TECK MINE PROJECT

Submitted by Gerald Soroka, MP for Yellowhead

OTTAWA: Gerald Soroka, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead and Deputy Shadow Minister for Natural Resources (Forestry and Mining), rose in the House of Commons to ask the government to stop dividing the country and approve the Teck mine project.

He continued, "since the Liberals were first elected, over $100 billion in energy projects have been lost, thousands of jobs are gone, and national unity is damaged. The failure to approve the Teck Mine would make this problem even worse."

In response, the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Economic Development and Official Languages said: "...we'll have a decision at the end of February 2020, Thank you."

COMMUNITY HUB IS ROLLING ALONG

Submitted by Jakob Kubke, Entwistle Public Library

In the deep and dark throes of winter, what do you long for most? For some kids in the area, I would argue it's a plunge in an outdoor pool on a summer day.

Lucky for them, the Entwistle Community Hub will be finished this summer, so this dream can be realized.

Being a truly community-centred hub, the public library will also make its home inside. I've been told that highups in the library world are discussing whether to have blast fans at the entrance to the library to make sure no books get wet from pool water. I'm not sure I believe that, however!

Featuring more square feet than the former library; a staff workroom; and a large adjacent multipurpose room, this library is surely a step up for the public, staff, and programming!

It will feature an in-the-wall fireplace, self-checkout (and no, it's not just a mirror), and fancy curvy shelving. This shelving is inspired by indepth research about book borrowers' brains. It aims to reduce the intimidation of endless long rows, and it gives more books a chance at getting some love.

Complete with a kids, teen, and adult area, as well as a quiet room, people from all walks of life will be satisfied. No matter your goal, whether that be ranking up in Roblox or writing a final exam, it can all be done at the same time!

Delayed by our miserable summer, workers are going full steam ahead, even in the cold weather. In January, concrete was poured, and a steel frame put up.

February 4, 2020

The plot of land has been a community space for many decades. According to the local history books, in the fall of 1923 the first Entwistle skating rink was built here. Eventually it was replaced by a curling rink and outdoor pool.

The library has had quite the history as well. It began in 1968, setting up in an old vacant post office. Next, when that was too small, it moved to a structure known in 1971 as the Hoople Hardware Building, which also housed the credit union and post office. The bank and library were in the same room, with just a few partitions. Bank and Library patrons would chat over top of these. The saying was that you could borrow a book and money at the same time! Already by 1972 prob-lems arose with this space. The building was so cold in the winter that volunteers worked while wearing their outdoor clothing. Oddly enough, the staff at Entwistle school can testify that I was doing the very same thing during the January deep freeze!

In 1973 the J. D. Read Memorial Building was finished. The library moved in, along with the post office and bank. Less than 24 hours before the opening, not a single book was moved. However, in just a few hours, fourteen students from the Entwistle Grade 8 class transported the entire collection.

In 2005 the library moved into Entwistle school and we are very thankful for their cooperation over the years.

Whenever it snowed on that first rink, skaters would pitch in with shovels and scrapers to clear it off. Thanks to the pitching in of Parkland County and Yellowhead County, and I'm sure too many names to count, our community hub will be finished before we know it. And who knows? Maybe the library will enlist any willing individuals to pitch in with moving our collection of 8,000 items. I'm looking at you, Gr. 8 class!

Stay tuned for more information on our social media as the building gets closer and closer to being finished.

HISTORIC INVESTMENT IN RURAL POLICING

Submitted by Government of Alberta

The Government of Alberta's new police funding model will inject more than $286 million over five years into frontline law enforcement for these additional RCMP officer and civilian positions. This new cost-sharing partnership will see small and rural communities begin to pay a portion of frontline policing costs, bringing them into line with larger communities and cities.

Under the cost-sharing terms in the Provincial Police Service Agreement (PPSA), Alberta pays 70 per cent of policing costs and the federal government covers the remaining 30 per cent. With the additional investment from municipalities, the federal share of the PPSA will increase as well. This partnership will constitute a total increase in rural police funding of more than $286 million over five years with every dollar of the additional funds invested in frontline policing.

The province is creating a new Alberta Police Advisory Board, where municipal leadership will have a seat at the table, working in collaboration with law enforcement to ensure local needs are heard and implemented. This new governance mechanism will ensure that policing is in line with the priorities of those they are protecting.

