Papal Visit Highway Closures: Highways 16, 43 And 633

...Highway 633 will be closed.

When the Pope returns to Edmonton, eastbound Highway 633 to southbound Highway 43 and eastbound Highway 16 to Edmonton will be closed.

To accommodate the movement of guests to the event, closures and restricted access to Highways 16 and 633 can be expected on all range roads and township roads west of Highway 43 and east of Highway 765 south of Lac Ste. Anne.

Highway 633 between Highways 757 and 43 will be closed except for buses and local traffic.

Due to the high volume of traffic expected in the area on July 26, travelers can expect delays on Highway 16 west of the City of Edmonton to Highway 757 and should plan ahead and consider alternate routes if possible.

JOKE of the week

I went to a party last night...

...and everyone was watching a movie on the TV. I being introverted, hadn't talked with anyone and was watching movie by myself. When the movie ended, everyone was debating on what to watch next. I decided to put on the movie I had brought from home. It was pretty funny and had Jim Carrey in it. Everyone really liked it. People started talking to me and thanking me for the movie. No one cared who I was until I put on The Mask.

PICKING A LEADER

Submitted by MLA Shane Geston

I'm a bit of an enigma apparently when it comes to politics. This is in reference to my reasons for running in the first place, my previous background, and how I currently conduct business as an MLA. Many folks in the political arena have a tough time nailing me down, which makes some nervous, and others just plain confused. I never ran for the fame, the money, the stature; I didn't have a dream to become a politician, never had any real political ties or knew anyone involved in politics. I follow the guidelines of caucus, I'm a team player, but never at the expense of my own ethics, morals, principals, nor against the best interest of the folks I represent. I do my best to represent all the folks in my constituency, including the ones that didn't vote, or voted against me.

So when I recently gave my endorsement of a leadership candidate in the UCP race, a few folks started scratching their heads. A large number of others are asking my opinions of the other candidates, and again are confused when I'm advising that there are a lot of good ones to choose from - soft support as it were. When asked about one in particular from up north who was another Ottawa politician I prefer not to comment at all, "If you can't say anything nice, don't say anything at all" as my grandma used to tell her grandkids. I wish I heeded her advice on more than one occasion and am doing my best in this circumstance. Again, as there have been a large number of inquiries, I thought I'd share my thought process, as well as the 6 leadership attributes that I believe would be in the best interest of not only our area, but across the province.

1. Trust: It should be no surprise that this one is at the top of the list for me, as it is with many out here in God's Country. The Navy Seals put "Trust" as one of the absolute top items when it comes to their candidate selection to be part of that elite team. The organization can make up with training of other key items, to cover lack of experience or competencies, but you simply cannot sacrifice trustworthiness. Your team must be able to trust you in all things, and you must be able to trust them, to be able to depend on them, to predict what they will do, that they will not let you down when things get rough.

2. Integrity: Doing the right thing, because it's the right thing to do is way easier when things are going well. Not being influenced by outside pressures, media, special interest groups, and lobby groups really tests a person. Especially when all seems to be going to hell in a hand basket. Doing the right thing even...

...though it is sometimes the painful thing, and knowing you will take a beating for it...well that takes someone who not only has leadership abilities, but who also has a full helping of integrity.

3. Respect: It is often said that respect is earned not demanded, and when given it is more likely to be reciprocated. I find that when someone is trustworthy, it is way easier to give and receive respect. Even the most ardent opponent can still respect the person that they are competing with; listening to other viewpoints and taking the time for thoughtful consideration. Being respectful is not a sign of weakness, it's a sign of maturity and competency.

4. Confidence: A good leader should be confident, not only in themselves, but in other and in the vision or direction they are taking the team. If the leader is confident in their abilities, they will teach others, they will build a team, they will be open to new ideas, and they will empower team members to achieve the goal and objectives.

5. Professionalism: In political leadership, from what I've seen over the years, far too many everyday principles have been compromised in the name of politics itself; political theatre and the media have taken away a lot of government professionalism. Carrying out business, communications, and managing the team in a professional manner is no easy task day in and day out. However, when it is done in this manner consistently, the best outcomes are achieved. People can respect a professional leader.

6. Competency: It's been said that we can all only rise to the level of our own incompetency. When it comes to elected leaders, well, I'd suggest that there are definite exceptions to the rule, and we all pay dearly for that. Sometimes for generations. I only need to point out a particular black face painting drama teacher, with little to no real-life experience that has risen into the highest seat of power at the federal level of government. Real world experience and competency counts when it comes to leadership. Having someone tell you what you want to hear rather than what you need to know does not contribute to competency. Having someone who is "Battle Tested" as it were gives more credence than those who may have been armchair quarterbacks, or who cast stones from the sidelines. After all, driving the car is far more difficult than being the back seat driver with no real driving experience.

