demos that showed the importance of the soil, the different crops grown in Alberta, and then sorted grocery items based on the crop they come from. Students finished the day by planting sunflower seeds that they were excited to take home. The activity aligns with the Science Program of Studies for both Grade 3 - Human Activities that Change the Land and Importance of Soil, and Grade 4 - Natural Resources and Parts of the Earth.

Wildwood has also proudly hosted a grandparents' program for over 25 years at the school - linking community members, as well as students' grandparents, to volunteer with their grade 4 students to form cross-generational relationships. Program activities run from October to March and include floor curling, seasonal crafts, card games, family history and area history examination re-using items for outdoor decorations, and making and serving snacks for others including a May Spring Tea for community members, and year-end celebration.

JOKE of the week

Four men are in the hospital waiting room because their wives are having babies. A nurse goes up to the first guy and says, "Congratulations! You're the father of twins."

"That's odd," answers the man. "I work for the Minnesota Twins!" A nurse says to the second guy, "Congratulations! You're the father of triplets!" "That's weird," answers the second man. "I work for the 3M company!" A nurse tells the third man, "Congratulations! You're the father of quadruplets!" "That's strange," he answers. "I work for the Four Seasons hotel!" The last man is groaning and banging his head against the wall. "What's wrong?" the others ask.

"I work for 7 Up!"

DEAR EDITOR

Submitted

Our Premier must believe she is omniscient and omnipotent, that she must tell the Prime Minister what to do for her province on her behalf.

To "reset the relationship," she insists that Mr Carney must address nine ultimatums. Apparently she sees her position as above that of a Prime Minister; she does not seem to see such a need for herself in "resetting the relationship." Furthermore, she seems not to know that we have over three hundred federal elected officials to convince, not just the one at the top who takes the blame for what they legislate.

Let us examine the nine.

One: Mr Carney is to guarantee unfettered oil and gas routes. This would, of course, ignore other jurisdictions and their other priorities, including authority over their lands. And "unfettered" means a free rein wherever applied, which would be ridiculous. Perhaps there should first be a better royalty return on current productions, which might actually pay for programs and allow growth in the Heritage Fund.

Two: He is to repeal Bill C-69, which UCP calls the "no new pipelines" act. Let us keep to reality. It actually deals with reducing or limiting harmful effects on environment, health, social and economic factors, and encouraging sustainability.

Three: He is to remove the tanker ban off the B.C. coast. Shouldn't British Columbia have some say in that? Also, are there no environmental concerns?

Four: He is to eliminate the emissions cap on oil and gas, because UCP sees that instead as a production cap, despite the Pathways Alliance and other fossil fuel companies recognizing the need for reducing emissions and working to sequester them. Perhaps using hydrogen (stripped from hydrocarbons instead of burning them) is also not OK.

Five: Mr Carney is to scrap the "Clean Electricity Regulations." What could be wrong with clean energy? One argument for this is to stabilize the electrical grid, but Alberta is woefully behind others in recognizing that there is always wind blowing in many parts of Alberta, and only the enforced provincial delays and restrictions prevent us from exploiting this free source of energy (among others) to stabilize the grid.

Six: The prohibition on single-use plastics must end. Obviously Ms Smith does not like paper bags or reusable straws. What is the argument, if any, for preventing development of plastics replacements? Perhaps single-use plastics need to end.

Seven: Canada must abandon the net-zero vehicle mandate. No reason is given, but this surely has to do with a perceived need to burn up all our fossil fuels as soon as possible rather than saving them for multiple uses by future generations.

Eight: Oversight of the carbon tax is to be returned to the provinces. This is a silly one, since the tax began in Alberta and was later turned over to the federal government for management. Why would we want it back?

Nine: Federal censorship of energy companies must end. What censorship is that? No Canadian government has tried to prevent production. It probably doesn't have to do with the federal government (generously interfering by) building a 35 billion dollar pipeline to the coast for Alberta to use (no other province received such help)? Or the generous federal offer to help clean up the problem of old, dead wells, etc?

