The past three months have been very exciting and busy for our club! Jaylene and I have combined our three reports together from January to March!

On February 4th, we had our Communications Day. Everyone worked so hard on their speeches and presentations. For Junior Speeches, Breanne Bouius placed first and Whitney Van de Ligt took first for Junior Presentations. Katrien Bakos claimed first for Intermediate Speeches while Annabelle and Isabelle Haresnape won for Intermediate Presentations. For Senior Speech, Julianna Russell placed first. Antho-

Our first place members moved on and competed against other district members. Thank you to the judges and timekeepers for volunteering their time in both our Club and District Communication Days! Our members who moved on to regional level and won, were Annabelle and Isabelle Haresnape, who won first for Intermediate presentations, Katrien Bakos who won first for intermediate speeches, and Anthony Bouius and Beau Churchill who won second place for senior presentations. Congratulations to all of our members!

In January, the Foods members made and decorated their own recipe boxes and presented them to the club at our February meeting. Mr. Stadnyk was a great help cutting out the pieces needed to build the project. For February's workshop, the foods members made cherry cheesecake brownies and sour cream softies. It was surprising to make a recipe for cookies that had sour cream in them. For March's workshop, the foods members made banana bread and homemade pizzas.

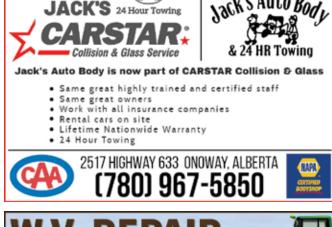

To prepare for lambing in January, the sheep members had a lambing workshop where they learned about giving injections, pulling lambs and docking tails. The members also learned how to shear their sheep through a provincial webinar in February. In March, they learned how to make rope halters with help from two of our senior members, Anthony and Beau. Later in the month, we held a district feed workshop, where the members listened to Mr. Dale Engstrom's presentation where they learned about healthy diets to feed their sheep. We also had fun using the information from the Alberta Lamb Producers learning kit.

In January, the beef members had a health check tour where the leaders travelled to the members houses and checked up on their animals. The beef members learned about different brushes in February, how to brush their animals and how to use a blower to get their animals prepped for achievement day.

There was no workshop held through March due to calving season.

The Quilting members went on a field trip to Homestead Fabric and Quilting in January. Lyn helped us make a wall hanging using the Attic Window pattern. The first year members made 2 placemats which turned out very nice. The quilting kids are working on different projects. New quilters have started to make their own charm pack bags. Others are working on quilts with their own designs. Most members are on their final steps in their projects, like sewing their bindings on their quilts and wall hangings.

The vet science kids were able to have a day-in-thelife of a vet. They got to watch different surgeries performed on small animals. In March, they had an opportunity to go to West Edmonton Mall and participate in a Marine Life Tour. They all enjoyed the tour and were very thankful for the chance to attend it.

During the models' workshop, the members painted their models. They have been working very hard to get to their final steps. They also talked about making molds for model pieces at the next workshop.

Archery was once again able to join the Anselmo Willing Workers club for their archery workshop. The members are getting better at aiming. In March, the members had a chance to have their own workshop and relearned the rules and practiced shooting at targets. They also had a book workshop.

In January the feathered friend's members created inexpensive nesting boxes for their birds. In February, the members learned about different kinds of feeds. They also discussed what type of feed should be given at different ages and to different types of fouls. For their March workshop, they discussed pen requirements such as, size, heating and nesting and they also learned how to grade eggs,

With all of our exciting club events over the last three months, we are getting excited for our upcoming achievement days!

Managing and Mitigating Infrastructure Strain

Lac Ste. Anne County is responsible for the preservation and maintenance of all municipal roads, highways and bridges within Lac Ste. Anne County which are under the direction, control and management of the County. A very important part of this responsibility is the protection of roadways during the spring thaw. This time of year can create serious structural damage to roads and bridges if appropriate measures are not taken.

When a road ban occurs, signs indicating the allowed axle percentages are posted on all oiled and paved roadways. Road ban signage is not posted on gravel roads; however, all roads will be monitored and road bans enforced by Lac Ste. Anne County Enforcement Services to ensure compliance.

