PUMPKIN FESTIVAL TIPPLE PARK MUSEUM CANCELLED

Submitted by Tipple Park Museum

"Each year, the Great Pumpkin rises out of the pumpkin patch that he thinks is the most sincere. He's gotta pick this one. He's got to. I don't see how a pumpkin patch can be more sincere than this one. You can look around and there's not a sign of hypocrisy. Nothing but sincerity as far as the eye can see."

It's the great pumpkin Charlie Brown

We are sad to inform you that this year's Pumpkin Festival at Tipple Park Museum Friday, October 8 from 5-8 pm is canceled due to new restrictions, the safety of others, and a board decision. Please stay tuned for our upcoming pumpkin series and Halloween fun in small group programming.

GRANDE YELLOWHEAD PUBLIC SCHOOL DIVISION GOOD NEWS STORY

Submitted by GYPSD

On March 10, 2021, the province announced that Grande Yellowhead Public School Division's number one priority on the Three-Year Capital Plan was approved for design funding to support the consolidation of three schools - Grand Trunk High School (GTHS), Evansview School in Evansburg, and Wildwood School in Wildwood - into one K - 12 school with a 500-student capacity at the current Grand Trunk High School site in Evansburg. GYPSD is working with Alberta Education and Alberta Infrastructure over the next few months to determine the full scope of the project, including the facility's design and funding to ensure that it meets the future learning needs of the communities of Wildwood and Evansburg.

On September 16, 2021, a School Visioning Workshop was a first step in the design process for the modernized K - 12 school.

The staff, students and families from the communities of Wildwood and Evansburg came together at GTHS to hear from Alberta Infrastructure on the modernization process and parameters of the project.

They also heard from Board Chair Brenda Rosadiuk who shared the Board's support for the community's goal of fundraising for a second gym, as provincial funding does not include a second gym in the budget.

Attendees were invited to identify their questions around the integration of younger students once the build is done and how current students at GTHS will be impacted during the construction phases over the next few years. Next, facilitators walked attendees through a series of questions focused on capturing everyone's 'dreams' for the modernized facility, including new spaces for teaching and learning, for collaboration, for common areas, spaces for new and exciting programs, and how the school could be used in the community during non-school hours. The evening provided a rich space for input, clarity on what is and is not viable within the government's framework for school capital projects, and the Lobstick community's plan for fundraising. Information about the project is available on the GYPSD's main webpage including a link to a survey for those unable to be present at the workshop on the 16th.

Anyone interested in joining the fundraising committee is invited to attend a meeting tomorrow, Tuesday, September 21st, at 4 pm, at Grand Trunk High School.

JOKE of the week

Two boys were arguing when the teacher entered the classroom. The teacher asked why are you arguing. One of the boys said, "We found a $10 bill and decided to give it to the person who tells the biggest lie."

The teacher said, "You should be ashamed of yourselves. When I was your age I didn't even know what a lie meant."

The two boys gave the $10 bill to the teacher.

TOWN ANNOUNCES NEW COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT PROJECT

Submitted by Town of Stony Plain

Construction for a new neighbourhood improvement project at the trailhead of the Brightbank Avenue and Oatway Drive intersection is slated to begin this week.

The project's scope includes the reconstruction of the asphalt trail, improvements to drainage in the area, the installation of a new community bulletin board, and a new functional sculpture by local artist Wendy Siebert.

"As part of the Town's Active Transportation Strategy, one of the main goals is to identify and prioritize local improvements that stimulate active growth within neighborhoods," says Manager of Engineering Brett Newstead. "This location is a significant social space for the neighbourhood and community. This project will help to improve the functionality and aesthetics for all those that use it." In addition to the trail improvement, the site is being redesigned to better accommodate drainage as well as place a community sign board, in line with the Signage Strategy.

"The new sculpture is being designed in a way that invites the community to engage with it and experience the different ways public art can function within a space," says Culture and Tourism Development Officer Chantelle Laberge. "As part of the Town's Arts, Culture and Heritage Action Plan, we want to create art that can be happened upon as residents are going about their daily routines- rather than placing such pieces at destinations -to better infuse art into our community."

