FALL FUN FOR ALL AGES AT ONOWAY MUSEUM

Submitted by Onoway Museum

It's that time again – time to see the straw flying through the air and the freshly threshed grain coming out of the chute.

Onoway and District Historical Guild is once again hosting the Fall Harvest Festival on September 17th from 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. Visit the Onoway Museum/Heritage Centre grounds to watch the hefty volunteers pitch bundles (grain grown on the Turnbull farm) into the threshing machine, then enjoy the other events – rope making, blacksmithing, horse-drawn hay wagon rides. Indoors in the museum you can learn how to make sauerkraut or watch a demo of beadwork on leather.

JOKE of the week

A man is driving down the road with twenty penguins in the back seat. The police stop him and say that he can't drive around with the penguins in the car and that he should take them to the zoo. The man agrees and drives off.

The next day, the same man is driving down the road with twenty penguins in the back again. He is stopped by the same police officer who says, "Hey! I thought I told you to take those to the zoo."

The man replies, "I did. Today, I'm taking them to the movies."

A wide variety of activities are planned for children – games, crafts, and races as well as building a birdhouse. New this year is horseback rides for children. An adult must accompany the child as they mount the horse then go for a ride around the grounds.

Owners of antique tractors, cars, trucks and equipment are invited to come along and show off their vehicles. Hamburgers, hotdogs and, of course, home-made pies will be available while enjoying entertainment by Onoway's own Todd Butler and illusionist

Kevin Henry.

The museum, as well as the UFA equipment shed, will be open for visitors. Knowledgeable volunteers will be available to answer your questions. A market with familiar vendors will be held in the Heritage Centre open area.

Admission is by donation at the gate. Public parking is available on the arena grounds and the school bus loop. Parking on the museum grounds is reserved for handicapped persons and seniors.

Bring family and friends and share in our fall fun!

Army Cadets Are Returning!

Hopefully that is behind us now as we are moving ahead with getting back to a normal routine, but still having SAFETY as our number one priority for everyone. Our program has been adjusted to allow us to be more flexible in planning the required training.

The army cadet program is FREE and is open to all youth between the ages of 12-18.

3053 (Lac Ste Anne) RCACC is based in Onoway but cover a large area of responsibility from Spruce Grove west to Darwell, north to Rich Valley and Calahoo. Our cadets come from many different areas and schools to form a proud unit.

We provide instruction in community service, citizenship, leadership, physical fitness training, map and compass, bushcraft, and marksmanship skills all in a Canadian military setting with drill and uniforms.

All youth and parents that are interested in the local army cadet program are encouraged to check us out any Wednesday evenings after 7pm in the ACC. We will gladly answer any questions and have registration forms available. Copies of birth certificates and health care will be required and we can photocopy these documents at our office.

Questions regarding the Canadian Cadet Movement can also be sent to 3053army@cadets.gc.ca

Looking forward to seeing all of our returning cadets, and new recruits as we plan for another year of training, comradeship, adventure and FUN!

LOCATION SKETCH

OK, so what all this fancy language means is that a landowner/developer has applied to the municipality to develop a campground and rezone SE 34-55-01 W5M from Agricultural '1' (AG1) District under Bylaw #22-2017 to Direct Control (DC) Land Use District and to adopt a formal plan known as the Hummocky RV Resort Area Structure Plan.

Before this can happen, a bylaw must be drafted, and a public hearing held first. The ad above is to let folks know about when and where the Public Hearing will take place.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Submitted by Terry Slemko

I was saddened to hear of the recent passing of Bob Lehman, an icon in this community and beyond. Throughout his life, Bob placed great importance on serving his community. He coached various sports, was involved with the curling rink, snowmobile club in Alberta Beach, and in local and provincial politics. He was a county councillor, a school board member and mayor of Val Quentin for 13 years. Bob was not averse to volunteering in any way he could.

In 1970, when the provincial government instituted an agricultural society – arena program, Bob was in his element. He formed a committee, meetings were held, a society was formed and a request was sent to the government. Approval was received to construct an arena (actually a swim-arena) in Onoway. No one worked harder than did Bob to see the project completed. Labourers and tradespeople were hired, materials ordered, and Bob's supervision of the project ensured it would be completed on time and on budget. The Onoway Arena is only a small part of Bob's legacy.

Thanks, Bob! May you forever rest in peace.

TAX RELIEF FOR PRAIRIE LIVESTOCK PRODUCERS FACING THE IMPACTS OF EXTREME WEATHER

Submitted by Government of Canada

Canadian farmers are directly impacted by climate change and its effects can be detrimental to sustaining operations. To provide assurance for producers as they make difficult herd management decisions, today the Minister of Agriculture and Agri-Food, the Honourable Marie-Claude Bibeau, announced an initial list of designated regions in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba where Livestock Tax Deferral has been authorized for 2022 due to extreme weather conditions.

