JOKE OF THE WEEK

A farmer purchased an old, run-down, abandoned farm with plans to turn it into a thriving enterprise. The fields were grown over with weeds, the farmhouse was falling apart, and the fences were broken down. During his first day of work, the town preacher stops by to bless the man's work, saying, "May you and God work together to make this the farm of your dreams!" A few months later, the preacher stops by again to call on the farmer. Lo and behold, it's a completely different place. The farm house is completely rebuilt and in excellent condition, there is plenty of cattle and other livestock happily munching on feed in well-fenced pens, and the fields are filled with crops planted in neat rows. "Amazing!" the preacher says. "Look what God and you have accomplished together!" "Yes, reverend," says the farmer, "but remember what the farm was like when God was working it alone!"

RCMP Officer Charged After Off-Duty Confrontation

Having reviewed the investigation and the provided Crown opinion, ASIRT Executive Director, Ms. Susan D. Hughson, QC, made the determination that the involved officer should be charged with four criminal offences.

On April 25, 2019, Const. Barnaby Seregelyi, a member of the RCMP Wood Buffalo detachment, was charged with the criminal offences of dangerous driving, assault with a weapon, unlawful confinement, and pointing a firearm.

It is alleged that on Dec. 28, 2017, Const. Seregelyi was off-duty and driving his personal vehicle just west of Barrhead when he encountered another motorist and became embroiled in a driving dispute. During the course of the incident, it is alleged that Const. Seregelyi drove his vehicle in a manner dangerous to the public, confronted the woman operating the other vehicle, pointed a firearm at her, and confined her roadside.

Const. Seregelyi appeared before a justice of the peace and was released with conditions. He is scheduled to appear in Barrhead provincial court.

As this matter is now before the courts, ASIRT will not provide any further information.

ASIRT's mandate is to effectively, independently and objectively investigate incidents involving Alberta's police that have resulted in serious injury or death to any person, as well as serious or sensitive allegations of police misconduct.

ALBERTA BEACH & DISTRICT MEALS ON WHEELS PROGRAM

Submitted by Diane Gibbs, President/AB Co-ordinator

After almost 22 years of serving our communities of Alberta Beach, Darwell and surrounding areas, as of May 1, 2019 the Alberta Beach & District Meals on Wheels program is dissolved.

Over the 22 years our many volunteers have delivered meals prepared by several different means prepared by several different area restaurants to a varied clientele to help shut ins stay in their own homes. Over the past few years we have seen our services become redundant.

Whether this is due to the great variety of prepared or frozen meals available from grocery stores or families taking care of their own, we do not know. Replacing retiring drivers has also become a problem.

But we do want to THANK all those in the community who have supported us over the years - who have volunteered countless hours as committed drivers or as Board members. If you donated change to our cash jars in various businesses you helped pay for the containers used in the food delivery or for the GST on the meals. THANK YOU to the Liquor Cottage, Beachside Market, Guardian Beach Pharmacy, ATB Financial, Mama's in the Kitchen & the Darwell Restaurant for hosting the jars.

To Kim and her staff at Mama's in the Kitchen and Ellie and her staff at the Darwell Restaurant, we want to say THANK YOU for the wonderful service to have provided.

This is the end of an era begun by concerned community members, predominantly from the Zion United Church. It is people like them who see a need and act upon it! Thank you from all of us!

OJSH STUDENTS ACHIEVE CREDENTIALS THROUGH THE GREEN CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Submitted by Wanda Pederson | Onoway Junior Senior High School

One opportunity at OJSH that many students find valuable is the Green Certificate agricultural training program. The Green Certificate program uses an apprenticeship style of delivery in which students learn by being in the barn, field or corral. Students are paired with knowledgeable trainers when they are in the field.

The Green Certificate is an approved complimentary program of study available to all Alberta high schools. Becoming a competent farm production technician (completing a Level I Green Certificate) requires taking three courses and upon completion, students will receive 16 credits.

The program provides students with opportunities to experience a variety of agriculture-related, structured learning pathways as a part of their senior high school program and, additionally, earn a recognized credential leading to a career in agribusiness.

The Green Certificate Program currently consists of eleven specializations: cow calf beef production, dairy production, feedlot beef production, field crop production, irrigated field crop production, sheep production, swine production, beekeeper production, equine production, greenhouse production and poultry production.