"Ensuring Albertans are safe, secure, and protected in their communities goes to the heart of who we are as a government. We want to ensure we fund law enforcement in an equitable and sustainable way that will ensure we have more police in our communities. With this new police funding model, we are making the single largest investment in rural policing since the March West and delivering on our promise to enhance public safety." - Doug Schweitzer, Minister of Justice and Solicitor General

positions in rural communities across the province and fostering new public safety partnership with municipalities.

"Crime affects many in my own rural community, and it is an issue that is incredibly personal to me. All Albertans deserve to feel safe in their own homes and confident that they will not fall victim to violent or property crime. This new police funding model will provide increased security and certainty for rural Albertans, and value for taxpayer dollars." - Jason Nixon, Minister of Environment and Parks

"The Government of Alberta has made an unprecedented investment in their police service, and we are ready to deliver on that commitment. The funding model announced will allow the Alberta RCMP to put additional resources where they are needed most immediately – on the frontline in your detachments, protecting your backyards and your farmyards, pushing back crime in a sophisticated and focused manner." - Curtis Zablocki, Deputy Commissioner, RCMP

"Rural Municipalities of Alberta appreciates the Government of Alberta's willingness to consult on this issue, and as a result of input from RMA and rural municipalities, implement a phased-in police costing model. Rural crime has been an ongoing issue in Alberta in recent years, and rural municipalities recognize they need to share in the costs of the solutions to support safer communities. Absorbing additional policing costs will be a significant challenge for rural municipalities given the current economic environment and RMA continues to be concerned about the use of equalized assessment in the calculations of amounts paid, however a reduction in the weighting of equalized assessment based on consultation is appreciated. RMA is looking forward to participating on the Alberta Police Advisory Board to inform how additional funding will be reinvested to improve service standards to the rural and remote municipalities and how municipalities can have increased local input into monitoring the service deliverables as compared to cost increases." - Al Kemmere, president, Rural Municipalities of Alberta

"AUMA has long advocated for a more equitable police-funding model to address RCMP vacancies and the rising costs of policing while improving community safety. We're pleased to see action on this critical priority by the provincial government, as safe and healthy municipalities build strong communities and a stronger Alberta. Further consultation is critical to supporting local governments with the policing resources they need, and we look forward to actively contributing to the Alberta Police Advisory Board." - Barry Morishita, president, Alberta Urban Municipalities Associa-

This partnership places priority on adding uniformed patrol officers in rural RCMP detachments, increasing the total number from under 1,600 to about 1,900, and will also add members to specialized RCMP units that dismantle organized crime and drug trafficking and investigate auto and scrap metal theft.

Furthermore, the new civilian positions will assist with administrative tasks and investigative support to increase response times and help ensure officers have the support network they need to protect Albertans by spending more time on roads and in communities.

Quick facts

- Small and rural communities, with some exceptions, will begin contributing a portion of their frontline policing costs in 2020. To give communities time to adjust, the new funding model is being phased in: communities will contribute 10 per cent of policing costs in 2020, followed by 15 per cent in 2021, 20 per cent in 2022 and 30 per cent in 2023.
- Policing costs for each community will be determined by municipal tax base (as measured by equalized assessment) and population to calculate a base cost. Communities will also be eligible for other subsidies that consider other factors that may affect local policing costs.

- Current annual PPSA amount, 2019-20 (prior to new police funding partnership): $374.8 million
- Government of Alberta contribution: $262.4 million
- Government of Canada contribution: $112.4 million
- Additional investments to current PPSA to April 1, 2024 will be: $286,605,021
- o Government of Alberta contribution: $200,623,515 o Government of Canada contribution: $85,981,506 All additional investments will go towards more frontline resources.

GUIDE TO A SUCCESSFUL DESTINATION WEDDING

magine reciting vows along the Mediterranean coast or amid pastel-hued homes and swaying palm trees. For the travel-inclined, destination weddings present the perfect opportunity to meld wedding and honeymoon all into one—with family and friends around to enjoy the magic.

The Knot Real Weddings Study, the largest survey of its kind, surveys thousands of American brides and grooms to determine the latest wedding trends. In its 2017 report, the Knot revealed 25 percent of weddings that took place that year were destination weddings. Couples are increasingly leaning on entertainment and personalization to create memorable experiences for their guests, and destination weddings are great ways to create those unique experiences.