INVESTING IN DIPLOMACY TO STRENGTHEN ECONOMIC TIES

Submitted by Government of Alberta

MLAs van Dijken and Pitt will travel to the U.S. in June to build on progress made with lawmakers to protect and deepen the ties that bond our economies.

Efforts will kick off when MLA for Athabasca-Barrhead-Westlock Glenn van Dijken lands in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to attend the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) Spring Agriculture Task Force meeting, June 5 to 7.

MLA van Dijken will champion Alberta's role as a reliable partner in establishing U.S. food security, share best practices in agriculture and agri-food development. He will advocate for Alberta's unimpeded access to U.S. markets in discussions with key decision makers on state-level and federal agriculture policy issues.

"The agriculture sector and rural Alberta are driving forces in our province's economy, attracting investment, creating jobs and providing nourishing, value-added food that enriches the tables of everyday Albertans, Canadians and Americans. I look forward to engaging with state-level officials and policymakers to share exactly why protecting and growing Alberta's agricultural ties with the U.S. is so mutually important."

Glenn van Dijken, MLA for Athabasca-Barrhead-Westlock

MLA for Airdrie-East Angela Pitt will be in Lake Tahoe, Nevada, from June 15 to 17 for the NCSL Legislative Leaders' Symposium. She will meet with U.S. lawmakers, state officials and business leaders to reinforce the value of our trade relationship and promote the benefits of working together on critical trade corridors, including pipelines, to unleash Alberta's ability to support the U.S. in its ambitions to become energy dominant.

"When it comes to ongoing diplomacy with our partners and allies, Alberta's government has been tirelessly defending Alberta's interests, engaging face-to-face with influential U.S. decision makers at every opportunity. I have had many positive conversations with members of the NCSL over the past few months, and I look forward to advancing these discussions further in Nevada."

Angela Pitt, MLA for Airdrie-East

The NCSL, established in 1975 by state legislators and legislative staff, brings together lawmakers and government leaders from all 50 U.S. states, commonwealths, territories and the District of Columbia. The conference promotes co-operation and information exchanges between state legislatures in the U.S. and in other countries. Alberta formalized its role in the NCSL by becoming an affiliate member of the organization and a member of its International Advisory Council last year.

Mission expenses will be posted on the travel and expense disclosure page.

THE BEST PLACE FOR ____ IS ____!!

Submitted by MLA Shane Getson

Over the last few weeks, being out of the legislature and meeting with regular folks has been an absolute godsend. I'm not sure if Ralph Klein was the first to call it "Dome Disease," but it sure fits what happens when too many political people are around each other for too long. Getting out into local communities and driving some of the secondary highways is just the remedy for Dome Disease.

I've also started bringing the "Adventure Camera" with me on the road, recording a few thoughts here and there as I head down the highway. I spend more time in my pickup than I ever do in any office—that's for sure. And as many folks have come to appreciate, I take a lot of phone calls while I'm on the road. As I tend to get focused on the Economic Corridor Model most hours of the day, it's been a real treat to hear everyone talking about the big issues—especially energy transportation infrastructure, which we so desperately need as a country. But we've kind of forgotten about the little things in our own backyards, like tourism.

If you've heard me lay out the model, you might've heard one of my goofy theories I use to get people thinking about collaboration and pathways. For those who haven't—here it goes:

I believe Tony Soprano and Mickey Mouse are the same person.

They're both gangsters. They take most of your money, but somehow you end up liking them and going back for more—so they can take even more of your money later!

Those who've taken their kids to Disneyland get it. And then I explain how they do it with the rides—brilliant plan. You wait in anticipation, watching folks get off the ride, excited and buzzing. You get on, your adrenaline kicks in, and when you get off, you walk through the gift shop. Many people buy something to remember the moment—the way they felt when they were excited. Then, at the end of the gift shop, there's a sign pointing you to the next ride. If you hit enough of them, you end up right back where you started. It's a thing of beauty.

