BODY OF MAN RECOVERED FROM BANKS OF PEMBINA RIVER

Submitted by Evansburg RCMP

Entwistle, Alberta - Evansburg RCMP have recovered the body of an Edmonton man from the banks of the Pembina River near Entwistle.

On July 11 at approximately 1:00 pm, Evansburg RCMP responded to a report of a body being found near the edge of the Pembina River near Entwistle, below the Highway 16 bridge. RCMP attended with assistance of the local fire department and Fish and Wildlife. Due to rugged terrain and steep cliffs in the area, the operation lasted for several hours and resulted in a closure of a popular river rafting area while the recovery efforts were under way

The deceased has been identified as a 37-year-old man from Edmonton. The investigation is on-going, however the death is not considered suspicious at this time. The identity of the deceased will not be released and the Evansburg RCMP would like to thank the public for their patience during the event.

STORY BOARDS AT TIPPLE PARK MUSEUM

Submitted by Melissa Killion | Tipple Park Museum

Summer is here which means families get to spend a lot of time together before the children go back to school.

We are lucky to live in a community that offers a lot of programs and activities for our local children. Keep your eyes peeled to local billboards, news advertisements, social media postings and store front posters for local programs.

This year Tipple Park Museum is trying out something new and offering a great family past time to our local community and visitors. We have eight story boards along Tipple Park pathways that surround the museum. Families will have the privilege to read a story together any time of day and year.

We are going to change the story every two weeks, so people don't get bored of the same story being up months at a time. Right now, we have a great story called What Small Rabbit Heard by Sheryl Webster and Tim Warnes.

A Huge thank you to Eric Karlzen for building the story boards. It was a huge help.

If you know of a great eight-page story please feel free to stop by the Museum. We love all types of recommendations. Our operating hours are from 10-5 Wednesday to Saturday.

Along with the story boards, we are also offering local businesses a free marketing opportunity. Every storyboard has a blank slot at the back for a poster advertisement. The first eight business that approach the Museum first will have the opportunity to promote their business. Personally, I feel it's a great way to get your business name out there with all the tourists that stop by the Museum. Please phone the Museum at 780-727-2240 or email tippelparkmuseum@gmail.com for sizing and marketing opportunities.

WOODHAVEN MIDDLE SCHOOL SAYS HELLO TO MIKE BOLDT

Submitted by Bre-anna Babich and Maddison Jones, Students | Woodhaven Middle School

Mike Boldt, an author and illustrator, recently visited Woodhaven Middle School. He taught a group of students how to create their own storyline for a short comic strip, using different shapes and sizes making it easier to draw characters. He told them about how he met some popular comic book authors and illustrators such as Raina Telgemeier. He also told them about how he wanted to get into animation school because he wanted to be an animator for Disney, but Disney wasn't hiring.

So, in the end, after studying animation at a university in Edmonton, he then started his journey as an author and illustrator, working on books like How to Grow a Dinosaur. He not only answered the students' questions but asked them some questions that made them think about their own stories. Mike always finds a way to connect with the children and see from their point of view. Thank you to the Canadian Authors Writers in School program, for giving Woodhaven students' this opportunity to learn.

FARM FAMILIES HONoured IN NISKU

Submitted by Renato Gandia, Press Secretary, Agriculture and Forestry | Government of Alberta

Alberta families who have farmed the same land for 100 years or more are being recognized with Century Farm and Ranch awards.

Recipients of the award received a bronze plaque to commemorate this significant milestone. A total of 96 families are being recognized across the province, including 15 families who were honoured in Nisku on June 21.

"Agriculture is at the core of who we are as Albertans. It's an integral part of the foundation of our province's cultural heritage, our strong economy and our vibrant rural communities. It is an honour to recognize these founding families and their legacy. Our government continues to support the sustainable growth of our local food industry and the hard-working entrepreneurs in this sector." - Oneil Carlier, Minister of Agriculture and Forestry

"My great-grandparents came over from Europe in 1902 and purchased our family's first land in 1904. Since then we've had 114 crops on the same land, and I think it's amazing that this farm has been in our family for that long. It is quite a privilege to be able to keep up the farm. It must be in my blood because farming is all I've ever wanted to do. It's a lot of work, but also a lot of reward." - Wayne Schneider, of Nisku, Century Farm and Ranch Award recipient

Since 1993, more than 1,750 families have received the Government of Alberta's Century Farm and Ranch awards.