While planning a wedding inevitably involves some obstacles and even some stress, planning a destination wedding presents a unique set of obstacles. Before couples commit to a destination wedding, it's important to first consider a few factors to ensure knots get tied without a hitch.

- Pick a meaningful location (but one that works for guests, too). Exchanging vows at a favorite hiking spot can give guests an inside view into what makes you tick as a couple, but the location of the ceremony should not come at the expense of practicality. Choose a locale that speaks to you but will also offer the convenience and amenities that work for the guests who will be traveling.
- See the place in person. If budget allows, book a trip to the intended destination to see the facilities and location, advise the experts at Brides magazine. Working with vendors in person also can simplify sorting out certain details.

- Send save-the-date cards promptly. Unlike traditional weddings in which reminders can be sent roughly six months before the wedding, save-the-date cards for destination weddings should be mailed at least nine months to a year in advance of the big day.
- Hire a professional. Professional wedding planners may prove invaluable when it comes to destination weddings. Rather than organizing everything on your own, you can hire a wedding planner to take care of itineraries, obtain information about necessary travel documents, coordinate with local vendors, and much

• Consider tourist seasons. Weather tends to be best during tourist seasons. Therefore, make sure to reserve hotel room blocks and venues promptly. Slightly before or after peak season may still be fine, but ensure that vendors will be available and look into weather trends carefully before choosing a date.

- Research the legality. According to The Knot, many countries have residency requirements, which means you must live in that country for a certain period of time before the ceremony. Factor this into budget and availability.
- Scale back on DIY. Handling many of the details while getting married close to home can be challenging, but doing so for a destination wedding can be difficult to organize. Scale back on DIY, leaving many of the details to the professionals.

Destination weddings require extra planning, but they can be memorable ways for couples to start their new life together.

Popular destination wedding locales

ouples are increasingly tying the knot in exotic locales.
According to The Knot 2017
Real Weddings Study, a survey of nearly 13,000 U.S. brides and grooms who married in 2017, 25 percent of weddings were destination weddings. While the survey did not ask participants who opted for destination weddings where they got hitched, The Knot notes that the following locales are some stunning places for couples to say their "I dos. Dominican Republic: Home to 800 miles of sandy beaches, the Dominican Republic features a host of all-inclusive resorts, many of which offer wedding packages. Couples who want to tie the knot under the warm sun need look no further than the Dominican Republic, which boasts average temperatures in the 70s and 80s year-round.

Costa Rica: A popular honeymoon destination, Costa Rica also makes a great place to host a tropical wedding. Couples can take advantage of stunning mountaintop views or enjoy their weddings on any of Costa Rica's many white sand beaches. Dense rain forests, numerous nature preserves and national parks make Costa Rica a great place for guests to explore, especially during the dry season between December and April (rain falls throughout the year on the Caribbean coast of Costa Rica).

Maine: Couples who want waterfront weddings with a little something different may want to consider Maine. Lighthouses might provide the perfect backdrop for couples' nuptials, and guests can indulge in fresh lobster and various outdoor activities. Maine's tourist season is July and August, but Maine's famous fall foliage can be used to create a beautiful look for couples who tie the knot in September.

Jackson Hole, Wyoming: Another destination that won't require couples or their guests to dust off their passports, Jackson Hole is nestled in the awe-inspiring Teton mountain range. Summer and early fall are the best times to tie the knot in Jackson Hole, which is home to numerous rustic ranches that can make for ideal wedding settings.

Ireland: Couples who don't mind a rain shower here or there may want to tie the knot in Ireland, where weather is usually most welcoming between May and September. Idyllic seaside villages dot the Irish landscape, as do rolling green hills and towering cliffs that can make for beautiful backdrops for wedding ceremonies. Castles can be found throughout Ireland, giving couples unique spaces to host their weddings and receptions.

TIPS FOR CHOOSING A WEDDING RECEPTION MENU

Weddings are memorable for a host of reasons. While couples remember their weddings because they mark the day they officially tied the knot, guests may remember weddings for other reasons, including the food served at the reception.

Some wedding venues are known for their stunning landscapes, while others build their reputations on unique interiors that provide unforgettable ambiance. But regardless of where weddings take place, guests are liable to discuss the food served at the reception. Guests might rave about the escargot or complain that the fish was flaky, but couples who choose reception menus wisely can go a long way toward ensuring there are more compliments than complaints once the dinner bell rings.

