to have a sink in the laundry room for rinsing out stains, handwashing items and having a go-to sink for messier cleanup.

Utilize a tension rod

A rod installed between two cabinets or across a narrow width of space in the laundry room is a handy spot to hang shirts or pants to prevent wrinkling. Repurposing a ladder and suspending it from the ceiling also creates a spot to hang clothes.

Consider laundry room flooring

It's important to select flooring materials that will not be damaged by contact with moisture or spills. Vinyl, tile and some composite products often make good laundry room floor materials. Resilient flooring that mimics the look of hardwood may add a classy touch, and give the appearance of wood without having to worry about damage. To alleviate fatigue while spending long moments in the laundry room, invest in a memory foam mat that can be placed underfoot.

Keep lighting in mind

Lighting can be important in the laundry room. Rely on task lighting, under-cabinet strip lighting and overhead lights as needed for efficiency.

Laundry room design can maximize the space available and make it more convenient to launder and sort clothes.

HOME SECURITY FOR THE DO-IT-YOURSELFER

Feeling secure at home is a priority for many people. Many people consider installing security systems in their homes to improve their sense of well-being. Whether one owns or rents, individuals may be surprised to learn that do-it-yourself security systems can be savvy investments.

The right system can help people protect their belongings and their families, but sorting through the various security systems on the market can be a daunting task. While full-service setups that include professional installation and monitoring are available, some homeowners may want to investigate the highly customizable DIY kits now available. Some include personal monitoring, while others are self-install technologies with professional monitoring.

Before getting started, homeowners and renters can ask themselves a few questions to help narrow down their options.

- What is your budget? Professional installation and monitoring will likely cost more than DIY kits.

- How large is the home?

- Are you tech-savvy?

- How frequently are you out of the home on vacation or extended trips?

- Do you desire emergency response?

- Do you want an entire package or just some deterrent devices?

Once men and women have answered these questions, it's time to start shopping. Here are some DIY security system items that may be of interest.

Smart home security systems

These home security systems connect to a home's Wi-Fi network so they can be monitored and controlled using a smartphone app. Others may be accessed through an application on the internet. It is important to look for a system that has the extra security of technology that is not easily hacked.

Security cameras

Some people may only want to watch the inside and outside of their residences. It can take mere minutes to set up wireless security cameras around the house. These devices connect to a Wi-Fi network and give customers free access to a constant stream of video. Some systems make it easy for homeowners to listen in on what's going on at home and even talk to anyone within the camera's range. Others can be paired with cloud storage for recording video.

Professionally monitored

Residents who are away from home frequently or are too busy to constantly monitor security systems may like the peace of mind of professionally monitored kits. Services like Frontpoint®, Link Interactive® and Scout® are just three that have affordable starter kits and video monitoring. Monitored alarm systems can be set to call the police or other emergency services if necessary.

Entry-level or advanced systems

Entry-level systems typically include a few door and window sensors, a motion detector and a hub that communicates with these sensors. This may be enough for someone in an apartment or small house. More extensive systems may include additional sensors, door locks, garage door openers, surveillance cameras, lights, sirens, and even water and smoke detectors.

Do-it-yourself security systems represent a new wave to safeguard one's belongings and family. Kits continue to evolve and have become more seamless than ever.

HOW TO AVOID ELECTRICAL MISHAPS AROUND THE HOUSE

Accidents around the home happen. Some are minor and easily brushed off, while others can lead to serious injury or financial peril.

Many accidents, even those that are relatively minor, can be prevented. Such is often the case with electrical accidents, which may be more common than many people think. According to the Electrical Safety Foundation International, home electrical fires account for an estimated 51,000 fires each year, resulting in roughly 500 deaths and more than $1 billion in property damage.

Homeowners who want to do all they can to reduce the likelihood of electrical mishaps at home can employ various strategies.

- Be mindful of cords and plugs. Cords and plugs can be found throughout the typical home. While few people may perceive cords and plugs as threats, they can serve as catalysts for accident and/or injury. Cords and plugs should always be kept clear of heat and water sources, and cords should not be placed in areas where they can pose any tripping hazards. Even if residents grow accustomed to cord locations and know to maneuver around them, guests won't be as familiar. When pulling plugs from outlets, always pull the plug, and not the cord, to reduce injury risk.

- Periodically take inventory of electrical appliances and components. Some electrical appliances age well, while others may not. Periodic inspections of appliances and their components, such as their cords, can reveal wear and tear that can lead to fires or injuries. Replace any items that pose a threat and stop using these items immediately.

- Avoid DIY electrical work. Many homeowners are handy with hammers and other tools, but professionals are better trusted to perform electrical work on a home. The risk of accident or injury when working with wiring and other electrical components is simply too great for untrained homeowners to do on their own.

- Unplug appliances before flipping a fuse. Fuses blow from time to time. Some may be knocked out by especially powerful storms, while others may blow because they're overloaded. Regardless of why fuses blow, homeowners should turn off appliances on blown fuses before flipping those fuses back on. Leaving appliances running when flipping a fuse can increase the risk of fire or accident. Turn off appliances, unplug them and then turn them back on one by one after the fuse has been flipped.

- Be especially cautious if anyone smells gas. Gas leaks are often detected by the aroma of the gas in the air. When such leaks are detected, homeowners should not touch or turn any electrical switches. Doing so may create a spark that can react with the gas in the air, leading to fire. If a gas leak is detected, go outside and contact a local emergency service.

