CITY OF LEDUC SEEKING NOMINATIONS FOR YOUNG LEADERS

Submitted by Natalie Lang, Corporate Communications | City of Leduc

The City of Leduc is rolling out the red carpet to recognize young leaders through the city's new #Influencers campaign. Nominations are currently being accepted online for deserving youth who will be in grades 9 through 12 in the 2018/19 academic year. All nominees will be invited to attend a celebratory movie screening on Sept. 14 at Leduc Cinemas.

"Our city is full of exceptional young people who demonstrate leadership, in all its various forms, each and every day," says Leduc Mayor Bob Young. "The #Influencers campaign is our way of celebrating and rewarding these worthy young citizens for the initiative, strength and character they display in their homes, schools, neighbourhoods and social circles."

Since Aug. 1, the city has been seeking nominations from Leduc residents, business owners and community group members who want to honour young people they know who exhibit leadership behaviours. Youth may be nominated for leadership in either large or small acts.

"The #Influencers celebration will be a youth-focused and fun recognition event for the outstanding young people who make such a positive impact on our city," says Young. "The contributions these emerging leaders make are invaluable, and acknowledging their efforts is part of what makes Leduc such a caring community."

In previous years, the Mayors Youth Leadership Luncheon was held to recognize young people in Leduc who demonstrated excellence in character, service and/or leadership. This year, the decision was made to change the format of the event to be less formal and more youthful.

Nominations will be accepted until Sept. 9 at www.leduc.ca/influencers and can be made by completing a short online form.

FARMCASH: “A NEW COMPETITIVE OPTION” CASH ADVANCE PROGRAM PROVIDED BY ALBERTA WHEAT COMMISSION WILL LAUNCH SEPTEMBER 1

Submitted by Alberta Wheat Commission

(Calgary, Alberta) August 20, 2018 – The Alberta Wheat Commission (AWC) and Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada (AAFC) are pleased to announce another competitive option for Alberta’s crop, livestock and honey producers to help manage cash flow throughout the year. Beginning September 1, 2018, AWC will provide cash advances through FarmCash under AAFC’s federal Advance Payments Program (APP).

APP is a federal loan guarantee program which provides agricultural producers with easy access to low-interest cash advances up to $400,000 per program year based on the value of their agricultural product, with the Government of Canada paying the interest on the first $100,000 advanced to a producer and the remaining $300 thousand at a low interest rate.

FarmCash will offer interest free advances and low interest rates on 45 commodities, including all major crops, livestock and honey, through a fully automated and efficient web-based platform. The Alberta Wheat Commission will administer the program which is designed to help producers meet their financial needs, cash flow obligations and increase marketing opportunities to improve profitability.

“AWC believes that like any management tool, farmers need options. By launching FarmCash, AWC saw an opportunity not only to introduce a new competitive option into the market but also to better serve Alberta’s farmers and help improve long-term profitability.” - Kevin Bender, AWC Chair

AWC is committed to administering a fully transparent and accountable business model where 100 per cent of any proceeds from the program will be used to benefit the entire agriculture industry in Alberta.

“Ensuring our programs continue to respond to the needs of farmers remains a priority for our Government. With its established relationships in the province, AWC is well positioned to offer Alberta farmers an additional option for cash advances that will help producers meet their needs and grow their businesses.” - Lawrence MacAulay, Minister of Agriculture and Agri-Food AWC encourages farmers to sign up to receive notifications here or to call 1-855-376-2274 to learn more about the program. AWC is approved as an official administrator of the Advance Payments Program by Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada.

DEFINING HARDSCAPE AND HOW TO USE IT

Curb appeal is beneficial in various ways. Curb appeal can make a home more attractive to prospective buyers and give existing homeowners a place they want to come home to. In its study of the worth of outdoor remodeling projects, the National Association of Realtors found standard lawn care and overall landscape upgrades were most appealing to buyers, as well as the most likely to add value to a home.

Although plants, grass and other items can improve curb appeal, homeowners should not overlook hardscaping.

Hardscaping is an industry term that refers to the non-living features of a landscape. These features can include everything from decks to walkways to ornamental boulders. Introducing paths or paver walls to property helps develop that home's hardscape. Hardscape and soft elements often work in concert to create inspiring landscape designs.

DIY landscape designers can heed certain tips to make the most of hardscape features on their properties.

Choose materials.

As with many landscaping projects, homeowners must first determine what types of additions they would like on their properties. Common hardscape features include patios, decks, walkways of pavers or bricks, and retaining walls. Hardscape elements can be functional or simply decorative features that add whimsy to the yard.

Choose a theme.

The right style allows hardscaping and softscaping materials to work together. For example, homeowners may want to give their yards an eastern feel, complete with a koi pond and decorative bridge or trellis. A formal English garden, however, may include manicured paths with stepping stones and ornate topiaries. Mixing too many styles together can take away from the overall appeal.