Don't zero in on specialties. According to The Knot 2017 Real Weddings Study, a survey of nearly 13,000 brides and grooms who tied the knot in 2017, the average wedding hosted 136 guests. While couples might be tempted by specialty dishes when choosing their wedding menus, couples who are hosting dozens, if not hundreds, of guests should keep things simple.

· Consider potential allergies. In regard to entrées, make sure guests with food allergies can choose something that won't make them sick. According to Food Allergy Research & Education®, an organization devoted to improving the quality of life of individuals with food allergies, some common foods cause the majority of allergic reactions. Peanuts, soy, sesame, and shellfish are among the most common food allergies, according to FARE®. FARE also notes that allergies to wheat, milk and eggs are common in children. While such foods can still be served at wedding receptions, make sure to also include foods that are unlikely to trigger allergic reactions. Couples can even ask guests to inform them of any food allergies.

 Don't hesitate to offer a favorite food. While specialty entrées might not be a great choice, especially at large receptions where lots of mouths must be fed, a couple who has a favorite food that's symbolic of their relationship should not hesitate to offer it during the cocktail hour. For example, a couple who met in Thailand may want to offer a favorite Thai dish.

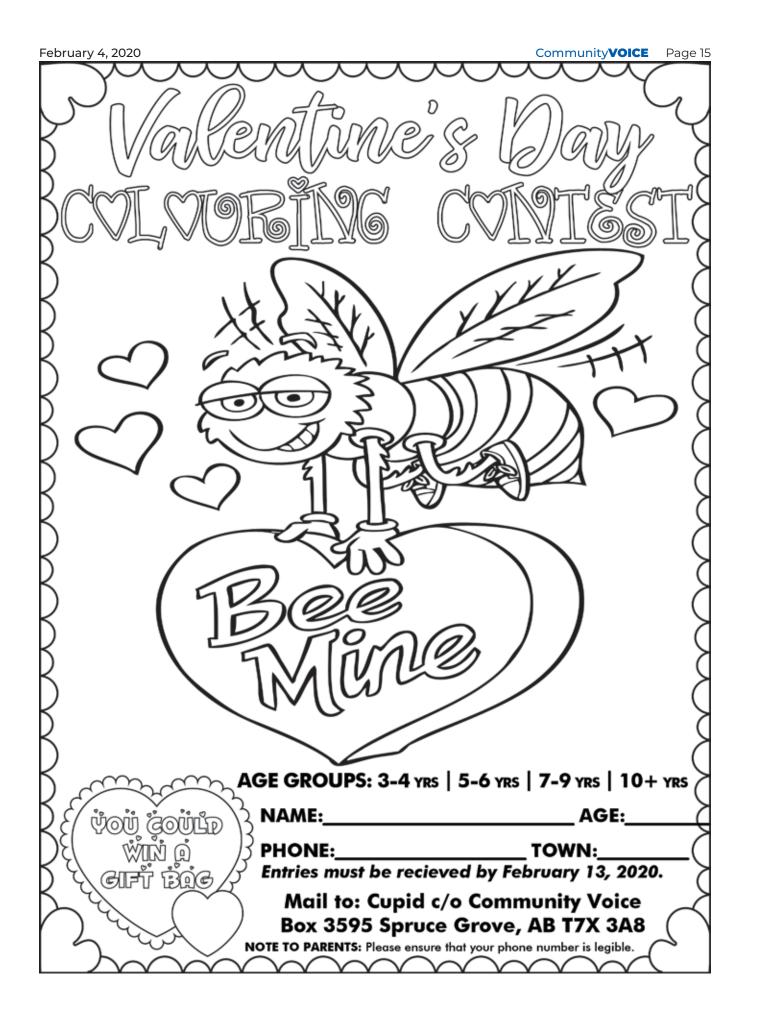

• Offer an elaborate dessert. The last bite guests will take is dessert, so couples who want their guests to go home raving about the food may want to offer something special after the entrées have been taken away. Some guests may not indulge, but those who do might end their nights thinking about the delicious dessert they enjoyed as the festivities drew to a close. If the dessert is especially unique, offer something more traditional alongside it for more hesitant guests.