"Creating more vibrant and accessible public spaces for our residents is a high priority for the Town. In addition to the improvements being made to infrastructure in the area, the new functional sculpture will contribute to making the space more engaging and inviting. I'm looking forward to walking the trail once the project is finished!" says Mayor William Choy.

Construction is anticipated to begin at the end of the week. Temporary fencing will be put up and detour signs will be installed along the walking trail.

RCMP HISTORICAL HOMICIDE UNIT SEEK PUBLIC ASSISTANCE REGARDING THE DISAPPEARANCE OF STEPHANIE STEWART

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

Hinton, Alta. – Today marks 15-years since the disappearance of Stephanie Stewart, while working at a wildfire lookout tower, where she was monitoring for potential wildfires near Hinton, Alta. When she didn't respond to a morning radio check-in on Aug. 26, 2006, coworkers contacted police to report her missing. Initially first responders thought Stephanie may have been a victim of a predatory animal attack. A conservation officer with Alberta Fish and Wildlife, also an expert in animal attacks, attended the scene and searched for some tell tale signs of an animal attack, such as animal hair, prints and scat.

Seniors are a vital part of our communities. As parents and grandparents, mentors and friends, employees and employers, they make a difference in our lives. It is important that we continue to recognize, celebrate and support seniors during the COVID-19 pandemic.

There are so many great opportunities to stay connected with the older adults in your life, say thank you, make sure they are safe, and see if they need anything. To stay connected safely:

- Make a phone or video call, email or send letters to check in
- Host a family dinner online
- Host a virtual games night with family and friends
- Write letters and send cards, drawings or photos to seniors in local continuing care facilities
- Arrange outdoor visits that observe physical distancing restrictions

To support the emotional, mental and physical well-being of older adults and to spread good cheer throughout your community:

- Offer to assist with grocery and prescription purchases – online or delivery
- Offer physically distanced yard cleaning for seniors
- Drop off gift baskets at senior's homes
- Volunteer with organizations that support seniors, like telephone check in program (NeighbourLink Friendly Caller Program with Yellowhead County)
- Share stories with seniors and learn about their life experiences and history.

Let's celebrate, support, and keep seniors safe while respecting public health measures in place.

An animal attack was quickly ruled out. Major Crime and Forensic Investigators examined the scene and determined Stephanie's disappearance was suspicious.

Alberta RCMP's Historical Homicide Unit (HHU) remains dedicated to this ongoing police investigation into Stephanie's disappearance. Alberta RCMP resources continue working in partnership with Alberta Agriculture and Forestry and civilian search and rescue teams in hopes of locating Stephanie and other missing persons. Investigators have nothing further to report at this time, however, RCMP believe there are people who know what happened to Stephanie and would like to speak with them.

HHU and Hinton RCMP are asking for the public's assistance to report any information in relation to this incident (or identifying those responsible). Please contact Hinton RCMP at 780-865-2455, or your local police.

PARKLAND RCMP RESPOND TO INJURY COLLISION INVOLVING SEMI-TRACTOR TANKER TRUCK

Submitted by Parkland RCMP

Parkland RCMP, Lac Ste. Anne County Fire Services, and Alberta Health Services attended the area of Hwy 43 and Hwy 33, Lac Ste. Anne County in response to a report of a two vehicle motor vehicle collision involving a panel van and a fuel tanker.

As a result of the collision the fuel was ignited causing a large fire that blocked traffic in all directions.

The fire crews were unable to extinguish the blaze due to the nature of the fuel. Traffic in the area was closed in all directions due to the size of the blaze.

Both drivers were treated on scene by Emergency Medical Services and transported to hospitals in Edmonton via ground ambulance. Details of the extent of their injuries are not known.

Lac Ste. Anne County Fire Services remained on scene to monitor the fire. EMCON is in the area conducting traffic and local detours.

Investigation is active and ongoing. Roads to remain closed at the discretion of Lac Ste. Anne Fire Services.

AB RCMP ADVISE OF CONCERNING TREND OF EXTORTION USING SOCIAL MEDIA

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

Alberta RCMP have received a number of reports throughout central and southern Alberta where social media platforms were used in an effort to extort money from individuals.

