MIN IT TO WINUTE AT TIPPLE PARK MUSEUM

Submitted by Jakob Kubke, Tipple Park Museum

Wait a second. I mean, wait a minute. That title doesn't quite look right. Say it out loud 5 times. Yup, that's how we're avoiding copyright claims from the popular Guy Fieri-hosted TV show. Not really, but I thought it was funny.

No matter! This fall, once a month, come on out to Tipple Park Museum, 4:30 to 5:30pm, for some great minute to win it fun. Aimed at ages 7-14, prospective winners can come to race against the clock in various challenges. Their skills and minds will be stretched to the limit in activities such as

1. Keeping 3 balloons in the air at once

2. Moving a potato across the room with their nose only

3. Getting an orange inside a hoola hoop using only a banana on a string

These hilarious and often intense challenges will come in different formats, including attempting to finish in one minute and being the first to finish amongst a number of contestants.

It will appeal to the competitive and non-competitive person alike, and will be sure to draw some serious laughs from even the most serious sportsman!

As the fall continues, watch out for themed games to match the season -- flying on broomsticks, anyone?

2ND ANNUAL PUMPKIN FESTIVAL

Submitted by Tipple Park Museum

"Each year, the Great Pumpkin rises out of the pumpkin patch that he thinks is the most sincere. He's gotta pick this one. He's got to. I don't see how a pumpkin patch can be more sincere than this one. You can look around and there's not a sign of hypocrisy. Nothing but sincerity as far as the eye can see." -It's the great pumpkin Charlie Brown

JORE OF THE WEEK

Mrs Mollard had been giving her second-grade students a lesson in science. She had explained about magnets and showed how they would pick up nails and other bits of iron. Now it was question time, and Mrs Mollard asked, 'My name begins with the letter "M" and I pick up things. What am I?' Tim, a little boy in the front row proudly said, 'You're a mother!'

vest Festival.

Regardless of the early history, the supper became a regular early fall event, after the gardens were in and before severe winter. In an organized pot luck manner, residents would bring all manner of foods - root crops, pickles, meat, and cream, cream for whipping for the wonderful, glorious pies.

HARVEST SUPPER

The event has now grown to require both the Saturday and Sunday. On the Saturday, men from the community, christened by Denys Ambrose as the Magnolia Peelers, peel the potatoes, carrots, turnips etcetera for ease of cooking on the Sunday. A relatively new feature are door prizes, presented by the community and suppliers, such as SANG.

This year's supper is on September 29, starting at 5 o'clock.

FAIR NOTICE - VIOLENCE THREAT RISK ASSESSMENT

Parkland Submitted by School Division

September 11, 2019 - The goal of Violence/Threat Risk Assessment (VTRA) process is is that every incident of youth violence in our communities be addressed. VTRA is early intervention - which is quite possibly prevention.

The process is initiated and managed by school administrators who have received VTRA training from the Canadian Center for Threat Assessment and Trauma Response.

Duty to Report

There is zero tolerance for not responding. Prevention of youth violence is a community responsibility and it is everybody's duty to report. Under-reaction is epidemic and a chief factor of escalation from thought to action.

What is a Threat?

A threat is an expression of intent to do harm or act out violently against someone or something. Threats may be verbal, written, drawn, posted on the internet, or made by gesture. Threats must be taken seriously, investigated, and responded to. In a culture of responsible reporting, students need to believe that they will be believed when they confide; their identity will be kept confidential; their information will be acted upon promptly; and their concern will be investigated thoroughly.

Who is on a Threat Assessment Team?

Each threat assessment team is multi agency. The team may include school staff, psychologist, police, child protection agencies, community mental health workers, hospitals, probation/parole and other professionals.

What is the Main Purpose of a Threat Assessment?

• To ensure the safety of students. staff, parents, and others.

• To ensure a full understanding of the context of the threat.

• To begin to understand the factors that contribute to the threat maker's behaviour.

• To view the student as in need of intervention rather than to be disciplined.

• To be proactive in developing an intervention plan that addresses the emotional and physical safety of the threat maker. It may include disciplinary action but will include appropriate supports to aid the student in developing and using positive strategies.

· To promote the emotional and physical safety of all.

· To ensure all school and agency partners are working together with a common understanding and protocol.

What happens in a Student Threat Assessment?

All threat making behaviour by a student(s) shall be reported to the Principal who will activate the protocol for the initial response.

