BLUE-GREEN ALGAE BLOOM ADVISORY ISSUED FOR BUCK LAKE

Submitted by Alberta Health Services

DRAYTON VALLEY – A blue-green algae (cyanobacteria) bloom has been identified in areas of Buck Lake. Residents living near the shores of this lake, as well as visitors to this lake, are advised to take the following precautions:

- Avoid all contact with blue-green algae (cyanobacteria) blooms. If contact occurs, wash with tap water as soon as possible.

- Do not swim or wade (or allow your pets to swim or wade) in any areas where blue-green algae (cyanobacteria) is visible.

- Do not feed whole fish or fish trimmings from this lake to your pets.

- Consider limiting human consumption of whole fish and fish trimmings from this lake, as it is known that fish may store toxins in their liver. (People can safely consume fish fillets from this lake).

As always, visitors and residents are reminded to never drink or cook with untreated water directly from any recreational body of water, including Buck Lake, at any time. Boiling of this water will not remove the toxins produced by blue-green algae. An alternate source of drinking water should also be provided for pets and livestock, while this advisory is active.

Blue-green algae is naturally occurring, and often becomes visible when weather conditions are calm.

Appearing like scum, grass clippings, fuzz or globs on the surface of water, blue-green algae can be blue-green, greenish-brown, brown, and/or pinkish-red, and often smell musty or grassy.

People who come in contact with visible blue-green algae or who ingest water containing blue-green algae may experience skin irritation, rash, sore throat, sore red eyes, swollen lips, fever, nausea and vomiting and/or diarrhea. Symptoms usually appear within one to three hours and resolve in one to two days. Symptoms in children are often more pronounced; however, all humans are at risk of these symptoms.

Weather and wind conditions can cause algae blooms to move from one location in the lake to another. As such, this advisory will remain in effect for Buck Lake, until further notice.

Please note that areas of Buck Lake in which the blue-green algae bloom is NOT visible can still be used for recreational purposes, even while this blue-green algae Health Advisory is in place.

If you suspect a problem related to blue-green algae or if you require further information on health concerns and blue-green algae, please call Health Link at 811. Additional information is also available online, at www.ahs.ca/bga.

INSPIRING STORIES TO SHARE: EDUCATOR LISL GUNDERMAN, Wildwood School, Wildwood

Submitted by Grande Yellowhead Public School Division

Grande Yellowhead Public School Division (GYPSD), her students, and the community of Wildwood have long recognized Lisl Gunderman as an excellent educator, but she is now officially a national one. The Right Honourable Julie Payette, Canada's 29th Governor General, recently presented Ms. Gunderman with one of six Governor General's History Awards for Excellence in Teaching, in a ceremony at Rideau Hall on January 28, 2019. Only 150 award recipients across Canada have received this prestigious award in the last 23 years.

Ms. Gunderman's innovative history project, created with Mother Earth's Children's Charter School (MECCS) teacher, Maxine Hildebrandt, aims to not only teach students about differing cultures, but also to inspire them to build deeper understandings of Canadian history and how communities can strengthen these rich connections. Ms. Gunderman and Ms. Hildebrandt connected at an outdoor education training camp in the summer of 2016, where they quickly discovered a mutual love and passion for history. The two kept in touch and developed a unique project in 2017 between Ms. Gunderman's Grade 4-5 class at GYPSD's Wildwood School, and Ms. Hildebrandt's Grade 3-4 class at MECCS in Warburg, Alberta. The project outlined an exchange of cultural diversity and family history between the two schools. Wildwood students exchanged their local community's farming, mining, and agricultural history with MECCS's students who in turn shared their Indigenous traditions and family teachings.

A $2,500 cultural exchange

grant from the Canadian Multicultural Foundation and the Alberta Teachers' Association helped expand their initiative to include four on-site field trips, and numerous literacy projects to explore topics on Indigenous story-telling, local traditions and land-based learning for their combined group of 40 students. All participants thoroughly enjoyed the program, but the 'wow' impact for Ms. Gunderman was the creation of the formula itself. "Maxine and I connected almost instantly at the summer workshop," stated Gunderman.

“The more we engaged, the more we wanted to bring our students together to learn about each other’s cultures and build relationships through our mutual love of cultural teachings. We quickly realized how both the sharing of Indigenous and non-Indigenous traditions and history could build powerful connections between our schools through the lens of storytelling and hands-on teachings.”

Storytelling is an important tool used to preserve cultural traditions, local customs, and maintain historical records for the benefit of current and future generations. And what better Canadian storyteller to enrich their program than award-winning Métis author, David Bouchard, who became an important collaborator on part of their project. Gunderman continued. “Our students were invited to participate at MECCS for David’s presentation on Indigenous stories and teachings. He spoke to the students about the value of stories and the importance of building relationships with each other. The day was very impactful for all of us.” Bouchard continued to be involved in their project, and helped all students understand that each of them had interesting and valuable family stories to share with each other.

Ms. Gunderman was speechless when informed that their project had won national recognition. The nomination involved an extensive application process that caused both teachers to deeply reflect on their work, guiding principles, pedagogy and assessment. It also inspired them to continue building connections between the two schools and future students.

She firmly believes the relationship piece between the many different participants solidified the success of the project. “What started off as a chance meeting between Maxine and myself has deepened into a friendship that I truly honour, and she has inspired me to seek other learning partnerships and cultural opportunities. Wildwood School continues to offer Cree classes, and many of my students have delved deeper into learning about local community and family history.”

Along with the teachers’ family members, Bouchard was also invited by Gunderman and Hildebrandt to join them in when they received their award at Rideau Hall in Ottawa.