In a number of cases, the victims received friend requests from what has been typically a female, or other messages on Facebook, Snapchat, Instagram and/or on a dating application, that subsequently moved to direct messaging on various platforms. The victims involved have sent a nude image(s) and the suspect(s) subsequently made demands that the victim send them money or their image(s) will be sent out to all of their contacts, friends and/or family.

It is common for offenders to follow a victim's friends and family on social media platforms as a way to demonstrate they can follow through on threats to share the image(s) if the victim does not comply.

Beware that offenders are utilizing filters available on certain apps that allow them to appear younger than they are on images and also on live streams.

Prevention Tips:

- Do not accept friend from individuals who are unknown to you

- Do not send nude images
- Immediately stop all communication if someone is demanding money
- Do not comply with the threat and report to your local police
- Keep the correspondence

FIRST NEW TREATMENT FOR ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE APPROVED IN NEARLY TWO DECADES OFFERS HOPE FOR PEOPLE LIVING WITH DEMENTIA

Submitted by Alzheimer Society of Canada

The Alzheimer Society of Canada is hopeful about the U.S. Food and Drug Administration's (FDA) approval of aducanumab, a new treatment for Alzheimer's disease. This news represents an important step forward for people living with Alzheimer's disease. The FDA requires that Biogen complete an additional clinical trial to verify the drug's benefit. If the trial fails to verify the clinical benefit, the FDA may initiate proceedings to withdraw approval. For aducanumab to be available in Canada, the drug will require regulatory approval by Health Canada to ensure its safety and efficacy. The Alzheimer Society of Canada is urging Health Canada to complete its required reviews swiftly, while maintaining the highest safety standards, so that aducanumab can be made available as quickly as possible to people living with dementia in Canada.

While this approval is encouraging, aducanumab is not suitable for all people at all stages of dementia. The drug may slow the decline in cognitive skills and functional ability in people living with Mild Cognitive Impairment (MCI) or in the early stages of Alzheimer's disease. Aducanumab is reported to work by clearing harmful amyloid beta that builds up in the brain, which is thought to result in Alzheimer's disease.

The Alzheimer Society of Canada is committed to funding innovative dementia research focused on prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and finding cures for Alzheimer's disease and other dementias.

SEPTEMBER 2021

5 WAYS TO MAKE HOMES SAFER

Injuries that occur around the home contribute to millions of medical visits and tens of thousands of fatalities each year. Falls account for the largest percentage of home accidents, with the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reporting that around 30,000 fall-related fatalities occur each year in the United States. Many home accidents are entirely preventable when proper caution is exercised.

As homeowners prepare for home-improvement projects, improving safety inside and outside the home should be a priority.

1. Improve lighting

One of the easiest ways to reduce the risk of falls is to improve lighting around the home. The National Institutes of Health state that adequate lighting is important at entrances to the home, stairways, hallways, and other frequently traversed areas. Make sure lighting fixtures are using the highest wattage light bulb allowed. Artificial lighting sources become even more vital in fall and autumn, when natural light is less abundant in a home. In addition, install lighting outdoors by the front door, over the garage and where garbage pails are stored to facilitate safe passage.

2. Eliminate slick surfaces

Improving traction around the house also can minimize falls. Throw rugs and runners can be made more secure with nonslip rubber backings. Bath rugs can reduce slipping on wet surfaces in the bathroom. Also, nonslip mats can be used inside of showers and bathtubs.

Use shoe trays to reduce puddling from melting snow or rain runoff in entryways. Mop up spills quickly, and consider the use of matte- or textured-finished flooring to improve stability underfoot.

Promptly remove snow and ice from driveways and walkways. For those who live in cold climates, heated concrete can help melt precipitation before it accumulates.

3. Make needed repairs

Repair loose floorboards and pull carpet taut if it has started to stretch out.

ROOMS CAN SERVE DOUBLE DUTY

Many homes do not have space for guest rooms, kids' play areas and home theater lounges that are possible in homes with substantial square footage. But they may not be missing out at all.

While large homes remain popular, many people are embracing the benefits of smaller residences. Small homes help homeowners save money, require less maintenance, have smaller environmental impact, and reduce the temptation to accumulate "stuff."