In conjunction with the road ban, please note that Lac Ste. Anne County, North 43 Lagoon Commission, and Darwell Lagoon Commission are implementing a wastewater hauler rate decrease. The rate will be reduced by 50% from $75.00 per legal load to $37.50 per legal load, or from $5.50 to $2.75 per meter cubed, until Lac Ste. Anne County spring road bans are lifted Thawing culverts is a very timeconsuming and challenging process. When the warmer weather arrives, it will take some time for the culverts to fully thaw and to handle the increases in water volume. This may result in water pooling near our infrastructure.

Please be advised to use caution while driving and slow down while crossing these affected areas.

MP SOROKA'S STATEMENT ON THE

Submitted by MP Gerald Soroka

Gerald Soroka, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, gave the following statement in the House.

"Mr. Speaker, repeatedly, this Liberal government proves they do not care about Canadians. If they did, then inflation would not be at a record-breaking 40-year high.

Their solution...an automatic escalator on the alcohol excise tax - increasing taxes on beer, wine, and spirits by 6.3% on April 1st, alongside the carbon tax like a sick April Fool's joke.

This tax increase will devastate consumers; beer, wine, and spirits producers (95% of which are small businesses); and other Canadian entrepreneurs who can barely make ends meet as it is. This tax hike will also have a sweeping negative impact on industries like tourism, food, and hospitality, among many others.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH ALREADY!

Taxpayers should NOT have to pay for this Liberal government's chronic fiscal mismanagement and they should NOT have to struggle under this cost-of-living crisis. Will this Liberal government AXE the planned excise tax? Yes, or no?

President's Message

Easter Sunday is coming up next weekend, and it holds a special significance this year for Legion members. It is the 106th anniversary of the start of the battle of Vimy Ridge in northern France on April 9, 1917.

This battle saw all four Canadian army divisions fighting together for the first time during the First World War, lasted four days, and saw the Canadian forces successfully seize the important hill feature after which the battle is named. It was a notable victory amid the grinding frustration of trench warfare to that point in the war.

Our success there has been credited with giving Canada a seat at the table when the peace terms were negotiated in 1918-19, allowing Canada to stand on its own beside Britain, rather than subordinate to it. The cost was heavy: 3,598 Canadians were killed and another 7,000 wounded in the 4 days of the battle, numbers that are still staggering today. The monumental war memorial now located at the summit of the ridge is a fitting tribute to the sacrifice of our fellow Canadians.

The Legion was formed shortly after that war to ensure that we would always remember the sacrifice of our war dead, and bring aid to those who survived and were in need of assistance. That mission endures today, bringing the same message of remembrance

CREATE A SAFE AND ENJOYABLE BACKYARD PLAY AREA

Homeowners often aspire to have attractive backyards that look like they belong in a magazine. While these can be picturesque and functional for adults, they may not be entirely practical for homeowners who have young children, especially when the majority of the yard is covered with paving stones or concrete.

When young children are part of a household, homeowners may benefit by designing yards that are both functional and fun. Incorporating safe play areas for kids is one way to unlock the potential of both big and small backyards.

As children run off to enjoy a playground, safety is the last thing on their minds. Kids are most interested in scaling ladders to treehouses or coasting down slides. That's why adults must take it upon themselves to keep injury prevention in mind.

SafestPlayground. com indicates that playground-related injuries routinely result in severe fractures, internal injuries, concussions, and dislocations. In the majority of playground injuries to children younger than age 5, the head and face are affected. Children between the ages of 5 and 9 experience more leg and arm injuries than younger kids. The Consumer Product Safety Commission states 70 percent of children's injuries occur on home playgrounds. More than 28,000 children are injured each year on playgrounds across Canada, according to Parachute, a national injury prevention organization.

When considering playground equipment for the yard, parents need to make safety a priority. The Canada Safety Society advises parents to follow the "5 S's of Playground Safety": Surface, structures, site, supervision, and safety.

· Surface: Parents should assume that children will fall. To lessen the blow of falls, choose playground equipment with a perimeter of six feet of a softer surface, such as sand, pea gravel, rubber pieces or wood chips.

Create A Safe And Enjoyable Backyard Play Area

This material should be between six and 12 inches deep.

