Elementary schools in Hinton wrapped up the calendar year by participating in various activities focused on the power of collaboration and community engagement.

Grade 5 students at École Mountain View exchanged letters with a class in Quebec. These letters had quite an adventure getting to Hinton without postal service! A pilot flew them from Quebec to Alberta then arranged for a charter ride to Hinton. Letters from Mme. Bonnafé's (Caro Lan) Grade 6 class landed in our Hinton students' hands last month, and their pen pals in Quebec are eagerly looking forward to receiving their

JOKE of the week

Two elderly gentlemen from a retirement centre were sitting on a bench under a tree when one turns to the other and says: 'Slim, I'm 83 years old now and I'm just full of aches and pains. I know you're about my age. How do you feel?' Slim says, 'I feel just like a newborn baby.' 'Really!?' Like a newborn baby!?' 'Yep. No hair, no teeth, and I think I just wet my pants.'

Additionally, a dog was located on the property with injuries to its legs.

RCMP charged Brazeau County resident 64-year-old James Allan Kurz with:

- Assault on a Peace officer;
- Obstruction/Resist arrest (x2);
- Possession of a weapon for a dangerous purpose;
- Cruelty to animals;
- Disobeying a court order.

Kurz was initially taken before a justice of the peace and remanded into custody for his next court appearance. He has since been released and his next court appearance is set for Jan. 7, 2025, at the Alberta Court of Justice in Drayton Valley.

Kurz voluntarily worked with the Alberta SPCA to support many dogs in and around the property. In total 72 dogs were surrendered to the Alberta SPCA and are being cared for.

BUILDING ON EXCELLENCE IN 2025

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Hundreds of infrastructure projects completed or underway throughout 2024 helped build Alberta communities, boost the economy and support thousands of jobs.

Throughout the province, Infrastructure worked in collaboration with industry, school jurisdictions, Alberta Health and municipal and community partners to deliver the new, modernized and well-maintained public facilities that house the vital programs and services Alberta families and communities rely on.

“This past year, we completed hundreds of projects across Alberta, providing growing communities with new and modernized facilities. We also passed the Real Property Governance Act, a piece of legislation that helps the government better manage assets for Albertans and ultimately provides better value for our tax dollars. As we move into 2025, our team is committed to delivering the essential infrastructure needed to support the demands of our growing and robust economy.”

Pete Guthrie, Minister of Infrastructure

With a strong outlook for Alberta’s construction market, 2025 is shaping up to be another productive year. Alberta Infrastructure remains committed to completing work on schedule and on budget, while maximizing the value of taxpayer money.

This past year saw a focus on further developing relationships with industry partners across various trades, backgrounds, specialties and sectors. In 2025, this work will continue through Industry Liaison Committees, roundtables and other opportunities that will maximize collaboration and productivity. Alberta’s future is strong, competitive and full of opportunity. 2024 Infrastructure highlights Schools

•In September, Alberta’s government announced a generational commitment of $8.6 billion to build schools now. This investment will award up to 90 new schools and up to 24 modernizations or replacements over the next three years.

oIn addition, a new in-budget approval process has been introduced for school construction that will accelerate project progression through development stages, reducing project timelines by as much as six months.

•In 2024, 10 schools were built across the province, creating space for more than 9,600 students in nine communities, including:

oBlackfalds, Calgary, Coaldale, Edmonton, Fort Vermillion, Grande Prairie, Langdon, Leduc and Wabasca-Desmarais.

•Entering the new year, another 82 school projects are underway, progressing through various stages of planning, design and construction.

Health Facilities

•As announced in Budget 2024, a modern, standalone Stollery Children’s Hospital in Edmonton remains a key priority with $20 million budgeted over the next three years for early planning.

•Redevelopment of Calgary’s Rockyview General Hospital Intensive Care Unit, Coronary Care Unit and Gastrointestinal Clinic were completed in 2024.

•Renovations of operating rooms and support areas in Rocky Mountain House through the Alberta Surgical Initiative (ASI) wrapped up this past spring.

oThrough the ASI, 31 projects are underway in planning, design or construction in Brooks, Calgary, Edmonton, Innisfail, Lethbridge and Olds.

