PLEASE PRACTICE FARM TRAFFIC SAFETY

Sharing the motorways this harvest season

With harvest in full swing, there is an increase of farming equipment on the region's roadways. When driving during harvest time, please remain mindful of the potential of meeting large agricultural machinery.

Keep your distance from farm equipment on roadways, drive the appropriate speed limit, and stick to your side of the road - especially on curves and hills.

Visit LSAC.ca/agriculture for more farm transport safety tips.

AN ONOWAY WEDDING THAT RECOGNIZES FAMILY HERITAGE

Submitted

A rather unique wedding took place at Onoway Heritage Centre recently. The bride, Salma Shahi, and her fiancé David Kirdeikis, chose to be married in Onoway although neither of them had lived in Onoway or had friends or relatives living there.

This decision was made to honor the memory of Salma's grandfather, Bakhshish Shahi. Mr. Shahi had come to Canada in 1962 from India to take a teaching position at Onoway Jr. Sr. High School and give his children a new and better life. His wife and four children stayed in India. The older daughter came in 1967 and taught at Onoway Elementary School. Mrs. Shahi and the three young children arrived in 1968 after he had purchased a home in Onoway and saved enough money to bring them over. Mr. Shahi taught Social Studies to grades 10, 11 and 12 until 1984 and was highly respected by students, staff and the community. The Shahi children attended school in Onoway and graduated here.

Onoway obviously played a big role in the Shahi family's life in Canada. After the children grew up and left home, they visited often and maintained contact with Mr. Shahi's colleagues. So when a wedding site was discussed, Salma and David agreed that it would be appropriate to take their marriage vows in the town (near the school) that had given Mr. Shahi and his family the life he had wished for.

ARTICLE FROM GETSON

Submitted by MLA Shane Getson

It's that time of year again; the leaves have turned color (let's hope they cling to their respective branches as long as possible), most of the garden is out, the majority of the crops are off, and the kids have probably brought home a cold or flu bug to lovingly share with the rest of the family. Like many I'm hoping for a long warm fall. Last year was such a nice treat, one that I would love to repeat.

When you read this, we will officially have a new Premier of our province. I'm deep in the world of politics, and despite reaching my saturation point some time ago, I'm hopeful again. I've had the chance to catch up with many people over the summer and the early weeks of fall to find out what matters to folks, and to get feedback on how I'm doing so far as the MLA. I appreciate the interaction, and the honest feedback. Good, Bad, or Ugly, it all makes me better at what I do; and to know in my heart when I speak on your behalf in caucus, or in the chamber, that I'm providing the best perspective I can for the folks I represent. We go back into the house on October 31st and I would once again love some honest feedback and suggestions to share. You'll find an online survey on my website, and I will be dropping off paper questionnaires again at various local gathering spots.

Please take the time to fill them out and help keep me pointed in the right direction; it's a team effort to move the ball down field... so if you can, help me to help you and our community.

There have been several events I've attended over the last few weeks and again, certain themes keep coming to the forefront: logistics, economic corridors, and labor shortages. Regarding logistics, we can't get our products to market...there is literally a backlog in the supply chain not only from a local or interprovincial standpoint but globally. It has brought to light that our supply chains are far too thin, and far too reliant on other countries. Although we are in a rough patch right now in this regard, there is a massive opportunity to correct this issue, and become a stronger player for our region. When you have major trading partners that are keen to 'shop local', we need to adapt and make these deals. Trains, train cars, junior rail companies, and capacity partnerships are very much needed (and wanted) going forward. I believe our region is in a very strong position to fill the evident gap in supply chain and logistics.

I was pleased to be able to sit with the owner of Anohka Distillery near Carvel last week (if you've never been, you need to go!), so that he could educate me on the business of fine spirits, all the good things that are happening in the industry and, quite frankly, the gaps that can and should be filled. He holds degrees in both Physics and Law, and most recently a Masters of Science in Brewing and Distilling from Heriot Watt University in Edinburgh, Scotland. He understands the spirits industry. Earlier this year, his distillery won the award for the 'Best Canadian London Dry' at the World Gin Awards. Their whiskey is in the works and has also won an IWSC award, even before aging! Not bad for an Alberta upstart! As it turns out, Alberta has all the top-quality raw materials to make the absolute best products in the world. Even better, we have yet to develop the at home supply chain items we need, so there is a great opportunity for the local agriculture industry to adapt and grow. Developing agricultural sectors such as: barley, grain, peat moss (used for the smoking treatment of grains), as well as the apprenticeship opportunities that go along with these sectors presents a huge opportunity for Alberta. It's a 5-billion-dollar industry in Scotland alone, and we have an order of magnitude of natural resources that is far larger. We could not only supply local companies, but international ones as well.

Soon, our office will be trying our hand at a podcast so we can help share the success stories, opportunities, and challenges in our area. I'm looking forward to getting that up and running, and am open for suggestions, as I want it to be an open line for feedback and discussion.