Back in her classroom at Wildwood, Ms. Gunderman is looking forward to this year’s collaboration and new group of students, thanks to the continued support of her principal, James Randall, and Grande Yellowhead. “My first teaching position was at Wildwood School in 1992,” she noted. “You quickly learn that each class is unique and comes with its own story to share.”

Along with the national award, Ms. Gunderman and Ms. Hildebrandt will share a $2,500 cash prize, and an additional $500 will be given to each of their respective schools. Grande Yellowhead Public School Division is very proud of Ms. Gunderman and looks forward to her inspiring future generations of storytellers.

HOME CHILD CARE PROVIDER AND HOME SUPPORT WORKER

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

OTTAWA: Jim Eglinski, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, wishes to inform constituents that Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship is launching 2 new pilots that will help caregivers who come to this country make it their permanent home.

The Home Child Care Provider and Home Support Worker pilots will open for applications on June 18, 2019, replacing the expiring Caring for Children and Caring for People with High Medical Needs pilots.

Caregivers will now only receive a work permit if they have a job offer in Canada and meet standard criteria for economic immigration programs. Once working in Canada, caregivers will be able to begin gaining the required two years of Canadian work experience to apply for permanent residence.

Through these new pilots, caregivers will also benefit from:

- occupation-specific work permits, rather than employer-specific, to allow for a fast change of employers when necessary;

- open work permits and/or study permits for the caregivers' immediate family, to help families come to Canada together; and

- * a clear transition from temporary to permanent status, to ensure that once caregivers have met the work experience requirement, they will be able to become permanent residents quickly.

"This will provide caregivers from abroad and their families with a clear, direct pathway to permanent residence," concluded MP Eglinski.

The expiring pilots will close to new applications on June 18, 2019. Caregivers who have applied before this date will continue to have their applications processed through to a final decision.

UNCERTAINTY OVER EDUCATION BUDGET

Submitted by Grande Yellowhead Public School Division

June 29, 2019 - The Board of Trustees of Grande Yellowhead Public School Division has approved the 2019/20 School Year Budget in its June 19, 2019, Public

Board Meeting. The $60 million budget is built on a funding allocation model that distributes funds to schools based on the needs of all students, while demonstrating fiscal responsibility. The Division is projecting a deficit of $1.2 million in the 2019/20 school year.

“This is the first time that our board has had to approve a budget without receiving a funding assurance from the province for the upcoming school year,” explained Board Chair, B. Rosadiuk. “We have to make a number of assumptions due to this uncertainty and delay of the provincial budget.”

Some of the assumptions include the potential discontinuation of the Classroom Improvement Fund (CIF), a grant created in 2017 to hire more staff to improve classroom conditions, and the potential discontinuation of the School Nutrition Grant. The Division is also projecting a slight enrolment decline in the 2019/20 school year, which adds pressure on the revenue projections.

A number of cost pressures unfunded by the Funding Framework also contribute to the projected deficit, such as increasing standard costs of teaching and support staff, unfunded TEBA settlement cost and inflationary costs in various service areas.

Chair Rosadiuk continued. “Unfunded cost pressures and the funding uncertainty has also led the board to delay the renewal of some teaching contracts. However, we choose to remain optimistic and believe no drastic measures will be taken in the upcoming provincial budget. Any cuts to education funding will be extremely challenging for rural school boards like us.”

GOLFER'S GUIDE

ADJUSTING GOLF SWING GETS EASIER

Golfers rejoice! Those dreaded slices or hooks could become a thing of the distant past thanks to adjustable clubs and drivers. In addition to helping improve accuracy, adjustable clubs also lighten the load in your golf bag.

With a few twists of a wrench or even turning the shaft of the driver itself, golfers can adjust the face angle, loft and lie angle of the driver to hit the ball farther and straighter. Golfers can make small adjustments to create the right loft and improve distance without having to purchase a new club or visit a club fitter.

Many club manufacturers now offer adjustable drivers and other clubs. According to an informal poll on Golf.com, 34 percent of the 2,337 respondents owned an adjustable driver by the end of 2011. The ability to upgrade shafts has also become popular as golfers respond to what the pros are doing.

Adjustable golf clubs enable golfers to walk out onto the course with one driver and a few different shafts. With a couple of clicks from a wrench, a person can have an entirely new driver. That cuts down on the equipment that needs to be carried and can fine tune a golfer's accuracy. These high-tech clubs are corresponding to changes being made to golf balls. Engineers have reduced the spin on golf balls to help the balls travel farther. To do so, golf experts advise that the ball needs to be hit higher into the air. Adjustable drivers can give players the edge they need to produce the right height and trajectory.

According to data from golf club manufacturer TaylorMade, 70 percent of consumers who use the company's adjustable drivers adjust their club at least once to get the desired shot. Afterward, 10 to 15 percent of adjustable driver users report further adjustments as they become comfortable with the features.

Although golfers can now put adjustments into their own hands, it is still advisable to get a professional fitting regardless of which clubs are chosen. A certified club fitter can help a person sort through the myriad options available and make recommendations based on various factors, including the golf ball used.

Those who are not fans of adjustable drivers say that the adjustment mechanisms add weight to the drivers, which can compromise efficiency. However, that isn't stopping larger numbers of golf fans from taking adjustable drivers for a trial run in an effort to improve their game.

SUDOKU OF THE WEEK

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ANSWER:

3	9	4	7	2	8	6	5	1
5	8	2	3	9	1	4	8	7
1	8	7	5	6	4	3	2	9
2	4	8	9	3	7	1	6	5
6	7	3	1	5	2	9	4	8
9	5	1	8	4	6	7	3	2
4	2	5	6	1	9	8	7	3
7	1	6	2	8	3	5	9	4
8	3	9	4	7	5	2	1	6

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