Many home electrical mishaps can be prevented if homeowners exercise caution and hire certified electrical contractors to handle wiring and other electrical tasks around their homes.

CHOOSE THE GREENEST BUILDER AVAILABLE

(MS) - As building codes enforce tightened minimum standards for eco-responsibility, the more progressive builders are illustrating their own accountability by using and producing materials that are even more efficient than mandates demand. This is great news if you are currently designing, planning or simply getting ready to buy a new home - your investment will likely deliver greater environmental conservation, lower occupant costs and increased property value.

Building code revisions worldwide are ushering a whole new generation of structures that are between 35 and 40 percent more environmentally responsible. The improved practices in construction are showcasing advancements in wall building, windows, insulation and air-infiltration.

"Switching from wood-framing to concrete walls, for example, has so many spin-off benefits," explains Natalie Rodgers of Nudura, the manufacturer of an advanced building method called the insulated concrete form (ICF). "Solid, air-tight concrete walls would initially lower your energy bills. You'll live in a stronger, more comfortable home while the investment grows in resale value. As importantly, your home would create far lower demand on natural resources."

Designed like Lego, the interlocking Nudura forms are designed with monolithic concrete sandwiched between two continuous layers of expanded polystyrene (EPS) foam.

"The foam material isolates the concrete and significantly reduces the flow of heat through the wall," says Rodgers. "It stabilizes the internal temperature from day to night fluctuations and provides a largely self-regulating environment. This faster method of construction creates one solid concrete wall."

As a result, you will need less energy for mechanical heating and cooling, delivering cost savings throughout the year. A home built with this concrete system is stronger, provides greater safety, offers greater sound and fire resistance, and would be far less prone to mold, cold spots and drafts.

"Benefits are plentiful to builders, too," says Rodgers. "The patented hinged web allows the forms to fold flat, requiring smaller shipping space and less manpower than other methods."

If you want your builder to use insulated concrete forms, be sure to make the request well before construction gets underway.

WE ARE OUR STORIES. WE ARE MISCHIEVOUS...

Submitted by Yellowhead County

This year the Yellowhead County Heritage program will partner with Yellowhead County libraries and the Tipple Park Museum to bring our community a deep slice of local history. We are calling the project: We are our stories.

We'll be talking with current and former locals from every corner of the county and we'll gather stories, pictures, and memories for your reading pleasure. We hope it'll inspire you to share your stories.

This month we have an unusual participant, an elusive figure who has lived in various places throughout our County.

We are our Stories. We are Mischievous...

"Sasky" as he prefers to be called, is an old timer in the County who likes to think of himself as a citizen of everywhere, although his roots are here. "My father was born here but he migrated all over the place - that's where he met my mother. She wasn't from here but she fits right in with many of the characters you find around here!"

But his mother and father aren't the only travelers in the family. By having a large extended family, Sasky has no end of places to visit and stay. "My favorite places to visit are in British Columbia and down in the Pacific Northwest (Washington and Oregon). I love the Cascade Mountains and spend a lot of time there with family."

Although he hasn't traveled to other continents, he has family members practically everywhere. And with such a large family, of course you'll find a few notorious characters. "Oh where do I start? I have an uncle who went to California in the 60's to be in film. He was in one that kind of was a cult classic, filmed by Patterson-Gimlin. There have been a few family members involved in events and music festivals. I guess we all like to be the center of attention sometimes!"

When asked what brings him back to his home in Yellowhead County, Sasky doesn't hesitate to say that he loves it here: "Being migratory, I feel a need to come back to my place of birth. But beyond that, I can see why my parents chose here, as there's a little bit of everything. I can go from prairie to the mountains and always find somewhere to have quiet and solitude."

Does his love of solitude make it harder to visit as the County grows? "Times are changing, yes. There is still peace to be found in Yellowhead County's natural areas, but there are always people having fun, or industry work going on not far away," says Sasky. But he's found a new calling with the influx of people and work going on in the county.

"Since I spend so much of my time outdoors—you know, setting the example for how to be a true wilderness aficionado—I've decided to be even more useful to our residents and tourists."

We are our Stories. We are Mischievous...

When I'm not photobombing their annoying group photos, I'm out setting another example: I go out and collect trash."

Sasky's doing more than just collecting trash, though. He's created a whole campaign about enjoying the wilderness responsibly. You can check out his tips on his website: www.WelcomeToOurBackyard.com. And he says that setting an example has been a big help: "I mean maybe people are a bit shaky when they first see me, but when I point the finger at the mess they made, they get the picture. I don't want to scare them—I just want to remind them. Let's keep it clean."

You'd think he would have more trouble out in the bush being a Sasquatch, but coming across more people means teaching others to take care of the wilderness. And if you want to show that you've done your part, or if you've got a sighting of a cleaning Sasquatch, you can reach out to Sasky on Facebook at #LeaveItPristine.

"Mostly, I keep coming back here because I'm proud of how people are learning to treat the environment. Everyone does their part to make sure Yellowhead County stays spotless. Sometimes I feel like I don't even need to be around to remind anyone to do their part!"

Keep an eye out for our elusive Sasky—and for any litter you might find! Remember: Be like Sasky, don't leave a trace!

SUDOKU OF THE WEEK

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ANSWER:

6	7	2	5	8	4	9	3	1
8	9	3	2	6	1	4	5	7
5	4	1	9	7	3	2	6	8

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku.

This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