Agriculture is the province's largest renewable industry, with exports valued at more than $10 billion annually. There are more than 40,000 farms in Alberta, totalling more than 50 million acres.

BRAZEAU COUNTY AND SURROUNDING COUNTIES NAMED FINALIST FOR SMART CITIES CHALLENGE GRANT

Submitted by Wanda Compton, Economic Development & Communications Manager | Brazeau County

Along with Parkland, Lac Ste. Anne, and Yellowhead Counties, Brazeau County has been named a top 10 finalist out of more than 200 submissions for the Government of Canada's Smart Cities Challenge based on their plan to revitalize agriculture through technology and innovation.

As finalists, the counties have received a $250,000 grant, which will be used to develop a final proposal that will outline all design, planning, and project management components of the plan. The counties are the only rural finalists in the Smart Cities $10 million prize category. If selected as winners, the prize will be used to create more prosperous and safe rural communities.

The Brazeau-Parkland-Lac Ste. Anne-Yellowhead proposal seeks to enhance market and knowledge links with urban Canada and beyond. Data-driven discussions will bring farmers closer to people's kitchen tables and address misconceptions about how food is produced. The plan will improve safety and security in rural areas by reducing accidents between large machinery, and improve regional security through technology adoption.

"The Parkland 'Smart Cities Challenge' is inspiring," says Leanne Bellegarde, a member of the Smart Cities jury. "Through innovative technologies, they will capture data that is not only about farming innovation and sustainable land practices, but also about encouraging the future of farming."

"Harnessing the power of new innovative technologies begins with broad rural access to reliable high-speed Internet," says Brazeau County Reeve Bart Guyon. "We are proud to be a Smart Cities Challenge finalist with the other three counties, and look forward to sharing in the $10 million prize to benefit our residents."

The winners of the Smart Cities Challenge will be announced in the spring of 2019. For more information, please visit www.infrastructure.gc.ca/cities-villes/finalists-finalistes-eng.html.

JOKE OF THE WEEK
As a couple approaches the altar, the groom tells his wife-to-be, "Honey, I've got something to confess: I'm a golf nut, and every chance I get, I'll be playing golf!"
"Since we're being honest," replies the bride, "I have to tell you that I'm a hooker."
The groom replies, "That's okay, honey. You just need to learn to keep your head down and your left arm straight."

FIRST CLASS ROPE RESCUE AND EMBANKMENT TRAINING FOR YCFD

Submitted by Stefan Felsing, Communications Department | Yellowhead County

There's more to Yellowhead County's Fire Department (YCFD) than just firefighting – both casual and paid-on-call firefighters are trained in vehicle extraction, heavy rescue training, first-aid, and now there are several who have embankment training under their belt.

In May, several YCFD firefighters worked under various weather conditions during some hands-on training with Pro Rescue Services out of Edmonton. Instructor and company president Bruce Dreany shared his experience and expertise in rope rescue training with the YCFD firefighters.

With an emphasis on safety for both the rescuers and the people being rescued, combined with learning from experience, the group of trainees came away with a wealth of new skills that are an asset to both Yellowhead County residents as well as people working or recreating in the region.

Dreany uses learning opportunities to teach the firefighters how to think on their feet and how to respond to situations that they may come up against that may not have been part of the plan.

During the training, the firefighters realized that they underestimated the length of the rope they needed and instead of letting them run back to the nearby training vehicle, Dreany used the scenario to replicate a rope rescue where the rescue location was theoretically a far distance from their vehicles with the longer rope they needed. The firefighters were able to problem solve the situation and come up with a safe and efficient solution that utilized the equipment they had on hand, and as a result, successfully rescue the firefighter located down the steep bank.