Once the team has been activated, interviews may be held with students, the threat maker(s), parents and staff to determine the level of risk and develop an appropriate response to the incident.

Intervention plans will be developed and shared with parents, staff, and students as required and as appropriate.

The Partners

Education partners are committed to creating and maintain school environments in which students, staff, parents and others feel safe. Parkland School Division, Evergreen Catholic Separate Regional Division, Living Waters Christian Academy, Mother Earth's Childrens' Charter School, St. Matthew Lutheran School, and Columbus Academy - Bosco Homes have taken a lead role as there is a direct application to the health and safety of the school environment.

A MESSAGE FROM MLA MARK SMITH: MORE POLICE RESOURCES FOR ALBERTANS

Submitted by MLA Mark Smith | Drayton Valley – Devon Constituency

The first duty of government is to protect the safety of law-abiding Albertans. After the NDP sat on their hands for four years as crime rates skyrocketed in many rural communities, Albertans gave the United Conservative Party a historic mandate to keep Albertans safe, secure and protected. Our government is committed to giving law enforcement the tools and resources necessary to ensure there is a sustainable reduction in crime and Albertans have confidence that their justice system will protect them, their loved ones and their property.

To ensure we have a law enforcement system that enhances public safety and emphasizes frontline policing, our government is fulfill-

Additional information is available in the VTRA Fair Notice and Practice Information Brochure, which can be found at https://www. psd70.ab.ca/documents/general/ VTRA_Brochure.pdf. ing our campaign promise to review how police are funded in Alberta. The current model has resulted in a shortage of policing services. We've been listening to Albertans, municipalities and others and are asking for feedback on a number of models on how police should be funded. To be clear, our goal is more police services. Any new funding model that would collect funds from municipalities would be reinvested in frontline policing, leading to an overall increase in funding for police services in Alberta. Unlike the carbon tax, this is not a cash grab. We are investing more in policing, not less.

Rural Albertans deserve better. That's why they elected a government that will ensure the justice system reflects the realities of rural Alberta. We are taking action, the Minister of Justice and Solicitor General is conducting the most comprehensive consultation on rural crime and rural policing in Alberta's history, traveling the province to hear from as many Albertans as possible to help ensure we have safer and more secure communities.

Ensuring Albertans feel – and are – safe and protected goes to the heart of who we are as a government. We want to make sure we fund law enforcement in a way that will enhance public safety for all Albertans and ensure we have more police in our communities.

KEY MESSAGES FROM GYPSD'S PUBLIC BOARD MEETING

Submitted by Grande Yellowhead Public School Division

On September 11, 2019, Grande Yellowhead Public School Division (GYPSD) held their Public Board Meeting. In attendance was Jessie Smeall - Alberta Teachers' Association (ATA), Cassie Kushniruk - The Weekly Anchor, and community members from Niton. Highlights from the Public Board Meeting:

• 2019 Kick Off was held August 28, 2019, at Parkland Composite High School. More than 600 staff across the Division were joined by the Board of Trustees and Superintendent of Schools, Carolyn Lewis. Joining in the festivities were MP Jim Eglinski, MLA Martin Long, Deputy Mayor Janet Wilkinson, Mayor Gerald Soroka, Councillor Trevor Bevan and CAO Mike Derricott. Elder Dorothy Courtereille began the celebrations with a blessing. Jody Urquhart was the keynote speaker to begin a day of professional learning opportunities offered to GYPSD staff. Feedback from GYPSD was exceptional as 95 per cent of staff rated the professional development a success.

• ATA President, Jessica Smeall discussed a letter campaign that will be implemented in the coming weeks asking teachers to write letters to their MLAs, parents and community members discussing class sizes, the composition of classes and instructional time. The purpose is to advocate to the Minister of Education on behalf of students. Superintendent Lewis suggested there be a focus on changing the funding formula for rural schools in Alberta. In addition, Board Chair Rosadiuk noted that GYPSD Trustees are tirelessly advocating for funding for rural schools and there will be more influence with a united front and momentum from the community.

• The Edson and District Recycling Society ran a recycling audit on Ecole Pine Grove Middle School in June 2018 and June 2019, where the results revealed a 90 per cent reduction in waste materials. An audit was also performed at Parkland Composite High School and Wildwood School with similar outcomes. École Pine Grove has been invited by the Recycling Council

This name change will be in effect immediately on all legal documentation moving forward, however, the Division will continue to display GYPSD on existing signage as well continue to use the word Public in the Division name as an identifier of Grande Yellowhead existing as a Public School Division.