Regarding the Firearm File, we are going to be helping with and hosting a couple of events to not only bring awareness to the community on firearms and provide education on the many different related sports and disciplines out there, but also to get folks together again. Our Zombie Shoot will be taking place on October 29 at the Canadian Historical Arms Society range, with a supper and silent auction to follow at the Genessee Hall. We only have capacity for 150 people at the range, so grab your tickets early when they become available. We will also be helping with an event in Ponoka at the arena to help bring awareness of the Mounted Shooters discipline and to let folks try their hand at it. It'll give folks the opportunity to be able to ride a horse and shoot balloons with old school western firearms. We will keep you posted on that as well.

Until next time, keep safe, keep an eye out for one another, and keep letting me know what matters to you.

Station 3 - Rich Valley FIRE DEPARTMENT

During Fire Prevention Week, we'd like to take a moment to thank our local firefighters for their hard work, bravery and dedication to saving lives. Follow these 9 tips to help protect yourself, your family and your property against fire hazards.

1. Install a fire alarm in every sleeping area and on every level of your home, and be sure to test alarms every month. Working smoke alarms reduce the risk of death in a home fire in half.
2. Check the manufacture date on the back of your home's smoke alarms. Smoke alarms should be replaced at least every 10 years! Batteries should be replaced every year.
3. Never leave burning candles unattended, and always keep matches and lighters out of reach from children.

4. Make a fire action plan, so every member of your household knows how to escape and where to meet outdoors.
5. Over half of home heating fire deaths are caused by equipment being placed too close to things that can burn. Make sure furniture, clothing, mattresses and bedding are at least three feet from heating sources.
6. Always turn off space heaters when you leave the room or go to sleep. Space heaters are the cause of about 79 percent of fatal home heating fires.

7. Remain in the kitchen when frying, grilling or broiling food. Turn off the stove whenever you leave the kitchen, and never leave home while food is cooking.
8. Inspect electrical cords regularly, and replace cords that are cracked or damaged or have broken plugs or loose connections.
9. In the event of a fire, crawl to safety. Use the back of your hand to see if a door is hot before opening it. If it feels hot, try to use another exit.

DANGER! GASOLINE

Gasoline can be more dangerous than dynamite since it emits invisible, explosive vapours that ignite easily, even at low temperatures.

- Never store gasoline in basements, pits or other confined areas. Gasoline must be stored in areas that are well ventilated, free from ignition sources & in areas permitted by the National Fire Code of Canada.
- Never smoke while you are handling gasoline or other flammable liquids
- Never use gasoline to start your BBQ or as a cleaner or solvent.

ENJOY A FRUGAL FALL ROAD TRIP

Road trips are a staple of autumn for many motorists. Fall foliage and moderate temperatures make the months of September and October ideal months to hit the open road for weekend getaways.

Fall road trips rarely take drivers too far away from home, but traveling can still be costly. Fortunately, there are many ways to make road trips more affordable without sacrificing fun.

· Explore alternatives to more traditional lodging. If your road trip includes an overnight stay, consider alternatives to traditional lodging. Hotels might stretch your budget, but depending on where you plan to go, you might have some less traditional alternatives. Airbnb.com allows homeowners and even some apartment dwellers to rent their homes and apartments to travelers, and these listings may pale in comparison to rates offered by nearby hotels. If weather permits, look for local campsites and spend your nights sleeping outdoors under the autumn stars. If you prefer hotels, look for deals on sites like Priceline.com or Hotwire.com, which may offer heavy discounts on rooms.

· Take steps to conserve fuel. Lodging might prove your biggest expense on a fall road trip, but fuel likely won't be too far behind. Drivers can cut fuel costs in several ways. Before beginning your trip, take your car in for a tuneup so any issues that might affect fuel efficiency are addressed before you hit the open road. Poorly inflated tires force the engine to work harder and burn more fuel, so make sure tire pressure matches the levels recommended in your owner's manual before embarking on your trip and even along the way if you feel your car is not running as smoothly as it could be. Another way to conserve fuel is to remove excess items from the trunk. If you don't plan to hit the links on your trip, leave your golf clubs at home.

· Plot your route. Spontaneity may make fall road trips more fun, but drivers looking to save money should plot their routes in advance so they can avoid potentially costly problems like detours or road work that can waste fuel and lead to hours sitting in traffic. Use a GPS device during your trip so you can be alerted to any unexpected developments that might cost you time and money. Plotting your route in advance also allows you to find affordable dining and lodging options and choose roads that don't require drivers to pay tolls.

- Invite some friends and family along. Inviting friends and family on a weekend getaway can make the trip more fun and more affordable. If you have room in the car, inviting friends along allows you to split fuel costs, and you may even save on lodging if you find a hotel that won't charge for extra guests in the room. Friends and family also can help split the cost of supplies.

- Bring your own food. Food is another big expense road trippers must account for. But you can save money on food by bringing your own meals along on the trip. Prepare some sandwiches the morning that you leave and keep them fresh in a cooler so you don't have to pay for lunch. In addition, pack some snacks so you and your passengers can quickly and affordably quell any hunger pangs that arise while you're on the road. If you plan to stay in a place with its own kitchen, cook your own dinners so you don't have to spend money dining out.

Road trips are a staple of autumn, when drivers can still enjoy the open road without breaking the bank.