While trying to place the firefighters in situations that they might find themselves in, Dreany emphasizes that the rescuers first priority is safety, whether they are in training or a real rescue.

With such a large area that the Yellowhead County Fire Department covers for rescue situations, these new skills will likely prove to be an invaluable resource for YCFD firefighters.

HAVE YOUR SAY ON UPDATING LOCAL ELECTION LAWS

Submitted by Lauren Arscott, Press, Municipal Affairs | Government of Alberta

Albertans have the opportunity to provide feedback about how elections in municipalities, school boards, Metis Settlements and irrigation districts are conducted.

The Local Authorities Election Act establishes the framework for local elections in the province and is traditionally reviewed following each municipal election cycle.

"We're looking to Albertans to help us decide how local elections are run. We want to gauge Albertans' interest in bringing municipal campaign rules in line with the rules we put in place to take big money out of provincial politics. I encourage Albertans to visit our website and provide their input on how we can make municipal elections fairer and more transparent." - Shaye Anderson, Minister of Municipal Affairs

Government wants to hear from you!

Albertans are invited to complete an online survey and provide their comments by July 31.

Topics covered in the consultation include:

- campaign contributions and finances
- campaign expenses
- third-party advertising
- school board trustee elections
- voter identification
- advance votes
- residency requirements

In addition to the public survey, government will consult with key stakeholders, including municipalities, school boards, Metis Settlements and irrigation districts.

Based on the feedback, proposed changes may be introduced in a future session of the legislature.

CONSULTATION – AIR PASSENGER BILL OF RIGHTS

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

OTTAWA: Jim Eglinski, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, is informing residents that the Canadian Transportation Agency (CTA) has announced the launch of public consultations on air passenger protection regulations.

Under new provisions of the Canada Transportation Act, which were added by the recently-passed, Transportation Modernization Act, the agency is charged with drafting a bill of rights for air travelers.

“This consultation will help develop regulations for the minimum standards of treatment and minimum levels of compensation, including how best to deal with tarmac delays, bumped seats and lost luggage,” state MP Eglinski.

Canadians can give their input on these regulations by:

- attending one of eight in-person or online sessions across the country,

- filling in a questionnaire, or

- Reading the discussion paper and providing a written submission.

The CTA will also conduct surveys with air travelers at select airports across Canada.

The consultation process will continue until August 28, 2018. Once it concludes, all the input received will be considered and the new regulations will be drafted. The regulations will require approval from both the CTA and the Governor in Council to come into force.

“When this Bill was going through the legislative process, I received several emails concerning this issue. Therefore, I encourage all those interested in air passenger protection to participate in this consultation,” concluded MP Eglinski.

For more information and to participate, visit: www.airpassengerprotection.ca/

DEFEND LOCAL JOBS TOUR

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Canadian workers have been facing a direct threat to their livelihood for months. Despite having over a year to prepare for this situation, Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and his Liberal government have made it clear that they do not have a plan.

Recently, the United States has decided to impose tariffs on Canadian steel and aluminum imports and have also threatened to impose tariffs on auto imports as well. TD Bank is warning that 160,000 jobs in the auto sector are at risk – this means that 20% of all manufacturing jobs in Canada could be lost.

These tariffs have created uncertainty in our steel, aluminum and auto industries, and they have left many Canadian workers worried about what will become of their jobs.

This is why Canada’s Conservatives have launched the Defend Local Jobs Tour.

We want to get the best ideas from workers, businesses and local labour groups about how we can respond to this threat and protect local communities that are most vulnerable to these tariffs.

We want to bring people together to find solutions.

We will always stand behind our steel, aluminum and auto industries – and most importantly, the workers employed in these sectors – as we respond to these devastating tariffs.

We will continue to hold the government to account when they fail to take action to defend local jobs.

NO CLARITY ON CARBON TAX

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

OTTAWA: Justin Trudeau is trying to ram through his carbon tax. He has failed to tell Canadians how much this tax hike will cost or what it will achieve.