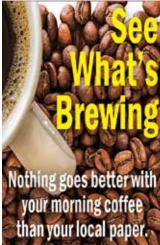

Structure: The structure of the play equipment should be built from sturdy materials. Pressure-treated lumber was once the standard, but it's not adviseable for kids' playgrounds, as the chemicals used in the lumber can leach and young children may actually bite or pick at the wood. Use cedar or another wood that resists decay. Once the structure is built, inspect it frequently for damage.

- Site: Look around the landscape for an ideal place to locate the playset. There should be no obstacles that children can hit while sliding or swinging. Avoid overhanging branches and do not place equipment too close to trees or fencing. Try to keep the set out of direct sunlight, which can make components heat up and scald young bodies.
- Supervision: Do not leave children alone while they are playing. Prevent children from using the playset in an incorrect manner.

Safety: Follow the directions for installation. Make sure all posts are anchored into the ground securely. Railings should be spaced so that children cannot get stuck between them. Check that metal components have not rusted and that there is no additional excessive wear. Be sure that no tools or other dangerous items are left around the yard.

Backyard playgrounds should be built with safety in mind. Learn the rules of play equipment and yard safety.

ADD CURB APPEAL TO YOUR PROPERTY

Many people are familiar with the idea that a strong first impression can go a long way. While that idea is most often referenced in regard to personal interactions, it's also applicable to real estate.

When selling a home, homeowners who emphasize curb appeal may find it far easier to sell their homes. Curb appeal refers to the impression a home's exterior makes on people seeing the home for the first time. In 2014, the online real estate database Zillow® surveyed real estate agents and found that curb appeal was one of the five most important factors when selling a home.

Projects that improve curb appeal can be vast undertakings or simpler projects, and the following are a handful of projects to improve a home's curb appeal that run the gamut from simple to complex.

· Clean up the yard. Cleaning up the yard is among the simpler yet most effective projects to improve a home's curb appeal. When selling their homes, homeowners should clear the yard of any clutter, including kids' toys, grass clippings or items that might be scattered throughout the yard. A cluttered yard homeowners suggests do not care much about their home's appearance, and that may lead buyers to think that indifference extended to maintaining the home's interior as well. Many buyers will ignore properties without any external aesthetic appeal, but cleaning up the yard does not require much effort or expense on the part of sell-

· Make the main entryway more inviting. Creating a more inviting entryway won't be as simple as cleaning up the yard, but it can help create a strong first impression without breaking the bank. To begin, remove plants and furniture from the front porch or area surrounding the doorway, as such items can create a cluttered feel. If the front door is old, replace it. Custom doors may be expensive, but they might add the wow factor buyers are looking for. If a new door is beyond your means or just unnecessary, repaint the door, ideally in a color that complements the color of your home and the surrounding landscape.

· Address pavement problems. Paving problems are not necessarily an expensive fix, but the cost of repairing driveways and walkways can add up if it's been awhile since these areas were refurbished. Still, one of the first things buyers will notice when getting out of their cars is the ground they're walking on, so patch and repair or even replace driveways and walkways that have fallen into disrepair.

Add or upgrade outdoor living spaces. Outdoor living spaces also can set a property apart from others on the market. A recent study from the National Association of Realtors found that buyers would not hesitate to pay asking price for homes with outdoor living spaces. When adding or upgrading outdoor living spaces, try to depersonalize the spaces as much as possible, as buyers want to picture themselves, and not the sellers, enjoying these areas. Include some comfortable furniture, adequate lighting and a dining area in your outdoor living space as well.

Curb appeal can add a lot to a home, while lack of such appeal can make a home difficult to sell. Homeowners who want to sell their properties for asking price or more should address curb appeal before putting their homes on the market.

FACTORS TO CONSIDER WHEN PLANNING A HOME OFFICE

As technology has made working remotely easier, more and more professionals are working from home. Working from home can help working parents save money on childcare costs and help all workers avoid rush hour traffic jams and the costs of commuting to and from the office.

The right working environment is essential for men and women who work from home. An environment that's conducive to work can help people increase their productivity and make their employers more likely to allow more employees to work from home. Professionals who are new to working from home may find it takes some time before they can create the perfect working environment, but the following are a few factors to consider when planning a home office.