Choosing a wedding menu should be fun. Menus should reflect not only couples' tastes but also include some popular foods so no one goes home hungry.

YELLOWHEAD COUNTY COUNCIL HIGHLIGHTS

Submitted by Yellowhead County

Evansburg Heritage House Previously, a representative of the Evansburg Seniors Society requested that Yellowhead County council consider assuming ownership and operation of the Evansburg Heritage House. Council recognized that the building (constructed in 1974) is facing issues and is reaching its end of life. Council has further discussed some other facilities in the hamlet that are facing similar issues, and concluded that a community facility review may be required in the near future to develop a long range plan for a replacement facility that would meet the needs of many user groups and the community at large. Council moved to notify the Evansburg Seniors Society that it will not be taking over the building as funds are not included in the 2020 budget for such an initiative.

Jasper National Park ICF -The Municipal Government Act requires municipalities that have a common boundary to create an Inter-municipal Collaboration Framework Agreement (ICF). Improvement District 12 (Jasper National Park) is a rural neighbour to Yellowhead County. Council provided three reading to bylaw 04.20, approving the ICF agreement with Jasper National Park. In essence the agreement states that the municipalities have not identified any shared services, and should some initiatives come forward in the future, one side would provide the other 90 days notification to engage in discussion and resolution of the initiative. The agreement also contains a dispute resolution process as required by legislation.

Mountain Pine Beetle Grant Funding – In early December, administration received a letter from Alberta Agriculture and Forestry stating that grant funding for combating Mountain Pine Beetle (of $332,000) would be denied and that the province was instead using all allocated Pine Beetle funds on crown land. Administration has since drafted a letter to Honourable Seamus O' Regan, Minister of Natural Resources, asking for federal funding to assist in the eradication efforts in Alberta for Mountain Pine Beetle. Administration will also forward a letter to the provincial government in regards to this issue. Council approved said letters.

FCSS Funding - With the new provincial government, the funding model for Family and Community Support Services (FCSS) has changed. For the county, this means a loss of funding of $123,975 specific to some children's programming. Following council direction, administration, in consultation with the FCSS Board, has realigned the children's program to provide a reduced but functional level within these new budgetary constraints. For example, administration will seek to transition the Kounty Kids Preschool program in Marlboro to a non-profit community based group that will be eligible for Preschool Grant funding to a maximum of $10,000 per school year. As well, administration will provide a scaled down version of summer programming without seasonal summer staff positions (making use exclusively of permanent staff). This still leaves a shortfall of $31,750, which administration will reallocate from the Parks and Recreation department's grant budget. Council moved to accept the realigned children's program service delivery model as described.

CN Crossing Upgrades – The county has received a Funded Crossing Warning System Modification Agreement from CN to add constant warning devices and gates to the crossings at Rosevear Road and Range Road 170 near Edson. The county, as the road authority, is responsible for the funding of upgrades to the crossing as deemed necessary by CN. At these crossings, the county is responsible for 12.5% of the costs of the work, amounting to $41,506.75 for Rosevear Road and $51,745.75 for the crossing of Range Road 170 near Edson. Council approved this agreement, allowing CN to move forward with the proposed upgrades.

Animal Regulation Bylaw 19.19 - Council approved second and third reading of Animal Control Bylaw 19.19. This bylaw adds clarity to what animals residents can possess, as well as types and amounts of animals, and limitations based on land size. In addition: Owners of dogs declared vicious may now appeal the decision to council; offences related to dog and cat defecation have been added; some specified penalties have been increased modestly to fall in line with other offences; and the Prohibited Animal Bylaw has been incorporated into this new bylaw.

Woodland County Joint IDP - Last December, Bill 25 (Red Tape Reduction Implementation Act) was approved by the province giving municipalities the option of not completing an Intermunicipal Development Plan (IDP) if both are in agreement. Administration has been in contact with Woodlands County's administration who are in agreement of not completing an IDP. On January 7, Woodland County Council defeated their Bylaw to adopt the IDP. Likewise, Yellowhead County council defeated second reading of Bylaw 20.19 to adopt the Woodland County/ Yellowhead County IDP, halting its adoption process.

The next Council Meeting is February 11, 2020. The next Governance & Priorities Committee Meeting is February 18, 2020. All meetings start at 9:30 a.m. in the Council Chambers.

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