This school year, we have 9 students who are enrolled in the program: Bailey Bartel, Santina Bassanese, Madison Jackson, Tanner and Joey Van Sickle, Gavin Sandsbraaten, Desiray Foster-Kemps, Jenna Sroka and Gabe Johnson. Four wish to become Cow-Calf Beef Production Technicians.

Two of these students have already achieved their Green Certificate. Grade 12 students Bailey Bartel and Santina Bassanese have earned their Green Certificates in Equine Production—they are now certified Equine Technicians.

For more information on the Green Certificate program and how it can be of benefit to you, please call Ms. Lisa Dundas at 780-967-2271.

Bailey (L.) and Santina (R.) received their certification as Equine Technicians through the Green Certificate Program

FUNDING FOR MICRO-GRANTS FOR CANNABIS AND VAPING AWARENESS INITIATIVES

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Jim Eglinski, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, wishes to inform residents that Health Canada has announced the launch of a new three-year, $600,000 micro-grant fund, under its Substance Use and Addictions Program, to support community-led education efforts to inform the public about the health facts of cannabis use and vaping.

Canadians over the age of 16, Canadian not-for-profit organizations and community-based organizations can now apply for a micro-grant of up to $1,000 to support public education projects in their communities.

Funding applications are currently being accepted on a first come, first served basis, with consideration given to fair geographical and audience distribution. As there is a limited amount of funding available, not all eligible applications will receive funding.

“Health effects of cannabis use, and vaping is key to helping reduce the harms associated with these activities,” concluded MP Eglinski.

RECOGNIZE WATER DAMAGE IN A HOME

Homes are potentially susceptible to a host of problems. While unforeseen problems can prove costly, homeowners who keep attentive eyes on their homes can oftentimes discover small problems before they escalate.

Water damage is a potentially costly problem that can afflict any home. Old homes tend to be most susceptible to water damage, and that damage can manifest itself in various ways. The following are some telltale signs of water damage that should give prospective home buyers pause and compel current homeowners to seek professional assistance as soon as possible.

Stains - Many prospective home buyers have been disappointed by the sight of water stains during an open house or home inspection. Water stains tend to be on ceilings and/or walls. Stains on ceilings tend to be round, while wall stains are straight lines down the wall that may or may not have forced paint to peel. Water stains are not necessarily indicative of a major problem, but homeowners should have the stains examined by a professional while potential buyers should direct their home inspector's attention to the stains.

EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED WHEN RENOVATING A HOME

Tackling any renovation project is an exercise in patience. Renovations can impede on daily activities and cause a certain level of upheaval in homeowners' lives. Homeowners planning renovations also may find that they must have some wiggle room when it comes to both their budgets and their expectations. Remodeling, particularly with regard to older homes, may unveil unforeseen issues that only arise in the face of the renovation.

So what can homeowners expect during a renovation? The following are a few issues that might arise during home improvement projects.

- Dirt and noise: Homeowners can count on dust, debris and noise throughout the renovation process. Dust appears when walls come down or go up, and construction teams typically erect temporary walls or tarps to contain the debris. Air filtering systems also can limit dust particles. Noise is unavoidable. If it becomes troublesome, arrange to be outside of the home when the bulk of the construction is taking place.

- Delays or schedule changes: Even the best contractors cannot control every aspect of the job. They rely on subcontractors and vendors to do portions of the work. Materials may not always arrive on time, or they may fall short of homeowners' expectations. This can push back the project schedule. Homeowners should hope for everything to be done on time, but it can be less stressful if homeowners anticipate delays and be a pleasant surprise if there are no delays.

- Hidden issues: Contractors may uncover all sorts of issues that need to be addressed before a project can progress. Examples include the presence of asbestos (common in older homes), plumbing problems, incorrectly wired electrical systems, and leaks or moisture issues. These problems also can impact the cost of the project, so set aside some money in the budget for unforeseen expenses. Chances are you are going to need some extra money to handle a few surprises during the project.

It's important to expect the unexpected when embarking on home renovations. Budgeting for hidden costs, expecting delays and coping with the upheaval to daily schedules are par for the remodeling course. However, the end result is often well worth the time and effort.

Deteriorating wood - Wood around windows or doors that is deteriorating may indicate water problems. The wood might be deteriorating because water is infiltrating the wood during storms. Baseboards and molding that is dilapidated or beginning to deteriorate may also indicate water damage.