It's with these basic principles in mind, and many more nuances than a simple article would allow, that I have chosen to endorse Travis Toews as the person who...

...I think would make a great choice not only to lead the party that I'm part of, but to lead our province as the Premier. He's the real deal: he is just as comfortable in boots and blue jeans on a horse working cattle, as he is in the boardroom with a shirt and tie crunching the numbers.

I've seen him have the hard conversations, he's changed tactics when needed, and explained it well when it wasn't the best course of action. He has also taken responsibility if things didn't work out, but for him, and thankfully for us, this has been a rare occasion.

His door has always been open, and he has never delayed on an item of importance. He has held his ground on more than one occasion when it would have been easier for him to relent. I trust and respect him not just for what he says but for what he has done, and consistently over the last three years, he has delivered in an extremely challenging environment without any major blowouts. He is a team player and believes in being less so that others can be more. He believes in empowering his team, expects a high level of performance, and for goals and objectives to be met. I've seen this demonstrated many times.

Ultimately a leadership race is an opportunity for the members to decide who best represents them. As a member I only have one vote as well. As an MLA of the government caucus, I'll need to be able to follow the leader that is chosen and continue to represent my constituency with professionalism and integrity. There is always a matter of compromise required in any organization, as well as a change of direction when "new management" takes control. I believe that the least amount of churn and disruption to a good organization is optimal, and in the case of a merged organization, the best leaders come from within, not from outside or from the old legacy management teams.

To pick the new leader of the UCP, you need to be an active member before Aug 12. The big vote is on October 2, and party members will be picking the next premier of our province. Get to know the candidates, optimally by hearing them in person at an all candidates forum, or at one of their personal engagements, it's the best way to know who you are voting for, or voting against.

GOLFER'S GUIDE

9 WAYS TO IMPROVE YOUR GOLF GAME

Warmer weather sends scores of golfers to their favorite courses each and every day. Golf is a challenging pastime, but a few pointers can help golfers hone their short games, long games and everything in between.

- Choose the right clubs. There is more to selecting clubs than pulling any old iron out of your golf bag and whacking away. Wind, hazards and obstructions in landing areas should influence your decision of which club to use. Novice golfers may want to rely on their caddies to make club recommendations, and as they become more confident in their abilities they can start to make their own choices.

- Anchor your feet. Anchor your foot behind the ball to drive the ball further. Right-handed players will keep the right foot anchored, and lefties will do the opposite. Do not lift your foot prematurely; otherwise, you can lose power and distance.

- Identify your weaknesses. As with any hobby, identifying those areas that need the most work can help you become a better golfer. Keep track of each shot you take, and then look at the results to see which areas of your game need the most work.

- Fix your alignment. Align your shots by assessing the target from behind the ball. Then set the clubface behind the golf ball and align it with the target before you enter your stance.

- Use your torso for power. The torso is essential to a solid swing. Practice rotating from your core to control your backswing and then maintain the same spine angle and posture on the downswing.

- Use the wind. Not every golf game will be played in perfect weather. A good player knows how to make adjustments for the wind depending on the shot. Use the wind to your advantage when you can, and adjust your swing when hitting into the wind.

- Become a better

chipper. Many players put so much emphasis on their backswings and putt shots that they fail to devote any practice to chips. All shots are important for golfers trying to shed strokes off of their scores.

- Keep fit. Maintaining or improving your physical strength and overall health can help your golf game. Exercise and eat right, and you will have more endurance on the links.

ARTICLE BY MARK SMITH- MLA

Submitted by MLA Smith

Job numbers are continuing to soar in Alberta.

According to Statistics Canada's latest labour force survey, Alberta created 2,000 new jobs this past June, marking eight consecutive months of provincial job gains. In total, Alberta has now created over 200,000 jobs since 2021, meaning we have officially undone the damage caused by the Notley NDP's job-killing policies.

Alberta is embarking on another economic boom, one that is more diverse and resilient than any boom we have ever seen before. Despite this, we know families are still struggling with high costs due to inflation right now. That is why your United Conservative government is taking immediate action to fight inflation and make life more affordable for everyday people.

Just this past week, we announced that we are extending the electricity rebate for an additional three months. The program will now provide $50 rebates for a total of six months, starting in July, to over 1.9 million homes, farms, and small businesses. In total, we will provide nearly $600 million in relief that will be applied directly onto bills, meaning there is no need to apply.

Our government also recently announced that we are extending the fuel tax cut on gasoline, diesel, and marked farm fuel until at least the end of September. We are also reinstating the Fuel Price Contingency Program for school authorities, providing $8.2 million in fuel cost relief to school boards for the current school year, and additional relief next school year if required.