Owners of small homes or apartments can still enjoy the benefits of larger spaces, they just need to equip rooms to perform double duty.

Living room/guest room
Entertaining guests is easier when there's a dedicated space where visitors can feel at home. When furnishing a living room, keep the guest room in mind. A sofa that opens up to a bed or a convertible sectional can be a comfortable place for guests to lay their heads. Side tables provide guests with places to store their belongings, and an empty storage chest can house bed linens or guests' clothing.

Den/playroom
Children tend to accumulate toys and games. And as kids grow from children to young adults, their list of must-have items - from video gaming systems to other electronics - grows along with them. Storage can make a room functional for both adults and children. Devote an entire wall to a closet or drawer system where toys can be stored out of sight when necessary. Storage ottomans can be used for extra seating while also providing somewhere for homeowners to stash stuffed animals or games for easy access. When choosing furniture, look for fabrics that are resistant to stains and modular pieces that can be moved around as necessary to create room for playing or entertaining.

Bedroom/home office
In 2015, 24 percent of employed people in the United States did some or all of their work at home, says the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Bringing work home means men and women will need a space to work. In tight quarters, bedrooms may be the only available area. An armoire-style desk will blend in with the decor and can hide paperwork and electronics behind doors. Otherwise, a makeup vanity can serve the dual purpose of providing a place to get ready for a night out and a ready space to house a laptop during the day.

In smaller homes, homeowners may be forced to turn rooms into dual purpose areas.

5 Ways To Make Homes Safer

Address cracks outdoors and ensure that patio stones, bricks and pavers are secure and level to reduce tripping hazards. Fix areas of the landscape where water may pool and freeze, creating potential hazards.

4. Declutter all spaces

Remove unnecessary items and furniture from rooms to free up more space to get around. Be sure there are no obstructions in walkways, entryways and near doors. Keep staircases clear at all times.

5. Invest in assistive devices

es

Handrails, grab bars, non-slip stair treads, and many other devices can make homes safer for people of all ages and abilities. Outfit cabinets and closets with organizers that put frequently used items within easy reach. A sturdy step stool can reduce the risk of injury while reaching for items stored on high shelves.

Taking measures to reduce the risk of falling around the home is a worthwhile home improvement project.

REPORTING THE LINK BETWEEN EXTREME WEATHER AND CLIMATE CHANGE

Submitted by Clean Energy Canada

Clean Energy Canada is a climate and clean energy program within the Morris J. Wosk Centre for Dialogue at Simon Fraser University. Through media briefs, we aim to provide journalists with useful factual and contextual information related to Canada's clean energy transition. Please use this as a resource, and let us know if there are any topics that you would like to see for future media briefs.

Over the last few years, record-breaking temperatures across Canada have been accompanied by unprecedented wildfire seasons and floods. And yesterday saw parts of B.C. hit over 46C, looking set to break all-time Canadian temperature records, with even hotter temperatures expected today. Meanwhile, B.C.'s 2017 and 2018 wildfire seasons were the worst two on record. Ottawa has experienced two one-in-100 year floods in only three years. While these events are indeed linked to climate change, media coverage of the events does not always make the connection.

Extreme weather attribution is a growing field of climate science, with an increasing number of studies dedicated to establishing the role that climate change plays in our changing weather patterns. It is now possible to attribute certain weather events to climate change with a reasonable degree of confidence, with one analysis suggesting 68% of all studied extreme weather events were made more likely by climate change.

While directly attributing extreme weather events to climate change is rarely possible, coverage of extreme weather events presents an important opportunity to educate the public about the relationship between extreme weather events and climate change, the field of attribution science, and conclusions that have been drawn regarding similar past weather events.

KEY FACTS

- According to the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, "it is very likely that heat waves will occur more often and last longer, and that extreme precipitation events will become more intense and frequent in many regions."

Wildfires: Several Canadian institutions have investigated the link between specific wildfire events and climate change and have established the following:

- The Fort McMurray fire was 1.5 to 6 times more likely because of climate change. Another study found that pressure vapour defects, which increased the fire risk, were made worse by climate change.