Buckled drywall or wood - Drywall or wood that is buckled or beginning to buckle is another potential indicator of water damage. Drywall buckles when it gets wet, and that is often a sign that there is a leak behind the drywall. Severely buckled drywall will feel as if it has ridges. Wood also buckles when it is exposed to excess moisture, and this can usually be felt when walking on the wood barefoot or in socks.

Odor - Sometimes water damage is best detected by the smell test. Homeowners who notice the smell of mold or mildew in rooms that previously never emanated such odors might have homes that are in the early stages of water problems. The water damage might be behind the walls, where mold is beginning to form thanks to water damage. Older homes tend to be musty, but call in a professional if you notice that mustiness if more pungent than usual.

Water damage is a potentially costly problem, especially if it goes unnoticed for months or even years. Homeowners and prospective home buyers should be on the lookout for signs of water damage before problems escalate and require expensive repairs.

HOW TO CREATE AN EFFECTIVE WORKFLOW IN THE KITCHEN

Bathroom and kitchen makeovers are some of the most coveted and profitable improvements that can be made to a home. Installing new cabinetry, countertops and appliances can transform the look of a kitchen, but homeowners also must consider the functionality of design when renovating.

The National Kitchen and Bath

Association suggests applying the kitchen “work triangle,” which is a concept used to create efficient kitchen layouts. The triangle comprises imaginary straight lines drawn from the cooking appliance, sink and refrigerator. These are where much of the work in the kitchen takes place. The general idea is that when the work triangle is positioned accordingly - with the three components in close proximity to one another - the kitchen is easier and more efficient to use. Homeowners will be able to move freely among these elements when they are placed at appropriate distances, reducing wasted steps.

The NKBA suggests following these guidelines to create efficient kitchens.

- No major traffic patterns should cross through the triangle.
- The sum of the work triangle’s three sides should not exceed 26 feet. Each portion of the triangle should be between four and nine feet.

- Avoid cutting through an island or a peninsula.
- If the kitchen has only one sink, it should be placed between or across from the cooking surface, preparation area or refrigerator.

The work triangle is a suggestion, not a law of design. As kitchens evolve and more people use them simultaneously, designers may take certain liberties - even having multiple triangles at play. Homeowners should also design their kitchens so they function best for their own individual lifestyles.

Kitchen layout can be just as important as the decor and appliances within the kitchen.

GUIDE TO REPLACING HOME SIDING

Few home improvements can transform a home more than the installation of new siding. Replacing siding can be a costly venture, but the right siding will maintain its appeal for years to come.

Updated siding can improve home's energy value by enabling owners to save on heating and cooling costs. A new design and color also can improve a home's property value and set it apart from neighboring properties. According to the Professional Builder's Home Exteriors Survey, exterior design and materials used are a top priority for new home buyers.

Project costs depend on the size of the home as well as which siding material homeowners choose. Considering new siding is a major renovation, it pays to get the job done right.

Choose a qualified contractor
It is important for consumers to do their research when it comes to siding materials and contractors. A contractor who takes shortcuts or improperly installs the siding may void a manufacturer's warranty. Always ask family members and friends for recommendations before choosing a contractor, and check out each prospective contractor's work for yourself. Interview more than one contractor and compare both their costs and what they offer. Ask plenty of questions of the contractors, and avoid those who try hard-sell methods. Questionable contractors may try strategies like a promise of a considerable discount if you "act now" or scare tactics that your home is unsafe in its present condition.

Be sure the contractor carries general liability insurance as well as workers' compensation insurance for their subcontractors. Ask for a license number as well and verify its accuracy.

Select a durable material

Siding comes in all types of materials - from wood to plastic to fiber cement - but vinyl is among the most popular due to cost and availability. Research how well particular brands of siding stand up to conditions and which are the least likely to crack, warp or discolor. Find this information from online reviews or through consumer advocacy groups. Also remember, vinyl and other synthetic materials have improved and can now mimic the look of many other materials for a fraction of the cost.

Calculate how much you need

Before you price out siding with contractors, estimate how much you will need for your house.