When I tell folks this ride analogy, I ask: if the gangster mouse can do it, why can't we?

Why do we end up so focused on competing with the business next door or the town down the road?

Why do we scrap over crumbs instead of growing the pie?

If you have a good business, promote another good business. Send folks down the road to another great place—so they'll eventually send people back to you. Even better, help them get there. Want the full amusement park experience? Send them down some scenic routes. Let them enjoy the countryside. Some of the roads less traveled are the most relaxing and the most fun to drive—or ride.

So, I want to put my "Local Economic Tourism Corridor" to the test—but I'll need your help.

Tell me:

- Where's the best place to get ____ and why?
- Where is it located?
- What's the best little highway or road to get there?
- Is there a cool piece of infrastructure—a bridge, dam, park, or greenhouse?
- Is it the best place for a real homemade burger and fries? An amazing pizza?

• A local farmers market? An artist's gallery? Horseback riding? Rafting?

Email us your pictures of these places!

I want to create a digital map of our best corridor spots. Email me at lacsteanne.parkland@assembly.ab.ca

Let's map it out and share it with the world. Let's show off our area and our province. Let's connect with others working on similar projects and share ideas. Let's make sure the places we identify become part of our "Theme Park," sending good customers and friends down the road to the next great spot.

I hope to see you out and about this summer. And if our schedules align, I'd love to meet you at the places you recommend. I'd love to hear—and, if possible, share—your stories about why you call that place home or why you love it so much.

People need to hear the good things again. We need to help each other as much as possible—and honestly, we all need to have a little more fun doing it.

See you soon.

GTHS STUDENTS EXPLORE CAREER OPTIONS AT NAIT

Submitted by GYPSD

Several Grand Trunk High School (GTHS) Grade 10 and Grade 11 students were invited to NAIT's first School of Energy and Natural Resources' Immersive Experience, providing a day-long exploration of various programs within the school. The experience is designed to give high school students a firsthand look at post-secondary education options within the energy and natural resources field.

GTHS students selected two sessions from a choice of nine career paths and got to participate in a showcase of the program, its career paths, and hands-on experience in these polytechnic pursuits: Forestry Management, Water & Wastewater Management, Laboratory & Biotechnology, Chemical Engineering, Chemical Technology, Electrical Engineering Technology, Alternative Energy, Power Engineering, Environmental Monitoring & Assessment, and Conservation Biology.

The majority of students had recently finished a unit on Energy and Technology in Science 10, and this day aligned with a number of Science 10 content and concepts. Students remarked on both the valuable information, the eye-opening experiences, and the fun they had from this experience such as learning about possible career paths and post-secondary plans.

FOREST TENT CATERPILLARS

Forest Tent Caterpillars have been spotted throughout the province this spring. While Yellowhead County has not seen as many as other locations, the insects are present in our area.

What to Know:

- Populations peak approximately every 10 years, with outbreaks lasting from 2 to 5 years.
- They are easily identified by the blue stripes running down the length of the body, and a row of white, key-shaped markings down the back.
- They often appear in large clusters and feed on host trees. Once a cluster has completely defoliated a tree, they will move together to a new location.
- While healthy trees usually survive an infestation, you may wish to remove them. To do so, you can scrape the caterpillars off the host tree, or use a strong jet of water to blast them off.

HAY YOU!

Would you like to be a producer of weed-free forage in Yellowhead County?

Yellowhead County is one of 20 municipalities who are part of the Alberta Certified Weed-Free Forage program and we want to help you get certified!

How It Works

- A crop must be inspected within 10 days of harvest
- Inspectors can certify all OR a portion of a field as 'weed-free'.
- Inspectors even have the authority to certify fields with weeds present, provided that no propagative plant parts (flowers, seed heads, root fragments) will enter the haled forage!

Interested in getting your field inspected?
Contact Yellowhead County Agricultural Services at 780-325-3782 or email the AISC at info@abinvasives.ca.