•Another 53 health projects are underway going into 2025.

oThis includes awarding the construction manager contract for the Red Deer Regional Hospital Centre (RDRHC) this past summer and making progress on the new patient tower and redevelopment.

The procurement process for the RDRHC Ambulatory building is ongoing, with contractor selection expected in spring 2025 and groundbreaking in summer 2025.

Government Facilities

•The Lakeview Recovery Community in Gunn completed construction and was handed over to Mental Health and Addiction

- In November 2024, Alberta's government introduced amendments to the Public Works Act (PWA) that mandate payment timelines and invoicing provisions for public infrastructure work, helping ensure contractors and subcontractors are paid fairly and promptly.

PUTTING FAIRNESS FIRST: REFORMING PHOTO RADAR IN ALBERTA

Submitted by MLA Shane Getson

For years, we have heard from Albertans who feel that photo radar is less about safety and more about collecting cash. Like many of you, I've seen it as a system designed to catch responsible drivers off guard rather than make our roads safer. That's why the Minister of Transportation and Economic Corridors is taking action to ensure photo radar in Alberta is used fairly and responsibly.

Unfair tax for just driving to work to earn a living

We have heard you loud and clear that some of the "Honey Hole" spots out there for the photo radar sites are more like "old Rosco hunting after the Duke boys", than trying to penalize bad driving behaviours and improve safety..

Alberta has the highest number of photo radar sites

Right now, Alberta has over 2,200 photo radar sites—that's 70% more than the next highest province. Alberta's government will evaluate and conduct a thorough review of every site, assessing whether it truly improves safety. If a site doesn't clearly improve safety, it will be removed. We anticipate cutting the number of sites by 70%, bringing the total down to about 65, which would better align with other provinces.

How are we going to make it fair for you

Going forward, photo radar will be limited to places where it's truly needed, like playgrounds, school zones, and construction zones—areas where speeding puts lives at risk. If municipalities want to place photo radar outside these zones, they'll need to make a strong case and show that all other safety measures have failed. On top of this, The province will also help make roads safer by providing municipalities with support to re-engineer roads and intersections that have been proven to be unsafe.

Making responsible Albertan drivers navigate a minefield of secret cameras waiting to rob them of their hard-earned money directly contradicts everything we stand for as a government. That's why Alberta's United Conservatives are also eliminating "speed-on-green" traffic light radar. From now on, traffic light enforcement will focus solely on red-light runners, keeping safety the top priority.

Last, but not in the least: this is about fairness

Alberta's government is putting an end to excessive photo radar enforcement that punishes minor mistakes without improving safety. Together, we're shifting the focus to what truly matters: protecting lives and making Alberta's roads safer for everyone.

Stay Strong, Stay Free, Stay Safe. And I'll continue to care about "what matters to you"!

TIPPLE PARK MUSEUM JANUARY UPDATE AND HISTORY TIDBITS

Submitted by Tipple Park Museum

When I first started working at the museum last year, it struck me both how vital the Pembina Mine was to the early development of Evansburg, but also how few objects we have at the museum from its operation. We're not completely certain why this happened, but we have a theory.

The company that owned the Pembina Mine from 1934-1936, when the mine closed, was the Royalties Oil and Share Corp. Ltd. Around the same time that they were closing the Pembina Mine, this company was opening another mine at Nacmine in the Drumheller Valley. According to Foley Trail, many of the miners from Evansburg moved to Nacmine to continue working for the company.

I was also doing some research in the Provincial Archive recently when I came across a telegraph from March 31, 1936 that may shed some light. This was a correspondence between A. A. Millar, Chief Inspector of Mines for the province, and Jeffrey Manufacturing Co., a manufacturer of coal mining equipment. Millar stated that the Pembina Mine operators wished to, and came across a telegraph from March 31, 1936 requesting advice for the transfer of two battery locomotives used in Evansburg to another mine. Which mine would be receiving the locomotives is not stated, though it was another mine that had been using safety lamps as a way to test for air quality.

We may no longer have these tools and machines in our community, but it is interesting to think about how much of the equipment went on to have another life at a different mine.
