PROMOTING ALBERTA ENERGY IN THE U.S.

Submitted by Government of Alberta

MLA Shane Getson will travel to Anchorage, Alaska to engage with state legislators and promote Alberta energy to member states at the Energy Council's annual meeting.

This meeting is an important forum for elected legislators from 14 energy-producing states in the U.S., as well as Alberta and Saskatchewan, to maintain connections and learn more about energy issues across their states and provinces.

Promoting Alberta's energy sector, including the important role Alberta plays in North American energy security, will be a key focus for MLA Getson as he participates in meetings and sessions in Anchorage. MLA Getson will also advocate for the need to continue to protect trade relationships to increase prosperity for Alberta and the United States.

"I'm proud to share Alberta's story with our American partners. Alberta families and businesses work hard to keep energy flowing, and that benefits people on both sides of the border. These meetings are about strengthening those relationships, finding common ground and showing that Alberta can be counted on as a reliable, responsible energy partner."

SUICIDE PREVENTION DAY: MINISTERS WILSON AND TURTON

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Minister of Mental Health and Addiction Rick Wilson and Minister of Children and Family Services Searle Turton issued the following statement on World Suicide Prevention Day:

"Today, on World Suicide Prevention Day, we stand together to remember those we have lost, support those who are struggling and reaffirm our commitment to building a province where every Albertan knows they are not alone.

"Suicide is a complex issue, but it is preventable. Behind every statistic is a person – a loved one, a friend or a neighbour – whose life matters. That's why Alberta's government continues to take bold, compassionate action to strengthen mental health supports across the province.

"We are investing in initiatives that help Albertans build resilience, develop recovery capital and access safe, evidence-based supports focussed on recovery.

"To anyone who is struggling – please know that help is available, and recovery is possible. A call to Counselling Alberta could provide the support needed for yourself or a loved one who is struggling."

- Rick Wilson, Minister of Mental Health and Addiction

"Our government is taking meaningful action to strengthen youth mental health and suicide prevention. Through the Youth Suicide Prevention Grant Program, we are supporting delivery of targeted, community-based initiatives for youth at increased risk of suicide. These grants are helping community organizations adapt services to meet the needs of youth in our province, expanding access to early intervention supports, and building on Alberta's broader approach to improving the mental health and well-being of children and youth.

"To Alberta's youth: you matter. You are not alone. There is help, there is hope, and there is a community that cares deeply about your well-being."

- Searle Turton, Minister of Children and Family Services

Through our Family Resource Networks, we are dedicated to ensuring young people – especially those in rural and Indigenous communities – have access to safe spaces, culturally appropriate services and programs that promote belonging, empowerment and hope. These networks deliver prevention and early intervention services and supports for children, youth and their families, providing age-specific programming, social supports and community connections.

4 SIMPLE WAYS TO WINTERIZE YOUR HOME

Trimming hanging branches and removing debris from their yards is one simple way homeowners can prepare their properties for winter.

As winter approaches, homeowners know they must do certain things to ready their homes for the coming months. Wrapping up the grill and closing the pool are no-brainers, but homeowners also must prioritize winterizing their homes to ensure homes withstand the winter.

Winterizing tasks range from small to big, but each can protect a home and its inhabitants and some can even save homeowners a substantial amount of money. The following are four simple ways to winterize your home.

1. Plug leaks

Leaky windows and doorways can cost homeowners money year-round, allowing cold air to escape on hot summer afternoons and letting cold air in on brisk winter nights. When such leaks aren't fixed, homeowners are more liable to turn up their air conditioners or heaters, unnecessarily padding their energy bills along the way. Before winter arrives, check areas around windows and door frames for leaks, as well as any additional openings, such as chimneys, that may allow cold air in. Use caulk or weather strips to plug these leaks, and enjoy your warmer home and lower energy bills as winter weather gets colder and colder.

2. Inspect your chimney

If your home has a chimney, chances are you have not used it since last winter. During that time, the chimney has likely accumulated some dirt and grime, and may even have served as home to some uninvited critters. As the season for fireside chats approaches, have your chimney serviced by a professional so it's ready for use and you are not greeted by some unwanted guests upon lighting your first fire.

3. Clear the yard

Autumn days, particularly late autumn days, can be gusty, and strong winds can cause branches to fall off trees. Branches big and small can cause damage to cars, siding and roofs, and smaller branches can get clogged in gutters, potentially causing gutters to back up and leading to leaky roofs that damage a home's interior. Take a walk around your property at least once per week during the fall, clearing any fallen limbs and trimming branches that appear one strong gust away from falling off of trees. Remove any branches that are hanging over your home and driveway so they don't pose a threat to your house or vehicles.