Space

One of the disadvantages to working from home is that remote workers don't have access to the same level of equipment as in the main office, such as color copiers or scanners. If you want to include even scaled-down versions of such equipment in your office, you will need ample space. In addition, less spacious home offices can feel too tight and enclosed, making workers uncomfortable and less enthusiastic about working every day. Pick a spot in your home that affords room for your equipment and the ability to move around so you don't feel cramped throughout the workday.

Lighting

Lighting is another factor remote workers must consider when they're planning their home offices. Natural light can provide an energetic boost and improve your mood, so choose a room in your home that gets lots of sunlight during the day. Many professionals who work remotely do so from the basements of their homes, which can make it difficult to rely on natural light. If the basement is the only location in your home that can fit a home office, look for lighting sources that replicate daylight so you are not working in dark quarters. Speak with your physician about how to arrange lighting to reduce eyestrain caused by staring at a computer.

Connectivity

Connectivity also must considered when planning a home office. While wireless Internet has made Internet dead zones less problematic, certain areas or rooms in vour home may still be touch-and-go with regard to Internet connectivity. Such areas should be avoided when choosing a room for your home office, as it can be difficult to remain productive if your connection to your office's external server is routinely compromised. Find an area where the wireless connection is always strong.

Distractions

While your home might be empty for much of the day, you don't want to be distracted when the kids come home from school or when your spouse or roommate arrives home from work. Avoid putting your home office too close to popular hangout areas in your home, such as the kitchen and the living room. Instead, choose a room where you have lots of privacy so you can focus on your work and won't be routinely interrupted.

Working from home can pay numerous dividends, but professionals who telework must put careful thought into the rooms or areas of their homes where they plan to work.

VOTER REGISTRATION OPENS FOR PROVINCIAL ELECTION PLUS, ID REQUIREMENTS MADE EASY

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Starting today, households across Alberta will begin receiving information in their mailboxes from Elections Alberta on registering to vote in the upcoming Provincial General Election.

Electors are encouraged to register or update their information at www.voterlink.ab.ca., or by calling the Provincial Contact Centre at 1.877.422.8683. The Contact Centre is available from 8:15 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on weekdays and 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on weekends.

Accessing Voterlink

Electors accessing the online registration system can retrieve their voter record by using the PIN and House / Access Number found on their Register to Vote letter or by using their Alberta Driver's Licence or Alberta Identification Card number.

Further instructions on how to register online are available on the Elections Alberta website. Electors that need support to register are encouraged to call the Contact Centre.

Why Register?

Registering to vote in advance of voting days makes the process faster and easier, and for electors with mailing addresses on their identification, registering with both their physical and mailing address expands their options for identification that can be accepted at the voting place.

All electors must be registered to vote at their current physical address before being issued a ballot. While this process can be completed at a voting place it does lengthen the time required to vote.

"Electors must be registered to vote to cast their ballot," says Pamela Renwick, Deputy Chief Electoral Officer. "Registration is already open and takes less than five minutes online. Doing it early is the best way to ensure an easy and efficient visit to the ballot box."

New Where to Vote Card Options

Where to Vote Cards are mailed to all households in Alberta prior to voting days. The card provides details on the closest advance voting stations and the household's assigned voting location on Election Day. New for this election, electors can now opt-in to receive their Where to Vote Card by email, ensuring they have it handy when they arrive at the voting place. Where to Vote Card selections can be made online during the registration process at www. voterlink.ab.ca or by calling the Provincial Contact Centre.

New Identification Requirements

All electors will be required to show ID to prove their identity and physical address whether they are voting in person, on Election Day, during advance voting, or voting by Special Ballot.

Four ways to do this include:

- Showing your Alberta Driver's Licence or Identification Card.
- Presenting two pieces of ID, both with your name and one showing your current physical address (i.e., a health card, an employee ID, or a utility bill).
- Having someone in your voting area vouch for you.

• Completing an attestation form.

Electors that have a PO box or other mailing address on their identification are encouraged to register to vote with both their physical and mailing address. Electors that are registered with both addresses will be able to use their identification with a mailing address when they vote. Electors that have not registered with their mailing address must bring identification to prove their physical address to register at a voting place.

SUPPORTING SUSTAINABILITY IN AGRICULTURE

Submitted by Government of Alberta

The new Sustainable Canadian Agricultural Partnership will support the continued growth and prosperity of Alberta's agriculture sector.

In Alberta, the partnership represents $508 million in funding over five years that will provide grants to programs that support the needs of Alberta's agriculture and agri-food sector.

Alberta's programs will aim to create new jobs and spur growth in the agriculture sector by supporting value?added processing competitiveness, attracting new investment and expanding irrigation capacity that will boost crop production

The programs will also continue protecting plant and animal health and animal welfare, managing risks to Alberta's natural resources and investing in producer-led agriculture research.

Producers also have access to an enhanced suite of business risk management programs to help them manage significant risks that threaten the viability of their farms and are beyond their capacity to manage.

In total, the Sustainable Canadian Agricultural Partnership (Sustainable CAP) is a five-year, $3.5-billion investment by Canada's federal, provincial and territorial governments that supports Canada's agri-food and agri-products sectors. This includes $1 billion in federal programs and activities and a $2.5-billion commitment that is cost-shared 60 per cent federally and 40 per cent provincially/territorially for programs that are designed and delivered by provinces and territories.

Compared with the current partnership, which expires at the end of the month, there is a $500-million increase in cost-shared funding. Half of this additional funding will help develop and implement the Resilient Agricultural Landscape Program, which will support carbon sequestration, and protect grasslands and wetlands on agricultural lands.

The Sustainable Canadian Agricultural Partnership comes into effect April 1 and replaces the Canadian Agricultural Partnership (CAP).

10TH ANNUAL ONOWAY CHILDREN'S HEALTH FAIR

Submitted by Onoway Health and Wellness Fair

The Onoway Children's Health Fair has come and gone. The Annual fair was geared to providing information on health services and resources that support wellness of families in Onoway and the surrounding area. It was a place for community agencies, service providers, and local businesses to collaborate with families, and build connections for the future. The fair was held on March 10, 2023 after a three year hiatus due to the pandemic. Admission was free, with a suggestion of a donation to the Lac Ste Anne East Food Bank. This resulted in 67 lbs. of food collected and $57.00 donated! The Onoway Heritage Centre gym was filled with 32 vendor tables. Attendees were greeted at the door by one of our 14 youth volunteers, handing out a swag bag which included items from our generous vendors, local businesses, and a coupon for a book. Each child received an age-appropriate book that they picked out themselves. Each participant was also entered into the draw for one of the 42 door prizes.

The day was packed with various activities, which included a booth with science experiments, and a 1-hour show on the stage provided by The Mad Scientists of Northern Alberta. MAD Fitness led the crowd with a morning stretch and wrapped up the day with an obstacle course. Camp Nakamun kept the children busy with a large Connect Four game, which was well received. AHS Early Childhood Intervention and Onoway Playschool and Out of School Care brought out their creative side with developmental craft activities. Our youth volunteers had a never-ending lineup at their sparkle tattoos and face painting tables. Families were invited to visit various vendor tables using a Treasure map, which went into a draw for door prizes when completed. A healthy snack was provided and handed out by our youth volunteers.

We were treated by Aven and Lily, who sang for the crowd.

This fair would not have been possible without the ongoing and generous support of our sponsors, Lac Ste Anne County, Family and Community Support Services (FCSS), Equs, Ste. Anne Natural Gas Co-op (SANG), and Alberta Health Services (AHS). A BIG Thank You to our Amazing Youth volunteers, Community Businesses, The Table, MAD Fitness, XL Graphics, Bigway, Burger Baron, Country Automotive, ATB, Paper Canvas, Water Pure and Simple, Estates Bakery, Onoway Historical Guild, Onoway Public Library, Rocky Mountain Equipment Westlock, Shane Getson MLA, Dwane & Joanne Gravel, Camp Nakamun, Grand Tire, Onoway Guardian Pharmacy, Tab's Creations, Rural TR, Mary K, 31 Gifts, Country Fresh Water, and Northern Gateway School Division for their ongoing contributions to make this successful.

The fair may be over for this year; however, the planning committee has begun the process of planning for our 11th Annual Children's Health Fair. If you or your business would like to be a sponsor, or contribute to this very worthwhile endeavor, you can reach out to us at onowayhealthandwellnessfair@gmail.com or 780-967-4440.