Consumer Reports suggests multiplying the height times the width of each rectangular section of your house in feet, going by what you can measure from the ground, to determine their areas. Multiply the approximate height and width of gables and other triangular surfaces and divide each total by two. Then add all the totals. To allow for waste, don't subtract for doors, windows or other areas that won't be covered. Finally, divide the total square footage by 100 to estimate how many squares of siding you will need. A square represents 100 square feet. Knowing how much you need can save you money.

Vinyl siding can completely transform the look of a home and make it more energy efficient. Consumers who do their homework will get the best value for their investments.

HOW BUILDING PERMITS PROTECT HOMEOWNERS

You are thinking of making a major renovation to your home. Perhaps it's time to create that master bedroom suite you long have admired or install that wrap-around porch? What is the first thing that should be done before getting down to business?

The correct way to begin a home remodeling project is to obtain the necessary permits for the job. Many municipalities request individuals obtain permits for a range of work on homes or other structures, such as office buildings. Permits are generally required for all new construction as well as specific modifications that will affect structural, plumbing, mechanical, and electrical systems. It's important to check with the local building office prior to beginning work to see which permits you will need before the project can begin. Permits are necessary whether a homeowner is doing the work or hiring an outside contractor.

Due to the cost and time involved with securing permits, some homeowners skip this step so they can begin a project promptly. However, this can end up being a costly mistake. Permits might seem like a nuisance, but they actually protect homeowners in various ways.

Permits ensure safe workmanship. Permits provide a blueprint by which contractors and do-it-yourselfers must complete renovations. Because inspections will take place, there is no wiggle room. Shortcuts often translate into subpar work that may lead to malfunction and injury in the long run. Safeguarding against poor workmanship means homeowners can feel confident in the work being done.

Permits reduce the likelihood of costly mistakes

As inspectors go through their checklists, they may notice things that were done incorrectly and will offer advice about how to mend the problem before it becomes a larger headache. If left unchecked, an electrical error could lead to a fire or another dangerous situation. Repairs that are not structurally sound may pose problems or deteriorate more quickly than structures that are constructed correctly. Furthermore, catching improper technique early on eliminates having to tear down and redo work, which can be a costly and time-consuming endeavor.

Permits protect against fines. Sometimes work goes as planned even for homeowners who did not obtain the necessary permits. However, years later, when other work needs to be done, inspectors may discover homeowners never secured proper permits and inspections years earlier, leading to fines.

Furthermore, if work is done without a permit and an accident occurs, any damages or injuries may not be covered by a homeowner's insurance policy.

Permits are an important part of the home improvement process. Homeowners should not skirt the responsibility because the permit and inspection process is in place to provide protection to occupants.

Obituaries

Hannelore M Shabada (nee Denkhaus) – April 10, 1931 to April 18, 2019

Our beloved Hannelore ("Laura / Hanna") passed away at the age of 88 with her loving family at her side. Her memory will be cherished forever by her children and grandchildren Laura Karen Shabada and Rebecca, Greg; Peter Shabada (Susan) and Nicole, Rachel, Libby; Michael Shabada (Theresa) and Andrea (Ryan) Pirie, Ryan Shabada; Stan Shabada (Kathey) and Samantha (Anton) Nel, Kyle and Steven; and by her great-grandchildren Taylor Pirie, Eric Pirie and Oliver Shabada. She is survived by her siblings, Marianne Pinchbeck and Bob (Shirley) Denkhaus and many nieces and nephews.

She was predeceased by her husband William Shabada, son Darren, parents, Heinz and Johanna Denkhaus and sisters Wilma Nordlund, Hilda Cook and Helen McHarg.

Hannelore, the oldest of six siblings, grew up on a farm in the Heatherdown area and raised her family with her husband 4 miles north of Onoway. She was renowned for her garden and made the best bread in the world! If you have never tasted her baking, it is a shame. If you had, then you know it to be true.

She inherited a strong set of values from her parents who did much more than to merely survive in tough times. She loved good conversation, cleverly delivered a witty sense of humour and always knew how to empathetically listen. After her stroke she remained positive and found peace for herself and with God. She deeply loved all of her family and took special pride in her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

A celebration of Hannelore's life will be held at 2:00 pm on Friday, May 3, 2019 at the Serenity Funeral Home in the North Central Chapel in Edmonton (10129 Princess Elizabeth Avenue). In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the Winnifred Stewart Association or The Good Samaritan Society. (1) 30-01