4. Turn off outdoor water supplies

When temperatures get especially low, pipes with water still in them can freeze and burst, potentially leading to significant water damage. When you no longer need to water the lawn and when temperatures get too cold to wash your car in the driveway, be sure to shut off the water supply to outdoor spigots and sprinkler systems. Once you do that, drain them so no water is sitting in the pipes when temperatures dip.

There are many ways to winterize a home, and homeowners should take every precaution necessary to ensure their homes are safe and warm as the cold weather season approaches.

EXTERIOR PAINTING POINTERS

A fresh coat of paint on a home's exterior can give a property a vibrant new look. Whether you decide to go with a bold new color or repaint a house in an existing color, new paint can add some life to the exterior of your home.

Summer has long been considered the ideal season to paint home exteriors, but advancements in technology have made it easier to paint home exteriors later in the year. According to paint manufacturer Sherwin-Williams, traditional latex-based paints need temperatures

Sherwin-Williams also notes that one of the more common mistakes homeowners make when painting their homes' exteriors is to paint during times of the year when temperatures fluctuate greatly between the days and nights. When nighttime temperatures dip considerably lower than they were in the afternoon, dew will form and the paint can stop coalescing. When that happens, moisture gets into the uncured paint and surface staining and adhesion problems may result. So even if the temperature is a comfortable 60 F during the day, homeowners should avoid painting if the nighttime temperatures figure to drop considerably.

In addition to choosing the right time of year to paint, consider the following painting pointers to ensure your home's exterior gets the fresh look you are aiming for.

- Monitor weather reports. It's not just the temperature at night after you paint that should be monitored. Sherwin-Williams advises that the temperature should be in the suggested range and above the dew point for at least 48 hours after application so the paint film can form properly. So applying a fresh coat of paint on a beautiful autumn Saturday is not ideal if Sunday figures to bring the first hints of winter.

Don't skimp on quality. Some paints are cost more than others, and homeowners working on a budget may be tempted to choose the least expensive option available. While price and quality are two different things, it's important that homeowners avoid choosing a paint solely because it is the least expensive option. Research paints before buying a particular one, emphasizing quality over cost. Today's paints last longer than the paints of yesterday, so you likely won't need to paint your home's exterior again for a long time. A budget-friendly yet low-quality paint will not only make your home less appealing, but you will likely need to paint again sooner than you will if you go with a higher quality paint.

Don't paint to cover up a problem. Rotting wood or siding is unsightly, and some homeowners think paint can cover up such a problem. But paint will not stick to rotten wood and siding, and the problem will still be noticeable after you paint. A fresh coat of paint is not the solution to rotten wood or siding. Consult a professional contractor if your home is experiencing such a problem.

A fresh coat of paint on your home's exterior can be a great way to improve your home's curb appeal. But it's important homeowners follow some of the same rules the pros adhere to when painting the exteriors of their homes.

HEATING HOMES MORE EFFICIENTLY

It is time to switch to a programmable thermostat to heat a home more efficiently.

With colder weather right around the corner, many homeowners are once again giving thought to their home heating needs and if it is possible to heat their homes more efficiently.

The United States Department of Energy reports that more than half of the energy used in a typical home goes toward heating and cooling costs. With energy costs continually on the rise, many homeowners want to make the most of their heating systems and use the heat in the most efficient manner possible.

A heating system is most effective when the home is free from drafts. Before investing in a new furnace or considering other drastic changes, determine if a few simple repairs can help your heating system perform more efficiently. Check around doors and windows for drafts that could force heating systems to work harder, and seal any leaks you find. This also will help in the summer when you are trying to keep the house as cool as possible. Determine if cold air is infiltrating the home elsewhere, such as from around pipes leading to the outdoors. Caulking or foam insulation can remedy the situation.

Adding extra insulation in garages and attics also can help. The DOE says if insulation is less than R-30, the home probably can use more. If after increasing insulation your home still feels drafty, it may require additional insulation in the exterior walls.

Invest in a quality thermostat. Many modern room thermostats allow homeowners to set different temperatures for different times of day, and some even allow homeowners to establish a different heating schedule for the weekends. Programmable thermostats allow homeowners to keep their homes cooler when unattended or during sleeping hours. The heat can be programmed to turn on or increase in temperature when residents are expected to return home after school or work.

While homeowners

are improving heating efficiency, they should reverse the direction of ceiling fan blades. Having the blades spin clockwise will draw down the hot air that rises to the ceiling and allow it to better flow through the home.

In addition to these suggestions, homeowners can employ these other energy- and cost-saving measures.

- Reuse oven heat. After cooking a meal in the oven, open the oven door and let the residual heat escape into the kitchen and the rest of the house. Note, it is not safe to heat a home with the oven, and the oven should be turned off before opening the door.

- Add a little humidity. Moist air tends to hold heat better. Add some humidity to dry indoor air, particularly if the relative humidity of the home as measured with a hygrometer is below 25 percent. Houseplants and home aquariums can add some warm moisture to the air and reduce reliance on heat.