The pros suggest looking at the overall plan of the design, even if all of the work can't be completed at once. This way the eventual finished project will be cohesive.

Think about the purpose.

Hardscaping can look good but also serve key purposes. Pebbles or gravel can mitigate trouble areas that don't grow grass or plant life well. Retaining walls hold back soil in yards with sharply inclined hills. Mulch can set perimeters around trees and shrubs, as well as planting beds. Fencing, another form of hardscaping, is essential for establishing property boundaries and adding privacy.

Consult a professional.

While many hardscaping additions can be handled by novices, large-scale projects, such as patios and decking, can change the grading of the yard. Professionals can map out how to handle drainage issues and meet building codes. In addition, professional installation can ensure hardscaping features last for years to come.

Hardscaping should blend with the nature around it and take its cues from the surrounding environment. This can help softscaping and hardscaping work as one.

HOW TO BUILD YOUR HOME BAR

Many people enjoy opening their homes to friends or family. In fact, according to the National Eating Trends survey and custom research by the NPD group, in 2016 the average person ate 38 meals at other people's homes.

Knowing how to cook, set the mood and entertain is increasingly important for many homeowners. Installing and outfitting a home bar can provide guests with the features of a night out, only without the crowds or bar tabs that come at the end of the night. A home bar is a place where hosts and their guests can gather and enjoy great conversation. Such a spot also can serve as a neighborhood hangout - a smart choice for those who want to indulge safely and not have to drive home afterward.

Creating a home bar need not be a difficult project. By investing in basic equipment, stocking up on preferred liquors and gaining some mixology expertise, hosts can impress and entertain their guests.

Establish a bar setup

Home bars can range from rolling carts to built-in wet bars to a single tray of items. Space in a home will dictate the kind of bar homeowners can have. Rolling bar carts are popular and versatile, and they can be kept stationary or rolled in and out of a room as needed. If a bar cart is open, organization is key, as you don't want it to look unkempt.

A full-blown wet bar will require more construction, including plumbing and electricity if you need outlets for plugging in appliances. Wet bars are ideal in dens, renovated garages and finished basements.

Stock up on equipment

A new home bar requires barware and glassware. Various drinks are best served in requisite glassware and prepared with the right equipment. A home bar will benefit from a muddler, jigger, cocktail shaker, strainer, ice cube trays, and bar spoon. Glassware can include short glasses, tall glasses and wine glasses with stems. Martini glasses provide a chic look and are practical for those who prefer cosmopolitans and martinis.

Fill it with spirits

No bar is complete without alcohol and mixers. Homeowners can buy the types of spirits they love and complete their bars with the basics for mixing. When stocking a bar, keep in mind that everything does not have to be top-shelf. Vodka, gin, tequila, rum, and whiskey are some of the more popular spirits. Simple syrup, fresh fruit, club soda, cola, and bitters are examples of versatile mixers.

Entertaining guru Martha Stewart says to have enough supplies on hand for guests. Expect each person to have three drinks (requiring three glasses), use a pound of ice, and three cocktail napkins per two-hour party. Don't forget to also have nonalcoholic items on hand for those who don't imbibe.

A GUIDE TO SAFELY REMOVING FALLEN LEAVES

The University of Pittsburgh Medical Center advises that pain from outdoor leaf chores can range from strained back muscles to twisted knees. Blisters on the hands and sunburn are other potential side effects. Many people do not realize that raking is a thorough cardiovascular workout. Individuals at risk for cardiovascular disease or those who have recovered from surgery may not be well enough to rake leaves.

Here's how to make autumn leaf removal more of a breeze when the job is done safely.

- Pay attention when using a leaf blower. Be cautious not to point an operational blower in the direction of people or pets, as debris can be blown about and cause injury.

- Stretch out before raking leaves. Warm up muscles beforehand so they are less likely to cramp. UPMC experts suggest taking a short walk prior to raking to stimulate circulation.

- Use proper raking form. Much like snow shoveling, one should emphasize proper posture when raking, with legs slightly bent and weight distributed evenly. Hold the rake handle close to the body and keep one hand near the top of the rake for better leverage.

- Use the proper gear. A leaf rake fans out like a triangle and comes in various widths. Choose a lightweight material that can be easily maneuvered. A metal rake is for stones and dirt and shouldn't be used for leaves. To get between bushes, a smaller version of a leaf rake, called a shrub rake, should be used.

- Wear protective gear. When raking or leaf blowing, protect your eyes against debris. You also may want to use a mask to prevent inhalation of leaf mold and other particulates. Gloves can protect hands from blisters.

- Follow manufacturers' directions. Read the instructions for powered leaf blowers, and never modify the device in an unauthorized way.