The Livestock Tax Deferral provision allows livestock producers who are forced to sell a significant amount of their breeding herd due to drought or flooding to defer a portion of their income from sales until the following tax year. The income may be at least partially offset by the cost of reacquiring breeding animals, thereby reducing the potential tax burden associated with the original sale.

Eligible regions have been identified based on weather, climate and production data, in consultation with industry and provinces. The criteria for identifying regions for Livestock Tax Deferral includes forage shortfalls of 50 per cent or more caused by drought or excess moisture. The Government of Canada will continue to monitor conditions across the country to determine whether the addition of other regions throughout the year are required.

In addition to the Livestock Tax Deferral provision, producers have access to a comprehensive suite of Business Risk Management (BRM) programs to help them manage significant risks that threaten the viability of their farm and are beyond their capacity to manage. BRM programs are often the first line of support for producers facing disasters and farmers are encouraged to make use of these programs to protect their farming operations.

To help farm families succeed in a changing climate, the Government of Canada will continue to support farmers with the tools they need to get through the challenges of today, while working to build a sustainable future for the agriculture sector in Canada.

LEARN MORE ABOUT NEWBORN SCREENING IN ALBERTA

Submitted by Alberta Health Service

September is Newborn Screening Awareness Month in Alberta.

Are you a new or expecting parent? Newborn screening is an essential public health service that offers screening to all babies born or living in Alberta for serious but treatable conditions. Finding these conditions early means babies get the treatment they need when it can help them the most.

Your baby will have the opportunity to be screened before you're sent home from the hospital. You may also be given information on where to get screening done in the community. Screening is free, fast and safe, and it is done shortly after birth.

In Alberta, there are two parts to newborn screening: Blood spot screening (sometimes referred to as "heel poke") and hearing screening.

- Blood spot screening is provided by Alberta's Newborn Metabolic Screening (NMS) Program.

- Newborn hearing screening is provided by Alberta's Early Hearing Detection and Intervention (EHDI) Program and identifies if your baby has permanent hearing loss as early as possible.

HOW DOES SOLAR ELECTRICITY WORK?

Solar panels are seen more and more on roofs of residential homes and even some businesses. Due in part to more aggressive marketing by solar energy companies, as well as greater awareness by customers, solar energy has become increasingly popular in recent years.

The Solar Energy Industries Association reports that solar energy in the United States is booming. The association offers that, since the passage of The Solar Investment Tax Credit in 2006, solar has experienced a compound annual growth rate of more than 60 percent.

While many might assume that environmental preservation is the driving force behind the growing popularity of solar energy, it's actually the financial benefits of solar energy that are leading the way. One Block Off the Grid polled nearly 200 solar homeowners to learn more about their motivations for going solar. Roughly 75 percent would not have gone solar if there was no economic benefit to doing so. A number of people who have switched to solar say they are getting a high rate of return on the investment. The average electricity bill a person saw prior to solar energy hovered around $177 a month. After the conversion, bills were now as low as $55.

Those who are still pondering the decision to go solar may want to know more about how it works. Although the guidelines vary depending on location and the energy company issuing the bill, here are some of the basics.

Generating solar electricity

Solar electricity is generated through a process known as the photovoltaic effect. Sunlight shines on solar panels, which are mounted on the roof of the home or in another prominent location. Each panel typically has between

How Does Solar Electricity Work?

60 to 72 solar cells strung together. These photovoltaic cells use the irradiation in sunlight to stimulate the flow of electrons in the semiconductor material, which creates direct current, or DC, electricity. Systems that directly convert the DC to alternating current, or AC, the type of power voltage used in a house, do so by way of an inverter. The inverter feeds power to the circuit board.

Demand and excess

When the demand from a home or business is equal to the amount of solar power being generated, the system is working optimally. When solar power falls a bit short, grid power will make up the deficit. There's also the possibility that excess electricity will be produced.

In a grid connect system, certain areas may operate with a 1:1 net metering policy, states Solar Reviews, which offers consumer reviews of solar products. This means that the utility company will credit a homeowner 1 to 1 for every kilowatt hour produced in excess because the excess energy goes back into the grid system. This is called "back-feeding" the grid. It's handy for powering homes at night with standard electricity at no additional cost. If the production of kwhs exceeds what is purchased from the utility each year, some utility companies will continue to credit for the excess.

Solar electricity systems are changing the way people think about energy. With the financial motivation to do so, consumers who embrace solar energy are helping the environment while also saving money.