• Correspondence from the Minister of Education, Adrianna La-Grange, revealed that the government will maintain funding of 15.5 million for the Alberta School Nutrition Program, matching the grant money from previous years. This initiative provides daily nutrition to more than 35,000 elementary students across the province.

Homeowners often take steps to winterize the interior of their homes in the weeks before winter's arrival, but such efforts should extend to the outside of a home as well.

Decks make for great gathering places when the weather permits. Decks are where many people spend their free time and eat their meals come spring and summer, when the temperatures climb and the sun sets well into the evening. But as summer turns to fall, homeowners must take measures to protect their decks from potentially harsh winter weather.

• Inspect the deck for problems. Decks tend to be used more often in summer than any other time of year. That makes fall and early winter an ideal time to inspect for wear and tear and any additional issues that may have cropped up throughout the summer. Damaged boards and loose handrails should be fixed before winter arrives, especially for homeowners who plan to use their decks in winter. Fixing such issues in winter and even into spring may be difficult thanks to harsh conditions, so make good use of the relatively calm autumn weather to fix any issues on the deck.

• Clear the deck of potted plants. Even homeowners who intend to use their decks in winter should remove potted plants from the deck in the fall. The home improvement experts at HGTV note that moisture can get trapped between deck boards and plastic, wood or ceramic containers in cold weather, and that can contribute to mildew, discoloration or decay.

• Store unnecessary furniture. Homeowners who like to sit on their decks in winter will no doubt want to leave some furniture out over the winter. But those with lots of furniture for entertaining guests can likely move the majority of that furniture into a garage or shed for the winter. HGTV notes that doing so will prevent the potential formation of blemishes on the deck that can result from inconsistent weathering.

• Remove snow, but do so carefully. Prolonged contact with snow and ice can damage a deck. As a result, homeowners should clear snow from their decks when accumulation is significant. HGTV recommends using a snow blower on the deck to avoid scarring. If a shovel must be used, push snow with the planks to reduce the risk of damaging the deck.

Homeowners who take steps to protect their decks throughout the winter months can ensure these popular areas are ready once entertaining season returns in the spring.

Visitors' impressions of a home are often dictated by the home's entryway. Must as one may judge a book by its cover, the same can be said about the impression that a front door and entryway can create, regardless of how accurate that impression is.

Making certain changes to an entryway can go a long way toward improving curb appeal. Entryways also can set the scene for a home's interior. Whether one chooses to be classic or bold, modern or traditional, there are various ways to quickly transform a home's entryway.

Bold front door color: Color can dramatically enhance an entryway. Painting an existing door or replacing it with a more vivid option can do the trick. The DIY Network says certain colors stand out as favorites. These include turquoise, yellow, red, indigo, orange, and black. The door color should complement the other shades of the home, such as those on siding and trim.

• Custom walkway: Guide guests right to the front door with an attractive (and safe) walkway. Stamped concrete or decorative paver blocks may fit the bill. This walkway can extend to the street or to the driveway. • Contain plants. Landscaping around the entryway should be neat and well-tended. Overgrown plants or shrubbery may give off an air of neglect. Container plants and carefully curated shrubs can create a neat and inviting aura.

• Highlight the address. Make sure the home can be found easily with bold and decorative house numbers. Consider two different address signs: one illuminated and easily viewed from the curb, and another closer to the front door.

• Utilize high-end materials. The relatively small area of real estate by the front door enables homeowners to splurge on more opulent materials that can really add a feeling of luxury. These can include colorful tiles, ornate planters, decorative wooden doors, or elaborate knobs and lighting fixtures.

• Add architectural details. Find out which architectural elements will meld with the style of the home and then incorporate them. Moldings, columns, shutters, and trim are areas to consider.

The entryway to a home garners a lot of attention. Homeowners can enhance their spaces with entryways that really make a statement.

TACKLE HOME MAINTENANCE PROJECTS TO SAVE MONEY

Much like the upkeep on your car, tackling home maintenance on a regular basis will prevent problems from developing and save you from larger repair costs down the road. Some projects should be left to the professionals, but there are plenty of weekend jobs that any homeowner can easily handle, like these:

Inspect your roof and make minor repairs. Winter can be especially hard on a roof. Look for ice, hail or water damage. Replace any cracked or missing shingles and clear any debris.