- Use a tarp and lift wisely. Rake leaves onto a tarp that can be dragged to a garbage pail or to the curb for municipal pick up. For those who must lift bags of leaves, do so by bending at the knees, not from the waist.

- Wear sunscreen. Protect skin from the sun. Even though temperatures are cooler in the fall, this does not mean the sun's rays are any less harmful. Also, take breaks to rehydrate frequently.

- Use a secure ladder. When removing leaves from gutters, be sure the ladder is sturdy and secure. Consider having a friend serve as a spotter, holding on to the ladder to offer greater security. Do not overextend to stretch for leaves.

If at any time during leaf cleanup you feel sharp or dull, incessant pains, stop working. Listen to your body's signals and start the task anew the next day or when you feel better.

DEFEND LOCAL JOBS TOUR

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Canadian workers have been facing a direct threat to their livelihood for months. Despite having over a year to prepare for this situation, Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and his Liberal government have made it clear that they do not have a plan.

Recently, the United States has decided to impose tariffs on Canadian steel and aluminum imports and have also threatened to impose tariffs on auto imports as well. TD Bank is warning that 160,000 jobs in the auto sector are at risk – this means that 20% of all manufacturing jobs in Canada could be lost.

These tariffs have created uncertainty in our steel, aluminum and auto industries, and they have left many Canadian workers worried about what will become of their jobs.

This is why Canada's Conservatives have launched the Defend Local Jobs Tour.

We want to get the best ideas from workers, businesses and local labour groups about how we can respond to this threat and protect local communities that are most vulnerable to these tariffs.

We want to bring people together to find solutions.

We will always stand behind our steel, aluminum and auto industries – and most importantly, the workers employed in these sectors – as we respond to these devastating tariffs.

We will continue to hold the government to account when they fail to take action to defend local jobs.

VEHICLE IN THE CLEARWATER RIVER

Submitted by Rocky Mountain House RCMP

Early morning on July 25, 2018, Rocky Mountain House RCMP responded to an incident where a truck plummeted over an embankment and landed in the Clearwater River.

The RCMP, with the assistance of Rocky Mountain House Search and Rescue, Fire Rescue and special tow trucks have all worked together to recover the truck and the deceased driver.

At 2:59 a.m., the RCMP were made aware that the International Emergency Response Coordination Centre had received a call for assistance on Highway 734 at Marker #41. Information received was that the truck with the lone occupant was seen, by witnesses in the area, to leave the roadway.

Given the terrain and the location of the truck, it took almost twelve hours for all agencies to remove the truck from its position in the river. No other vehicles were involved in the collision.

The identification of the driver will not be reported on and there are no further updates anticipated.

RIDING UPDATE - JULY 2018

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

I enjoy being in the riding during the summer where I can reconnect with my constituents. After Parliament adjourned for the summer, I began my travels throughout the region.

Over the last week of June, I spent some time meeting with constituents in my Edson office. I also met with colleagues regarding the mountain pine beetle issue, spent an afternoon in Hinton to attend the grand opening of their food bank, and participated in the Cherhill

Family Fun Days.

On July 1st, along with my wife Nancy, I attended events celebrating Canada's 151st birthday at Centennial Park in Edson. Also in the first week, I spent time in my Edson office, dropped in to the Edson Fire Hall, as well as the Yellowhead County Fire Hall, to visit our firefighters and thank them for their efforts as the fire season is now well underway.

I spent most of the following week in my office. I also attended a luncheon in Edmonton with my Conservative colleagues to support candidate Tim Uppal in his bid to win back the riding of Edmonton—

Sherwood Park in next year's election.

In the third week of July, I was kept very busy on the road. On the Monday, I attended the Pembina River District Zone meeting, which is one of five Districts belonging to the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties, where I presented an update on issues relative to rural Alberta.

On the Tuesday, I attended a meeting concerning Cannabis in the Workplace at Drayton Valley's Clean Energy Technology Centre. The next day, I joined the Wildwood Fire Hall for their Grand opening and BBQ.

On the Thursday, I was back in Edmonton to attend a convention with Conservative colleagues. While there, I met up with UCP Leader Jason Kenney at the Northern Alberta Conservative Leaders BBQ. The next day, I participated in the Klondike Days Parade with my colleagues, including Andrew Scheer. On the Saturday, I was back in the riding to celebrate the Carvel Community General Store's 100th anniversary.

After such a busy week, I took the last week of July off to spend time with my family. I look forward to returning to the riding refreshed and ready to hit the road once more!

COMPETITION BUREAU LAUNCHES MARKET STUDY ON BROADBAND

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

The Competition Bureau has launched a market study to look into consumer habits in purchasing internet services, with the goal of better understanding the competitive dynamics within the Canadian broadband sector.