Over the last two years, Conservatives have asked the government dozens of times to tell us how much a middle-class family will pay in new taxes and each time the Liberals have covered up the truth. Multiple requests for information filed with the government have resulted in the release of documents that have key information blacked out.

Canada's Conservatives have also repeatedly asked how much the Liberals' carbon tax will reduce greenhouse gas emissions, but the Prime Minister and the Minister of Environment have refused to answer.

When asked directly to provide real numbers on how much the Trudeau carbon tax would actually help the environment, Environment Minister Catherine McKenna could not even answer the question. That's unacceptable when Canadians are footing the bill.

The Parliamentary Budget Officer released a new report recently which found that the Liberal carbon tax will take $10 billion out of the Canadian economy by 2022, while other estimates argue the cost could be as much as $35 billion per year. This will hurt jobs, workers, and their families.

While the Liberals admit that gasoline prices will go up by at least 11¢ a litre and that the cost of heating one's home will increase by over $200, they will not tell us what the overall cost will be for an average Canadian family.

Justin Trudeau is making life more expensive for Canadian families. Gas prices, electricity rates, taxes and mortgage payments are all increasing, making it difficult for families to make ends meet. His Liberal government has raised income taxes on 80% of middle class taxpayers, boosted payroll taxes, and now he is ramming through a carbon tax that will inflate other consumer prices.

Conservatives understand that you cannot tax your way to a cleaner environment. Our party will continue to fight for lower taxes and continue to call on the Liberals to immediately end their carbon tax cover-up. We will always stand up for our energy workers and, when we are voted into government in 2019, we will undo the damage Justin Trudeau has done.

CRA SCAM USING RCMP PHONE NUMBERS

Submitted by Stony Plain/Spruce Grove/Enoch RCMP

Spruce Grove, Alberta – Many Canadians have received messages on their phone from someone claiming to be a police officer. This person states that the Canadian Revenue Agency has issued a warrant for their arrest because they owe taxes. They provide a name and a badge number. In order to avoid arrest, taxpayers are told to pay with money, gift cards and recently, bitcoin.

The scammers have now introduced a new twist. Spruce Grove RCMP have received reports that the CRA scammers are now using the Spruce Grove Detachment's complaint line, (780) 962-2222, to convince victims they are not scammers. They use spoofing mechanisms that allow them to choose any phone number they wish. Many people are aware of this scam and will use the internet to check the phone number. When the phone number belongs to a RCMP detachment, victims start to believe that the warrant may be legitimate.

RCMP want the public to know that the Canadian Revenue Agency would never request payment over the phone, they do not accept gift cards or bitcoin as payment.

If you or a family member has fallen victim to this fraud, please report to the Stony Plain RCMP at (780) 968-7267, as well as the Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre. You have two ways to make a report to the CAFCC; either by phone at 1-888-495-8501 (9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time) or through their online reporting tool at <http://www.anti-fraudcentre-centreantifraude.ca/reportincident-signalerincident/index-eng.htm>

LETTER TO THE EDITOR: SPOT THE DANGER BEFORE YOU PLAY

Submitted by Martine Lépine, Manager, Communications | The War Amps

Dear Editor,

A few years ago, I made a decision that would change my life forever. I was playing by the railway tracks with my friends when I decided to hop onto a moving train. I fell off and my left leg went under the wheels. Doctors tried to save my leg but they couldn't.

As a member of The War Amps Child Amputee (CHAMP) Program, I'm spreading the safety message and sharing my story in a new video, PLAYSAFE: Don't Let It Happen to You.

With the help of seven other young amputees, I warn kids to spot the danger before they play and to be aware of "mean machines" like lawn mowers, trains, boats, cars and farm equipment. If I could say anything to kids that are thinking of jumping onto a train or playing near the railroads because it seems like fun or just because your friends do it – don't do it!