Clean your gutters. It's not glamorous work, but your home's gutters play an essential role in moving water away from your home and preventing damage. Consider installing gutter guards to ensure your gutters remain functional and free from debris.

Inspect windows and doors and re-caulk where necessary. Because a proper seal is essential in both heating and cooling seasons, this job should be performed twice a year to protect against drafts and moisture, and to keep insects out. Worn weather stripping should also be replaced.

Check your insulation. Attics should be insulated to R50, which can usually be achieved with an insulation depth of at least 16 inches. Top up with an insulation product that is water repellant and fire resistant, like Roxul Comfortbatt. Don't forget to ensure that your basement headers are insulated properly to prevent overworking your furnace and air conditioner.

Other simple jobs include fixing leaky faucets, repairing and resealing decks, inspecting the foundation and scheduling a check-up for your HVAC system. The key is being honest about what you can handle and, when in doubt, call in the pros.

Few things elicit fear in the minds of homeowners like termites. Termites are voracious and can turn wood to pulp wherever they take up residence. Termites have felled massive trees, but they also can bore through the wood in homes, wreaking havoc as they go.

Ants and termites can look similar, so homeowners who suspect they have a termite infestation should learn to distinguish one from the other. A close look at termites can make it easy to identify them. Unlike ants, termites have no "waist;" their bodies are more rectangular. A termite also has straight, beaded antenna, while an ant's antennae are bent or elbowed. Termite wings are equal in size, uniform in shape and much longer than their bodies. Ants have a reddish hue, while termites are creamy white.

Prevention is always preferable to having to treat termites after they are established. Termite Web, a site devoted to termite information, states that treating home foundations and surrounding soil with termite spray is often the best course of action to stop subterranean termites from taking hold. If termites are already present, drilling into the floor surrounding the building and using a termiticide may be necessary. Baiting termites outside with wood that is tainted with slow-acting insecticide can eliminate an entire colony in one to four months.

Termite control methods may need to be repeated. A multipronged approach using different chemicals may be necessary to kill existing insects and repel further infestations. Trial and error can help homeowners rid their spaces of termites so that they can repair damaged wood and ensure structures are sound.

Design trends come and go, but some have a funny way of resurfacing years after they first became popular. Homeowners who may have been considering renovating their home to remove a design element they believe to be passé might want to see if that feature has experienced a resurgence in popularity. In fact, one of the more derided home decor trends of yesteryear has slowly crept back into style, albeit in moderation.

Wood paneling is back and better than ever, advise many design professionals. It's the formerly ugly duckling that filled homes starting in the 1950s, creating drab dens and faux-wood family rooms.

Paneling had long been an element of choice because it is relatively easy to install and can camouflage problem walls in a home, like those covered in boisterous wallpaper prints.

Wood paneling reach the peak of its popularity in the 1970s, and since then homeowners have been tearing down these faux offenders for years or masking them in paint to brighten up spaces. However, the experts at Apartment Therapy report that wood paneling in shades of brown are making a comeback in cozy spots such as dens or studies. The warm tones of wood paneling elicit a retro vibe. But unlike their fake predecessors, today's paneled walls are being outfitted in real wood, making them more eco-friendly and stylish than ever before.

Designers have flocked to reclaimed wood and veneer panelings to incorporate them into design elements. And while wood paneling used to be hung vertically, designers now experiment with hanging paneling.

Many people no longer use paneling to cover an entire space. Paneling is used sparingly as an accent wall or another feature for character. Wood walls can be stained in a rich mahogany to look upscale or be weathered and rustic.

Homeowners ready to re-embrace wood paneling can choose to enhance one wall in a room. Think about the space above a fireplace or a strip of wall behind a sitting chair and side table. Paneling also can serve as a headboard behind a bed in a master suite. Painted horizonally, paneling can add dimension and texture to walls, even in a bathroom.

Wood paneling is slowly making a comeback, proving that no design trend every truly goes away.

Tackling any renovation project is an exercise in patience. Renovations can impede on daily activities and cause a certain level of upheaval in homeowners' lives. Homeowners planning renovations also may find that they must have some wiggle room when it comes to both their budgets and their expectations. Remodeling, particularly with regard to older homes, may unveil unforeseen issues that only arise in the face of the renovation.

