AMENDMENTS TO BILL C-21

Submitted by MP Gerald Soroka

This Liberal government says it has no intention to go after long guns and hunting rifles. I beg to differ. Amendments to Bill C-21 would effectively expand the Liberals ban to virtually every semi-automatic rifle and shotgun except for small caliber 22s.

What this Bill and amendments will do is make life easier for violent criminals by repealing mandatory minimum sentences for gun crimes with Bill C-5, have made it easier to get bail with C-75, and have failed to stop the flow of illegal crime guns across the US border. Then why are the Liberals targeting the tools of law-abiding hunters and farmers instead of going after the illegal guns used by criminals and street gangs?

We Conservatives are against these Liberal proposed amendments to ban almost all semi-automatic rifles and shotguns and we will fight to repeal Bill C-21 and the recent amendments that would wrongly ban hundreds of thousands of firearms in Canada that are used for hunting. They say they are only going after "military-style assault weapons." What they are going after are hunting rifles and hunting shotguns!

What Bill C-21 and current amendments to the bill does is not respect hunters, farmers, and Indigenous Canadians. Instead, a committee of law enforcement officials, First Nations, hunters, and sport shooters should be created to decide how firearms are classified. We Conservatives support common-sense firearms policies that keep guns out of the hands of dangerous criminals.

STANDING UP TO THE BULLIES & GETTING THE RESPECT YOU DESERVE

Submitted by MLA Shane Getson

I've had to stand up to bullies my entire life; many times, it wasn't just in my own defense but for others I've cared for. Growing up in small country school comprised mainly of farm kids, issues were generally sorted out on the playground, and there was little harm done. Often when the bully was trimmed up, we became good friends, and our little class became more like an extended family. Through the years playing on school sports teams, that fraternity extended to other grades as well. Things got sorted out, then we pulled together as a team, and learned to respect and rely on each other. In post-secondary, my "year" had a run in with the group a year ahead of us. That too got sorted out within the first month. My group became closer, and we got the respect we deserved from the older group. It has been the same since the dawn of time with pretty much all social animals; I'm not sure why we are wired that way, we just are.

The pervasive theme however is that when someone is pushing you or others around, and if the conflict goes against your inherent morals and ethics of what is good, typically you'd step in. There are also the variables of timing, of tolerance, and of when the "Standing Up" action is required. When is it enough? I ran in an election back in 2019 because enough was enough. Between the Liberals becoming the federal party and taking a run at Alberta to "Knock us down to Size", or "Put us in our Place", and the provincial arm of the federal NDP "getting the Social Governance" and turning its back on many of the industries that built, and have kept our province going, I, like many others, had enough. In true Alberta spirit, we stood up for what was right, and we changed course.

Since I was elected, there have been 2 federal elections. The Liberal Party went from a majority to a minority government that has been propped up and kept in power by a formal agreement executed by the federal NDP. We have seen time and time again intrusions into our jurisdiction, and an attempt to erode what is clearly defined in our constitution. We have seen more than just overreach and misunderstandings. We have seen a systematic approach to weaken our economy and our morale. We have tried just about everything under the sun to be reasonable. So, in true 'Strong and Free' fashion, another change in leadership was initiated, this time to deal with the issue in a different way: with an act that reaffirms our constitutional rights and authority within the country that we are members of, and to which we have contributed more per capita in this confederation than any other.

As many know I have been working on defining and establishing the concept of Economic Corridors, predominantly within North-west Canada for the last three years. Through that work, and with the concept gaining more traction, I was also invited several times to attend a virtual town hall with the Free Alberta Strategy group. There were some great discussions how to really make Canada stronger, by asserting our constitutional rights, and collaborating with other provinces and territories. I wasn't gun-shy of the concept and knew that if this was to go past the concept stage, that it would need to ensure that if the word "sovereignty" was used that it would need to be clearly defined, and the context of the word usage would need to be crystal clear.

Well, a year later, here we are. A new Premier, a reinvigorated team, our Economic Corridors concept really taking the hearts and imaginations of so many that it has now been tacked onto the Ministry of Transportation. We've had our internal debates on what the "Alberta Sovereignty Within a United Canada Act" would address, and a near finished understanding of what the legislation could look like. On the 30th of November it was provided to the MLAs in the house for the first time, and the real debates began.

I say real debates, because up until that point, no one had their hands on a copy of the act. We made it Bill #1 for this sitting, simply because the federal Liberal/NDP coalition is running roughshod over so many areas, we needed to put something in place, to reaffirm our constitution and call out their habitual overreach. Basically, in times of this overreach, guided by clear definitions in our constitution, we as the Alberta Government, with consent of the legislature, (meaning the MLAs of all parties having debate, and giving direction) would stand and say no to the federal government. You see, the way our constitution was set up was with the provinces and the country being equal partners; each partner has clearly defined roles and authorities within the provinces themselves, as well as the entire country.

This Act is the 'Stand Up to the Habitual Bully, Who Does Not Respect the People Who Live in the Land of the Strong and the Free Law'. This isn't just happening in Alberta, Saskatchewan has had enough too, and they have their own act to address the overreach of the Federal Government; both provinces could have perhaps called it the 'Enough is Enough Act'. As you can see, there is a reason why I'm better at standing up to bullies than at naming legislation.

Over the next month, you will undoubtedly hear a ton of rhetoric in the big papers, on the TV, and on the radio. Mainly paid for by those parties and their supporters who profit from being bullies in one form or another. We will make sure in the house, through fulsome debate, that any tweaks, or amendments needed will take place. The intent is to ensure that any issues between the Government of Canada, and the Province of Alberta is born by the province, not the public, nor the businesses. The act is very short, easy to read, and straight to the point. It has those that who would want to push us around in our own back yard cry foul; but the jig is up, and they know it. Time for the bullies to back off, give us back our space, to stay in their own yard, and to let us collaborate with our neighbors. This will empower all the provinces and the territories in our country again, which only gets us back on track to being the True North Strong and Free once more. The Canada, that so many fought for, and so many of us fondly remember, needs to be made real again, and the Alberta Sovereignty in a Unified Canada Act gets us one step closer to making that a reality.

MAYERTHORPE HOSPITAL AUXILIARY ASSOCIATION NEWS

Submitted by Mayerthorpe Hospital Auxiliary Association

Mayerthorpe Hospital Auxiliary Association meets every 4th Monday and does great things for our hospital. 2 ladies go with a tuck cart once a week selling chips, bars, candy to patients. Each patient will get a Xmas card from us at Xmas.

The hospital is undergoing major renovations. A fabulous computer system was installed. We are fortunate to have a good hospital that is used by people many miles around us.

Stars has a good landing pad, and the ambulance building is here. Planning is being done to provide a palliative care room in the auxiliary wing.

The tree of Hope is up again. Memorial donations for a loved one or group can be made, and a bubble or star will be lit up. This will be done until Jan 25, 2023. The money raised will be of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