As the weather warms up and kids spend more time outside, I encourage parents, teachers and community group leaders to help me pass on the PLAYSAFE message. Please take some time to watch or download the video free-of-charge online at waramps.ca/playsafe.

PASSING OF BILL C-49 IS A HISTORIC TURNING POINT FOR THE GRAIN INDUSTRY

Submitted by Victoria Decker, Communications Manager | Alberta Wheat Commission & Alberta Barley

The Alberta Wheat Commission (AWC) and Alberta Barley say today's news that Bill C-49, the Transportation Modernization Act, is about to receive Royal Assent represents a historic step forward for farmers. The Commissions have pressed hard for years to see a reformed transportation system that farmers can rely on to get their product to Canada's global customers in a timely fashion.

The commissions are now looking forward to seeing key aspects of the legislation implemented including shippers' ability to negotiate reciprocal penalties in service level agreements with the railways and access to long haul interswitching to open up better competitive rail options.

The commissions hope to see these mechanisms introduced in the system prior to the beginning of the crop year on August 1 and look forward to seeing the railways' plans for moving the 2018 crop.

"We saw today that the government is listening to farmers," said

Jason Lenz, Alberta Barley Chair. "Bill C-49 is a monumental turning point – it not only provides the long-term competitive mechanisms to improve rail service that we've been working to see implemented, but also paves the way for Canada to maintain its status as a reliable supplier to our global customers."

The commissions further note their gratitude to Ministers Marc Garneau and Lawrence MacAulay for their commitment to this file. The Senate Standing Committee on Transport and Communications chaired by Senator David Tkachuk also played an instrumental role in bringing forward important amendments that strengthen the legislation.

"We are extremely pleased to see the government move this long overdue legislation forward," said Kevin Bender, AWC Chair. "Bill C-49 lays the foundation for a transportation system where all players, including the railways, are accountable for their performance."

The commissions look forward to monitoring the implementation of Bill C-49 through the Crop Logistics Working Group of which AWC is a member.

LEARNING AND FUN AT POND DAYS

RECENTLY, NEARLY 100 YELLOWHEAD COUNTY STUDENTS LEARNED ABOUT ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP, ESPECIALLY IN THE WETLAND/WATERSHED ECOSYSTEMS.

Submitted by Dan Ivanov, Communications Department | Yellowhead County

Yellowhead County and the Stewardship Alliance for Conservation Agriculture (SACA) teamed up for the 9th year in a row to provide the elementary students of Niton, Wildwood, Fulham, and Evansview a day full of fun and learning about wetland ecosystems!

The four schools mustered a staggering 94 students from Grades 3 to 6. This full-day event showcased several different aspects of wetlands/watersheds and taught the students about environmental stewardship in a fun, outdoor, and hands-on environment.

Students were broken up into groups and rotated through the different learning stations which included topics of: Water Quality, Soils and Underground Life, Aquatic Organisms, Wildlife, and Fish Identification/Dissection.

Yellowhead County and SACA would like to thank the volunteers who presented at each of the stations:

- Brad Peter from the Alberta Lake Management Society
- John Elias, district Fish and Wildlife Officer from Evansburg
- Garyn Topola and Dylan Fath from the West Central Forage Association
- Mike Blackburn and Ryan Cox, Fisheries Biologists for the upper Athabasca region

Also, a big thank you to Sungro Horticulture for once again donating the Pond Days water bottles that were part of the take-home packages for the students.

SUDOKU OF THE WEEK

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

4	6		3					8
9	7		5					1
5	1	3			8	6		7
8	2		1	4		9		3
7			2	8
	3	4	6		7
6		7		3
			8		2	7
			7			3	5	4

ANSWER:

4	6	2	3	7	1	5	9	8
9	7	8	5	6	4	2	3	1
5	1	3	9	2	8	6	4	7
8	2	6	1	4	5	9	7	3
7	9	5	2	8	3	4	1	6
1	3	4	8	9	7	8	2	5
6	5	7	4	3	9	1	8	2
3	4	1	8	5	2	7	6	9
2	8	9	7	1	6	3	5	4

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