- The 2017 record-breaking B.C. wildfires were made 2 to 4 times more likely, while the area burned was 7 to 11 times bigger.

- The conditions that caused the devastating wildfires in southeastern Australia in late 2019 and early 2020 were made at least 30% more likely due to the effects of climate change.

Heatwaves: Heatwaves will become longer and more intense because of climate change:

- The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change indicates "it is virtually certain that there will be more frequent hot and fewer cold temperature extremes over most land areas on daily and seasonal timescales" and that "it is very likely that heat waves will occur with a higher frequency and longer duration."

- A new study found the 2018 northern hemisphere heatwave, which killed 74 people in Quebec, would have been "impossible" without climate change.

- Other studies say it's "very likely" that climate change contributed to temperature extremes observed since the mid-20th century.

- Another study found that extremely hot days occur five times more often when compared to pre-industrial times as a result of climate change (where an extremely hot day is a one-in-a-thousand day event under pre-industrial conditions).

- A rapid attribution analysis of the heatwave in Europe in June 2019, which saw temperatures of more than 45C in parts of France, found it was made five times more likely because of climate change.

Floods:

- 1-in-100-year flood events in Toronto and Montreal are expected to become 1-in-15 year events by the end of the century as a consequence of climate change, according to a study by scientists from Western University and the National Research Council of Canada.

- Research investigating the 2013 Alberta floods found that climate change may have led to an increased likelihood of extreme rainfall.

- Another Canadian study, looking at the extreme flooding in Saskatchewan and Manitoba in 2014, found that climate change may have played a role in the significant increase in rainfall.

- Another study found that extremely rainy days are 18% more likely now than they were in pre-industrial times as a result of climate change (where an extremely rainy day is a one-in-a-thousand day event under pre-industrial conditions). This is expected to climb to 65% if global warming reaches 2C.

ALBERTA RCMP AND ALBERTA SPCA SHARE SAFETY TIPS FOR DRIVING WITH PETS AS PASSENGERS

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

We know to buckle up when getting into a vehicle, but what about our four-legged friends? The Alberta RCMP and Alberta SPCA remind motorists that properly restraining pets while driving is important for both their safety and yours.

Improperly restrained animals can compromise the safe operation of a motor vehicle. If a pet-passenger is forcing a motorist to take their eyes off the road or hands off the wheel, they are a distraction to the driver and can warrant a fine. Earlier this summer, an Alberta RCMP Traffic member observed a vehicle stopped at a red light with a dog leaning out the driver-side window. When the light turned green, the driver used one hand to hold the dog and the other hand to steer while driving down the road at 60km/h in heavy traffic. Officers initiated a traffic stop and ensured the dog was properly secured in the vehicle. The driver was issued a $243 ticket for allowing an animal to impede the safe operation of a motor vehicle under Section 115(2)(i) of the Traffic Safety Act.

Not only can unrestrained animals be costly, but they can also be dangerous. In the event of motor vehicle collision, a pet can be thrown about a vehicle or ejected, causing serious harm to the animal as well as passengers. To maintain traffic safety for road users and their pets, the Alberta RCMP and Alberta SPCA recommend the following tips:

- Animals should be transported in a kennel or carrier placed in the back seat or cargo space of a vehicle. Ensure the kennel or carrier is secure so as not to move during travel (Edmonton Humane Society, 2021).

- Pets can be restrained using a harness fastened to a seat buckle in the back seat of a vehicle (Edmonton Humane Society, 2021). If an animal is secured in the bed of a truck, the harness should have a short enough tether to keep them away from the sides of the vehicle and eliminate the possibility of them jumping or falling out. (Alberta SPCA, 2021).

- Do not secure an animal by the neck or collar to a seatbelt (Edmonton Humane Society, 2021).

- Do not allow your pet to stick their head or legs outside of a vehicle window. Debris, wind, and sudden stops can all cause serious injury (Edmonton Humane Society, 2021).

In addition to properly restraining animals, owners are reminded that pets should not be left alone in a vehicle, especially during hot summer months. As we experienced record temperatures across the province during the recent heat wave, it is important that pet owners understand the dangers of leaving their animals unattended, even in a running vehicle.

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