- Limit use of exhaust fans. After showering or cooking, keep the exhaust fan on for as little time as possible so that warm air is not drawn out of the home.

Heating a home efficiently means reducing drafts, programming the thermostat and making the most of other ways to warm up.

ADVANCING ALBERTA'S LEADERSHIP IN FAMILY VIOLENCE PREVENTION

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Minister Searle Turton will join global leaders in Sydney, Australia, for the largest conference on women's shelters and ending gender-based violence.

The minister will attend the 5th World Conference of Women's Shelters to learn more about effective policies, programs and practical solutions from around the world. This international forum presents a unique opportunity to gain insights into global best practices from leading experts and strengthen relationships with international and domestic organizations to support future collaboration and innovation.

"Alberta is committed to ensuring families experiencing violence have access to safe and responsive supports when and where they need it. Participating in this global conference allows us to learn from international leaders and ensure that we continue to lead in our renewed women's shelter approach."

Searle Turton, Minister of Children and Family Services

Australia is recognized internationally as a leader in family violence prevention. Given shared demographic characteristics such as rural and urban populations and Indigenous communities, Alberta stands to benefit from the connection and knowledge exchange with Australian counterparts.

The minister will be joined by one staff member and take meetings outside the conference in alignment with Government of Alberta and Children and Family Services' broader priorities. Mission expenses will be posted on the travel and expense disclosure page.

COUNCILLOR LLOYD GIEBELHAUS ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT FROM LAC STE. ANNE COUNTY COUNCIL

LSAC.ca/news

After eighteen (18) years of dedicated service to the residents of Lac Ste. Anne County, Councillor Lloyd Giebelhaus has announced he will not be seeking re-election in the upcoming Municipal General Election on October 20, 2025.

Councillor Giebelhaus has proudly represented his division for five consecutive terms on County Council. Over the years, he has brought a steady, principled voice to Council deliberations and was called upon to serve in the role of Reeve for several of those terms. His leadership has helped shape important policy decisions and advance local priorities — always with the best interests of the community in mind.

Lloyd brought a rare combination of calm leadership, practical insight, and deep community roots to everything he did. Over the years, including his time as Reeve, he offered not only a strong voice for Sangudo and area, but a grounded and principled perspective that helped shape the direction of the County as a whole. He never sought the spotlight, but always showed up, always listened, and always cared.

"Lloyd has been a steady hand and a trusted voice on Council for as long as I've served alongside him. He always came to the table with the interest of residents at heart and brought wisdom and common sense to every discussion. His quiet leadership and deep understanding of this County will be missed more than words can say," commented Joe Blakeman, Lac Ste. Anne County Reeve. "On behalf of Council, thank you, Lloyd, for your outstanding service and friendship over the years."

Whether it was the Agricultural Service Board, municipal planning, or everyday concerns of residents, Lloyd approached his role with humility and heart. He has left a lasting mark on Lac Ste. Anne County, and his legacy of public service will not be forgotten.

"Serving the people of this County has been a great honour. I've always believed in showing up, listening, and doing what's right — even when it's not easy. After 18 years, it's time to step back and make space for fresh perspectives," reflected Lloyd. "I'm grateful for the support of my community and proud of what we've accomplished together. As I often say — without a sense of caring there can be no commitment. To Council, Administration, and Staff — thank you for your assistance, understanding, and commitment throughout my service on Council."

On behalf of Council, staff, and the residents of Lac Ste. Anne County: thank you, Lloyd. We wish you nothing but the best in this next chapter — you've earned it.

AHS HAS ISSUED A BLUE-GREEN ALGAE ADVISORY FOR PADDLE RIVER DAM RESERVOIR

ahs.ca/eph

September 9, 2025—Paddle River Dam Reservoir has been added to the list of Alberta Health Services' public health advisories for County lakes with blue-green algae (cyanobacteria) blooms. These advisories were posted following the detection of blue-green algae (cyanobacteria) based on visual blooms and cell count results in areas of Lessard Lake, Matchayaw/Devil's Lake, Nakamun Lake, Lake Isle, Lac Ste. Anne, Lac La Nonne, and most recently Paddle River Dam Reservoir. Advisories will remain in place until further notice.

As always, visitors and residents are reminded to never drink or cook with untreated water directly from any recreational body of water, including the aforementioned lakes, at any time. Boiling of this water will not remove the toxins produced by blue-green algae. An alternate source of drinking water should also be provided for pets and livestock while this advisory is active.

If you suspect a problem related to blue-green algae or require further information on health concerns and blue-green algae, please call Health Link at 811.

We're seeking public members for the Subdivision and Development Appeal Board (SDAB)

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box.

Last Weeks

You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