So what can homeowners expect during a renovation? The following are a few issues that might arise during home improvement projects. • Dirt and noise: Homeowners can count on dust, debris and noise throughout the renovation process. Dust appears when walls come down or go up, and construction teams typically erect temporary walls or tarps to contain the debris. Air filtering systems also can limit dust particles. Noise is unavoidable. If it becomes troublesome, arrange to be outside of the home when the bulk of the construction is taking place.

• Delays or schedule changes: Even the best contractors cannot control every aspect of the job. They rely on subcontractors and vendors to do portions of the work. Materials may not always arrive on time, or they may fall short of homeowners' expectations. This can push back the project schedule. Homeowners should hope for everything to be done on time, but it can be less stressful if homeowners anticipate delays and be a pleasant surprise if there are no delays.

• Hidden issues: Contractors may uncover all sorts of issues that need to be addressed before a project can progress. Examples include the presence of asbestos (common in older homes), plumbing problems, incorrectly wired electrical systems, and leaks or moisture issues. These problems also can impact the cost of the project, so set aside some money in the budget for unforeseen expenses. Chances are you are going to need some extra money to handle a few surprises during the project.

it's important to expect the unexpected when embarking on home renovations. Budgeting for hidden costs, expecting delays and coping with the upheaval to daily schedules are par for the remodeling course. However, the end result is often well worth the time and effort.

REMINDERS ON REGISTERING FOR THE FEDERAL ELECTION

Submitted by Elections Canada

To vote in the federal election, eligible electors must be registered at their current address. Elections Canada will mail a voter information card to all registered electors. The vast majority of electors is already correctly registered and will receive a voter information card in the mail by October 3rd.

Electors can use Elections Canada's Online Voter Registration Service to register, check their voter registration, or update their address. They can also visit their local Elections Canada office or call 1-800-463-6868 to register or make changes to their voter information.

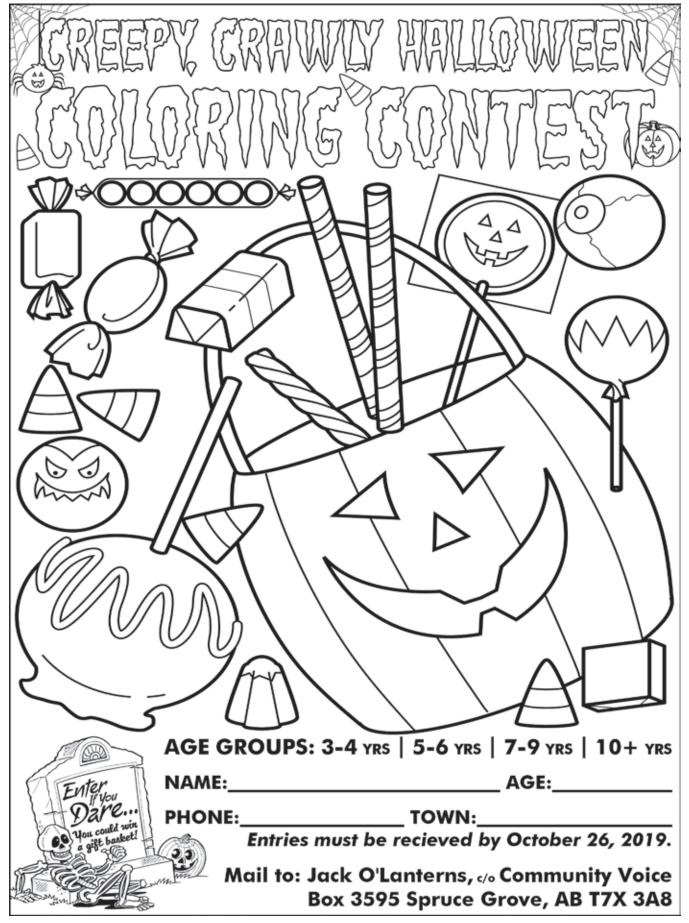

Starting this week, Elections Canada agents will reach out to voters in certain areas such as new residential developments, high-mobility areas and long-term care facilities, to offer voter registration services. These agents will be located at public registration desks, and, in some circumstances, may even visit electors door to door.

"By registering, checking and updating your information, you are making sure that you will get a voter information card. I encourage you to do so as early as possible. With your voter information card in hand, you can be confident that you have accurate voting information directly from Elections Canada," says Chief Electoral Officer Stéphane Perrault.

Elections Canada is an independent, non-partisan agency that reports directly to Parliament.

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