WEATHER EVERY STORM WITH CONCRETE WALLS

Now is the time to take a few precautionary steps toward the utmost security of your home and family in the event of extreme weather occurrences, say officials observing climate change. You may be doing so already, but recent survey findings show that most Americans are worried about the ability to cope with damage caused by severe wind, fire, and flooding. Safety is the main preoccupation, but so are the costs associated with destruction and loss.

"One answer that solves many issues is to opt for the strongest impact-resistant house available," says Keven Rector at Nudura, a leading name in building with insulated concrete forms. "This ICF method is an advanced departure from traditional wood framing - and our design is recognized to be even more efficient. At the construction site, these compact concrete forms interlock (like Lego) to build a rock solid envelope from 4 to 12 inches thick."

And, says Rector, this construction innovation gives homeowners far more for their investment, such as:

Walls to weather any storm - If high winds and fire are a concern, data shows that an ICF home delivers hurricane and tornado impact-resistance up 250 miles per hour - and the fire protection rating is up to four hours.

Energy bills with a smile - Concrete walls vastly reduce air infiltration as compared to wood walls, and that is the key to lower energy consumption. This saving is even more pronounced, says Rector, if builders use the most advanced ICFs available. The Nudura design, for instance, combines two panels of thick (EPS) foam with the structural strength and thermal mass of concrete. The resulting envelope produces an energy efficiency rating as high as R-50 (compared to an average R-20 in wood structures) saving you up to 50 percent on your utility bills.

Temperature consistency - The outside cold air easily travels through wood-framed walls, causing thermal bridging that produces drafts and chilly spots inside your home. Walls with a solid concrete core prevent thermal bridging so even temperatures result throughout the house.

Better, breathable air - Mold, mildew, and toxins associated with wood structures are also diminished.

Shut out the noise - Solid concrete is an effective sound barrier. It dampens sound vibrations from outside noise such as traffic, trains and neighborhood parties. This internal peace and quiet is a welcomed bonus.

Rock solid asset - It is generally expected that a stronger, safer, storm resistant, greener home - and one that is cost efficient with less maintenance and repair - will steadily increase in resale value.

HOW TO CLEAN AND MAINTAIN STAINLESS STEEL

No matter the style of a homeowner's kitchen, be it modern, traditional or farmhouse, stainless steel appliances can add a pop of shine and a touch of class. Proponents of stainless steel appliances note their easy maintenance, stylish look and durability. Plus, the neutral tone of stainless steel helps it blend in with just about any color palette.

Stainless steel is lauded for its strength and resistance to corrosion and rust. These attributes make it a popular choice in kitchens, where moisture is an issue. Although they are certainly durable choices, stainless steel appliances require maintenance to keep them looking and performing at their best. Considering that stainless steel also costs more than other finish options, taking the time to learn proper care can help protect homeowners' investments.

- Avoid chlorine bleach or other products containing chloride. Although stainless steel is highly resistant to corrosion, it is not completely impervious. Chlorine products can damage the surface of stainless steel appliances and stain them if the chlorine is left to sit.

- Do not use metal scourers or coarse abrasives on the stainless steel because such products may scratch the steel. Steel wool pads can leave behind a residue of small metal particles that may eventually rust.

- Baking soda mixed with a little dish soap can be used to remove some tough dirt and stains. Rinse well and towel dry to avoid streaking.

- Clean and wipe the steel in the direction of the "grain." Usually this means working from the top of the appliance and moving down toward the floor.

- Consult with the owner's manual before undertaking any maintenance or cleaning. The appliance may have a special coating over the stainless steel to help protect it, and it's best to know what you're dealing with before getting your hands dirty.

- If you will be trying a cleaning product or scouring method, always test it first in an inconspicuous spot to see if it is effective or harmful.

- Julien, a leader in commercial kitchen equipment, recommends applying cleansers with a soft cloth or sponge. Then wipe dry with a soft, clean cloth or allow to air dry.

Stainless steel remains a popular material in kitchens for sinks and appliances. With care, stainless steel can look like new for years to come.

ALBERTA RCMP URGES PARENTS TO BE MINDFUL OF PRIVACY RISKS ON SOCIAL MEDIA THIS BACK-TO-SCHOOL SEASON

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

This back-to-school season, the Alberta RCMP is reminding parents and guardians of the importance of online privacy, especially when it comes to sharing first-day photos of children.

As class comes into session, it is common to see photos of children posted to social media to commemorate the start of the school year. It has become increasingly common for parents to share images of their children alongside boards or placards outlining fun facts and personal details about them.