More will need to be done to help working families cope with rising costs, but these are three immediate actions we are taking to make life more affordable at this important time in our economic recovery.

Alberta is in a strong position to help Alberta families fight inflation because our budget and our economy are in great shape. Alberta ended the 2021-22 fiscal year with a budget surplus of $3.9 billion, the first surplus our province has seen in seven years. Further, the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund grew to its highest net value in Alberta history – earning $1.95 billion in investments to bring the total value of the fund's investments to $20 billion.

Unlike the disastrous Notley NDP, who lost hundreds of thousands of jobs and billions of investment dollars, we are maintaining fiscal balance, paying down the debt, investing in the future, and getting Albertans back to work.

We know it is important that all Albertans share in this economic recovery. In addition to leading the country in labour participation rates, Alberta's unemployment rate for women has dropped to 3.5 per cent, the lowest it has been since 2014, when conservatives were last in government. This is great news for our province. Further, several government initiatives are working very well to spur job creation. The Alberta Jobs Now program, for instance, has already helped 12,440 Albertans get back to work.

In every corner of the province and in all sectors of the economy, optimism is growing for the future – and our government is working tirelessly to make sure Albertans are going back to work and participating in this newfound prosperity.

IS IT TIME FOR YOUR MAMMOGRAM?

Submitted by Alberta Health Services

Screen Test is coming to Stony Plain August 4 to 9, 2022, Enoch Cree Nation August 10 & 11, 2022 and Drayton Valley August 15 to 22, 2022

Thank you for supporting Screen Test over the past 30 years. It has been our pleasure bringing screening mammography to you. Together we are saving lives, one community at a time.

Screen Test is a free service provided by Alberta Health Services that offers screening mammograms. Our mobile screening units travel to 120 communities throughout Alberta to provide convenient access to breast cancer screening.

Having regular screening mammograms is the best way to find breast cancer early, before symptoms appear and when treatment may work better.

Who should have a screening mammogram?

If you're 50 to 74, you don't need a referral to have a mammogram. Make screening part of your regular health routine. Plan to have a mammogram every 2 years or as decided by you and your healthcare provider.

If you're 40 to 49 or over 75, discuss the risks and benefits of screening with your healthcare provider. You will need a referral if you're 40 to 49 and it's your first mammogram, or if you're over 75.

Call 1-800-667-0604 (toll-free) to book a mammogram with Screen Test.

Breast density scores are now included in your Screen Test result letter

Breast density is the amount of dense tissue compared to the amount of fat in a person's breasts. It can be harder to find cancer in dense breasts because this tissue appears white on a mammogram, the same colour as many kinds of breast cancer. It's common to have dense breast tissue.

Dense breasts are only one of many risk factors for breast cancer. Other factors, such as age and genetics, have a bigger impact on your overall risk. You can't tell how dense your breasts are by size, look or feel. The only way to find out is by having a mammogram.

Talk to your healthcare provider about your breast density score and your personal risk of breast cancer. Learn more about breast density on screeningforlife.ca.

Is it safe to go for screening mammograms during COVID-19?

Enhanced safety measures are in place to keep patients and staff safe and help prevent the spread of COVID-19. Details will be shared when you call to book your mammogram.

INCREASE IN THE OLD AGE SECURITY PENSION FOR SENIORS AGED 75 AND OLDER BEGINS NEXT WEEK

Submitted by Government of Canada

The Government of Canada is committed to supporting seniors after a lifetime of hard work. That's why the Government of Canada has taken historic measures to improve financial security for the oldest seniors.

Today, the Honourable Kamal Khera, Minister of Seniors, and the Honourable Pablo Rodriguez, Minister of Canadian Heritage and Quebec Lieutenant, announced that the Old Age Security (OAS) pension has permanently increased by 10% for seniors aged 75 and over. This means that full pensioners will get more than $800 extra over the first year.

This will be the first permanent increase to the OAS pension since 1973, other than adjustments due to inflation. It will strengthen the financial security of 3.3 million seniors. Eligible seniors will not have to take any action to receive this increase—their payments will be automatically increased.

This increase follows a one-time payment of $500 that the Government of Canada provided in August 2021 to seniors who were eligible for the OAS pension in June 2021 and born on or before June 30, 1947. The one-time payment was provided to help address the immediate needs of this group of seniors. Both measures were announced in Budget 2021.

These measures are part of broader work to support the financial security of seniors of all ages, including the following:

- restoring the age of eligibility for the OAS pension and the Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS) to 65 from 67;
- enhancing the Canada Pension Plan for future retirees;
- increasing the GIS for single seniors;
- raising the GIS earnings exemption; and
- amending the Old Age Security Act to exclude federal pandemic benefits from the calculation of income for GIS/Allowance purposes.

SUDOKU

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