The study will explore whether there are ways to foster more competition in this sector, which could lead to more choices and lower prices for Canadians. Specifically, the study will look at whether changes to internet regulations could result in a broader range of service options, encourage more informed consumer choice, and reduce barriers to consumers switching between providers.

"While most Canadians are well-served, many, including those in the rural areas of our Yellowhead riding, do not have access to broadband internet access services that are comparable to those offered to the vast majority of Canadians in terms of speed, capacity, quality and price," stated MP Eglinski.

The study will address four broad themes: the ability of broadband providers to deploy competitive service offers, consumer reactions to new competitive alternatives, the impact of existing regulation on broadband providers, and whether there are lessons to be learned from how other countries manage and regulate broadband competition.

"Ensuring availability of broadband internet access service is a shared responsibility that will only be attained with the help of everyone involved," concluded MP Eglinski.

Those with an interest in the Canadian broadband sector are invited to share their views on the issues raised by the study. For more information on how to make a submission, visit: www.competitionbureau.gc.ca/eic/site/cb-bc.nsf/eng/04360.html

RAIL CONSULTATION AND RAIL HELP LINE LAUNCHED

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

The Canadian Transportation Agency (CTA) has launched consultation on rail-related regulations and guidance materials.

These consultations are part of the agency's Regulatory Modernization Initiative and will support the implementation of the Transportation Modernization Act (Bill C-49), which amends the Canada Transportation Act (Act) to introduce new measures related to freight rail.

"For years now, our communities in Yellowhead have experienced ongoing safety issues in which trains block crossings for unacceptable amounts of time. I am encouraging all affected residents and stakeholders with a vested interest in rail safety to make their voices heard in this consultation," stated MP Eglinski.

All those interested are invited to share their views to ensure that the CTA's rail-related regulations and guidance materials are relevant, clear and up to date. Participants can submit comments to ferroviaire-rail@otc-cta.gc.ca before the September 30, 2018 deadline.

To read the related discussion paper and find more information on the consultation, visit: <https://otc-cta.gc.ca/eng/rail-transportation-consultation>

The CTA has also launched a new confidential toll-free Rail Help Line to provide information, guidance and dispute resolution services on the rail-related provisions of the Act.

Shippers, communities, members of the public, and railway companies now have immediate access to a rail analyst if they have questions on railway operations, railway infrastructure, shipper and community rights, or dispute resolution.

The phone number for the Rail Help Line is 1-877-850-7148.

"If you are being excessively held up by a train at a rail crossing or have a safety concern, I encourage you to call this number and make sure the agency and the rail companies are aware of residents' concerns," concluded MP Eglinski.

FUNDING AGREEMENT TARGETS ALBERTA JOBS AND TRAINING

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

OTTAWA – Jim Eglinski, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, is informing residents that Employment and Social Development Canada has announced funding agreements aimed to give Albertans better access to jobs and training.

The governments of Canada and Alberta have signed agreements that will see the federal government provide the province with over $1.7 billion over six years.

It is expected that these agreements will increase the jobs and skills training available to people in Alberta, including apprenticeship training, self-employment training, academic upgrading, English as a second language, and more.

The agreements are the new Workforce Development Agreement (WDA) and the Labour Market Development Agreement (LMDA). In the first two years, Alberta will receive approximately $490 million—more than $182 million through the WDA and nearly $308 million through the LMDA.

The agreements also include a commitment to performance measurement. That means that Canada and Alberta will be able to measure how programs are increasing people's earnings, helping them get jobs that last, and breaking down barriers for under represented groups like Indigenous people, people with disabilities and women. The Government of Canada will be reporting to Canadians on the impacts of these programs, so that they are transparent and so that they can be continually improved.

The WDA will help Alberta deliver training and services, such as:

- The Canada-Alberta Job Grant, which allows new and existing employees to increase their knowledge and skills through training jointly funded by employers and government.
- Disability related employment supports, including funding for technologies like specialized computer software, tutors, and worksite modifications such as wheelchair ramps.

- Academic upgrading.
- English as a Second Language training.
- Indigenous skills training programs, including the Aboriginal Training to Employment Program and First Nations Training to Employment Program.

Funding under the LMDA will support measures such as:

- Support for apprentices and jobs in construction.
- Transition to Employment Services, such as the Shuttle Program at Higher Landing, which gives unemployed Albertans individualized services in career management and job search skills to help them return to work as soon as possible.
- Women Building Futures, which provides exposure and training in non-traditional career options in the construction trades to women.

“The people of Alberta have worked hard for generations, and the entire nation has benefitted from Alberta’s economic strength. I am pleased to see investments being made into Alberta jobs, but we need the federal government to do more to protect local jobs against the threat of American protectionism and tariffs,” concluded MP Eglinski.