Information often includes the child's name, age, school, grade, favourite colour or activity, and more. While the intentions behind these images are innocent, posting these personal details to social media can risk the safety and privacy of our little ones.

The personal information often included in these photos can be used by individuals to identify, find, and build a false sense of trust or security with a child. A stranger could approach a youth, list their personal details, and claim they know their parents or are a trustworthy adult, when it is in fact untrue.

To avoid such risks, the Alberta RCMP encourages both parents and children to keep in mind the following safety tips:

Parents:

- Do not post images to social media that include the name of the school your child attends.
- Ensure photos are taken outside of undisclosed locations and do not include visible addresses, such as house numbers or street addresses.

- Avoid posting specific details about your child. Simply include a sign that reads something like "First Day of School" instead. Or keep these types of posters off the web entirely.

- If you are posting photos of children in general, ensure your online privacy settings are set to maximize security.

- Speak with children about online safety and have parental monitor software or ensure parental security settings are in place on their social media accounts.

- Have conversations with your kids about stranger danger and outline safety plans with them, i.e., establish safe words, identify trusted adults, etc.

Children:

- Do not give out

personal information online or share details including your last name, address, school, etc. on your social media profiles.

- Have a parent review photos or videos before posting them online.

- If you feel uncomfortable with online activity or interactions, or are unsure if they are safe, tell a parent or trusted adult.

"We want to ensure that the start of this school year is a safe one. By being aware of the photos and details we are posting online, we can reduce the risk of our children's personal details being used to exploit their safety and well-being," said Cst. Lauren Mowbray, Alberta RCMP. "Children look to us as adults to act in their best interest – both online and in their day-to-day lives."

PILOT PROJECT TO ALLOW BLUE LIGHTS ON TOW TRUCKS

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Tow truck operators will be allowed to use blue lights to increase their visibility and safety while working on Alberta highways.

Effective June 30, the one-year pilot project will allow the optional use of blue lights on tow trucks.

"I want to thank MLA

Brad Rutherford for advocating for this change in his Private Member's Bill 207. Too many tow truck drivers are involved in collisions or dangerous situations because motorists have difficulty seeing them while they're working. This pilot project is intended to increase safety for these operators and will help determine the best lighting for tow trucks in Alberta." Rajan Sawhney, Minister of Transportation

"I am extremely pleased to see that Minister Sawhney is acting on the concerns raised from the tow truck industry on the importance of blue lights, which I also brought forward in Private Member's Bill 207. This pilot project will be critical to enhancing roadside safety for not only tow truck operators but the Albertans they are helping. This issue has been supported by stakeholders in the transportation industry and I want to thank all parties involved for their tremendous effort and advocacy." Brad Rutherford, MLA for Leduc-Beaumont

Additional consideration is also being given to include snowplow operators in the pilot this fall.

"Every Albertan deserves to be safe at work, even if their office is at the side of the road. Today we affirm this point and we're grateful to the government for this announcement. This change is as simple as it is profound, and it will make a life-saving difference for Alberta's essential tow operators and the Albertans they're responding to." Michelle Chimko, president and CEO, Alberta Motor Association

"This is a huge step forward in making our industry safer for roadside assistance workers and the motoring public through increased visibility. The effectiveness of this change will be noticeable and will save Albertans' lives." Don Getschel, president, Towing & Recovery Association of Alberta and Oil Country Towing

These changes are in addition to new rules to protect highway workers under the Traffic Safety Amendment Act. Starting spring 2023, all motorists travelling in the same direction on multi-lane highways will need to slow down to at least 60 km/h and allow one lane of space, where possible, when passing stopped emergency vehicles, tow trucks and roadside workers' vehicles when their lights are flashing. Motorists travelling in both directions on single-lane highways will be required to slow down when passing roadside vehicles and workers.

NEW INFO TO BE ADDED TO FOOD LABELS

Submitted by Alberta Health Service

Sugar is a carbohydrate and is found naturally in fruits, vegetables, and dairy products. Sugar is also added to food and drinks to improve taste, texture or shelf life.

Too much sugar, however, can lead to dental cavities in children, and may lead to people eating more calories than we need.

To help you make lower sugar choices, look for a new front-of-package symbol that will appear on some packaged foods in Canada. Food companies have until 2026 to put a front-of-package label that will tell you if a food is high in sugar, sodium (salt), or saturated fat.

The new nutrition label will look like a black-and-white symbol of a magnifying glass and will be beside any ingredient the food is high in. This symbol can help you when you are grocery shopping, so you can choose foods that are low in sugar. Regular pop, candies, chocolates, frozen desserts, and baked goods add the most sugar to Canadians' diets.

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
