DECEMBER REGULATED NATURAL GAS RATE REMAINS STEADY

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's natural gas rate remains stable for December, with protection in place to shield Albertans from future price spikes.

Alberta's economy has recovered strongly, but Albertans are struggling to heat their homes and feed their families and the government wants to help.

In the coming weeks, Alberta's government will announce new

Our second event of the season will be our Children's Christmas Market. Happening on December 2nd, starting at 4:00 p.m. children aged 5 to 17 can come to the museum and do some Christmas shopping from local vendors. All items are priced low to accommodate a child's price range. The event is intended for children to be able to finish some Christmas shopping without their parents around, but please note that each child should only require about an hour. Hot chocolate and gift wrapping will be offered.

Finally, our last event of the Christmas season is going to be our Little Pioneer Christmas. The museum is proud to work with the Parkland County Library in Entwistle, where the event will be hosted on December 10th from 3:00 to 4:00. Participants will make various crafts from Christmas ornaments, decorating cookies, and their popcorn garlands. There will also be a chance to win a complete box set of The Little House on the prairie books.

We look forward to seeing all our locals come out for these events and wish you all a happy holiday, merry Christmas and a wonderful New Year!

measures to increase protection from natural gas and electricity price spikes this winter, all part of the Affordability Action Plan.

Alberta's natural gas rebate program continues to offer price protection for Albertans from volatile natural gas prices. As December's highest monthly default natural gas rate will be $6.167 per gigajoule, the rebate will not be triggered.

How the rebate works

To support natural gas consumers this winter, the natural gas rebate program is ready and in place to protect Albertans. The exact rebate amount that consumers will receive depends on the default natural gas rate each month.

Should the monthly default natural gas rate from any of the regulated utility providers (ATCO Gas North and ATCO Gas South, as served by Direct Energy Regulated Services or Apex Utilities) exceed $6.50 per gigajoule, the government will provide rebates to all eligible consumers covering the difference. For example, if the highest regulated rate is $7.50, eligible consumers would get a rebate of $1 for every gigajoule used in that month.

More than 1.6 million Albertans are eligible for a rebate, including consumers connected to the natural gas distribution system and those not connected to the natural gas distribution system but using natural gas, propane, kerosene or heating oil for heating purposes. More details can be found in the affordability programs section on alberta.ca.

Métis Week At CVS

to Action. They wanted to create a resource that meets teachers where they are at. By that, they want teachers to use what they are comfortable with, and do what works best with their class.

The Métis Nation of Alberta declared the week surrounding November 16th as " Mé tis Week."

November16th is a day that has significance to many Métis people across Canada as a day to remember and honour the dedication and sacrifices of Louis Riel for the Métis Nation (Rupertsland Institute ,2021). During Metis Week at Crescent Valley School, students engaged in 'Toe-Tapping' Tuesday. Classes learned the history of the Métis dance, some basic steps, and toe-tapped to some fiddle music. It would not be a celebration of Métis peoples if the school didn't learn about jigging, the fastpaced and community-centred dance with special guests from the Edmonton Métis Traditional Dancers, welcomed in collaboration with the Hinton Friendship Centre.

Students and staff watched the performance and later practiced Métis jigging steps to then dance to the Red River Jig along with their special guests.

The Edmonton Métis Traditional Dancers were for med in the fall of 1985, with young people who were taking dance classes at the Canadian Native Friendship Centre (CNFC), Edmonton. Over the years, the dancers have been promoting traditional Métis dances, therefore reflecting the cultural heritage brought by mixed ancestry (French, Scottish, Irish and First Nations).

SUDOKU of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets
