Pub Night at the Legion
On Friday, September 1, the Onoway Legion is closed. That gives our volunteers a chance to have a free long weekend to spend as they choose. We'll be back on September 8. Watch for details.

President's Message Earlier this summer I noted there were a variety of activities happening in the background at the Legion over the summer period. I am pleased to confirm that another of these projects is now completed: the interior of our Legion Hall has been entirely repainted.

The work was completed by Legion Executive member Michelle Dentinger, a professional painter by trade. The work was organized in a manner that permitted us to continue our regular Legion events without interruption. She very generously donated her services for the benefit of the Onoway Legion and its members and other patrons.

In the weeks ahead we will be re-installing a variety of the pictures and other memorabilia that needed to be temporarily

JOKE of the week

A young boy enters a barber shop and the barber whispers to his customer, "This is the dumbest kid in the world. Watch while I prove it to you." The barber puts a dollar bill in one hand and two quarters in the other, then calls the boy over and asks, "Which do you want, son?" The boy takes the quarters and leaves. "What did I tell you?" said the barber. "That kid never learns!"

Later, when the customer leaves, he sees the same young boy coming out of the ice cream store. "Hey, son! May I ask you a question? Why did you take the quarters instead of the dollar bill?" The boy licked his cone and replied, "Because the day I take the dollar, the game is over!"

WATER QUALITY ADVISORY ISSUED FOR SUNSET POINT BEACH

Submitted by Alberta Health Services

Due to elevated levels of fecal bacteria currently present in the water of Sunset Point Beach on Lac Ste. Anne, located within the AHS North Zone of Alberta Health Services (AHS), AHS is advising the public not to swim or wade at these beach areas, effective immediately.

Elevated levels of fecal bacteria were detected via testing of the lake water at this beach location. At current levels, gastrointestinal illness may result from ingestion of the water at Sunset Point Beach. As well, there is the possibility of skin, ear and eye infections with water contact.

As always, visitors and residents are reminded to never drink or cook with untreated water directly from any lake or reservoir, at any time. Water-borne organisms, including fecal bacteria, can cause vomiting and diarrhea.

AHS Environmental Public Health officers will continue to monitor the water at Sunset Point Beach.

This advisory will remain in effect until further notice.

THE SKY'S THE LIMIT

Submitted by MLA Shane Getson

There is something about seeing the impossible happen that is simply inspiring. Seeing an object that is obviously heavier than air, that is capable of traveling faster than the speed of sound flying overhead, twisting and turning in close proximity with a thunderous roar is inspiring. We obviously are not made to fly on our own, but we were given the ability to solve problems, and to work together to accomplish what so many said was impossible for thousands of years. I had said something similar along these lines as I gave my speech at the Alberta International Airshow this weekend, pointing to my own aircraft that I had taxied up moments before taking the stage. I wanted to emphasize that often we put limits on what we do as individuals, and sometimes even as regions, but when we come together, when we work on a common goal, we will achieve the "impossible".

Recently on the east end of the constituency, there has been a little friction over the process for the further development of lands and infrastructure assets that will bring sustainable prosperity to the region, and meet a much needed gap that we have when it comes to the "Rural Alberta Advantage." Over the years, I have found that the best way to get action is to make sure folks meet in person and look at the item of discussion fort hand. When the opportunity is there to look at it from the air, it often puts things into perspective. That is exactly what we did this weekend when we had the mayor of Sturgeon Country and our Premier take a flight over several key industries, infrastructure, wetland areas, agriculture, tourism, and processing facilities. The one-hour flight was priceless regarding the amount of information the Premier absorbed in that short timeline. She said that she was blown away with the amount of potential our area has, given all the existing infrastructure and resources at our disposal. She also questioned why we had been limited in growth due to red tape, or potential lack of regional cooperation. A bird's eye view tends to bring things into focus in a hurry.

We interacted with many stakeholders, elected officials, and business leaders who were on hand to take in the show. We then took a tour of the Villeneuve Control Tower, and the folks from Nav Canada were very gracious on their tour to show us the ins and outs, as it were, of the services that they provide. It was the first time since 1985 that any provincial leadership had made a visit, and this was the very first Premier that they ever had visit. Everyone was appreciative of the down-to-earth approach and practical interaction with our Premier. The discussion led again to how we can grow the industry, and how we can fill the gap that we have for personnel to meet the forecasted needs. This was a great segway to take in the career fair at the show.

Within the big career fair tent, there were representatives from no less than two universities, and from what I could see four technical schools or colleges. Autonomous vehicle projects, thermal camouflage, satellites, rocketry, drones, thermal sensors, data gathering, control systems maintenance, weapon systems maintenance repair, and good old jet engine repair. The military branches were on hand to discuss the various career options, and all the technical skills required to perform the missions that they are tasked with. There is a great need for highly skilled and educated people in the industry with a very rewarding career, both in the civilian and the military worlds. It was very special to see them all under one big tent!

We then went over and walked the static line in the "Hot Box." That is where the military aircraft performing in the show are kept. We were given the red-carpet tour of one of my favorite aircraft: the A-10 Warthog. The demo team allowed us up into the cockpit, and I talked my way into the pilot seat as the demo captain while a lady from Arizona walked me through the systems. She then asked if I knew about the two stages of the "Gun" when you pull on the trigger. The first stage stabilizes the flight controls, the second spools up that 30 mm gatling cannon and throws rounds down range. The captain was in service in Afghanistan for a number of years, so it wasn't a theoretical orientation.

We didn't catch the whole show, but exited just shortly after the F-18 demonstration to make it over to visit with the seniors at West Country Hearth. The tour of the facility, and the discussions with the seniors was very pleasant. I am very proud of the facility and how it was from a groundswell of the local families that brought the facility from concept to reality. The need was there, and they took it upon themselves as a community to fill the gap. Follow up meetings will explore how that model could be used to help other regions of the province, and to ensure that our own West Country Hearth remains viable for years to come.

To round out the day, we had a tour, some speeches, and a fireside Q and A session with the Premier and over 100 guests at Anohka Distillery (located on highway 16, and secondary highway 770). This place has such a great story, and quite frankly will act as a catalyst for what I believe to be a cornerstone of an untapped industry in our region. British Columbia has the Okanagan, and in it they have developed the vineyards and the wineries over the years. Here in God's country, we may not be able to grow too many grapes, but I can tell you full well, there is no better place in the world to grow barley. We have loads of peat, and some of the purest water in the world.

We also have some of the most picturesque rolling topography, and we are conveniently located within a half-hour drive of a major international airport, as well as a million plus populated city. B.C. built a wine industry and included tourism as part of the model. "Value Adding" is what we should all be considering going forward, rather than exporting raw products and purchasing them back at a huge markup in a finished state. There is no reason why we can't make it happen here in Alberta.

I am so very proud of our province, and our special corner of it. It was quite the honour to have the Premier give us 15 hours of her day Sunday. She was on site at the airport for 7:30 am, and by the time we wrapped up, the sun was setting. The speeches were from the heart, on point, and were intergenerational. I was so pleased that Mr. Speaker, Ken Kowalski, could make it. He humored me by giving a bit of a history lesson of how we got to where we are now, starting at the time of Premier Lougheed. For us to remember where we came from, to know the challenges that were faced and overcome to get to where we are now puts things into perspective. It lets us know what can be achieved and what we can do to keep moving forward together, after all, the sky's the limit.

SUDOKU

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
