PARKLAND RCMP SAVE INDIVIDUAL WITH SUCCESSFUL CPR

Submitted by Parkland RCMP

On June 26, 2026, Parkland RCMP officers were conducting patrols westbound on McLeod Avenue in Spruce Grove when they were flagged down by a concerned citizen near the roundabout at Nelson Dr.

The individual advised police that a person was lying unresponsive in the grass beneath a nearby tree. Officers immediately stopped to assess the situation and observed the individual to be unconscious. They also noted white foam around the person's mouth, leading them to suspect a possible overdose.

SUMMER SAVINGS AT ALBERTA MUSEUMS AND SITES

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta is making it more affordable for families and young people to learn our history at provincial museums and historic sites.

Through its participation in the Canada Strong Pass, Alberta's government is once again helping families, youth and visitors enjoy summer experiences at a reasonable price with free and discounted admission to all provincial museums and historic sites.

During the program period, general admission to Alberta museums and historic sites will be free for children and teens aged 17 and under and half-price for young adults aged 18-24. There's also no limit on visits, so guests can return as often as they like during the program period, making it easier than ever to learn about Alberta's history and culture.

"Alberta's museums and historic sites bring history to life. Through the Canada Strong Pass, our government is making it easier than ever for families and young people to explore Alberta's heritage and celebrate exactly what makes our province so special."

Andrew Boitchenko, Minister of Tourism and Sport

Alberta's participation in the Canada Strong Pass invites both Albertans and out-of-province visitors alike to experience everything our province has to offer, from world-class museums to historic sites spanning from Historic Dunvegan in the north to the Frank Slide Interpretive Centre in the south.

Through hands-on exhibits, special events and seasonal programming, Alberta's museums and historic sites offer engaging experiences that support learning and ensure more people connect with and take pride in the story of our province.

"We're pleased to take part in the Canada Strong Pass again this year, welcoming more families and young people to the Royal Alberta Museum with free or discounted admission and opportunities to explore Alberta's rich and diverse stories."

Meaghan Patterson, executive director, Royal Alberta Museum

"Museums allow us to discover what brings us together: our history, our creativity, our perspectives and the stories that shape Canada. With the Canada Strong Pass, even more Canadians will be able to enjoy cultural experiences across the country, while saving money."

Marc Miller, federal Minister of Canadian Identity and Culture and Minister responsible for Official Languages

The Canada Strong Pass is not a physical or digital pass that visitors need to present or download. Instead, the benefits are automatically applied to all eligible guests during the program period. For details on participating sites and visitor information, visit https://www.alberta.ca/historic-sites-museums.

GOVERNING FOR THE PEOPLE

Submitted by Peter Willott

Our provincial government has produced a slate of unwanted (and unnecessary) questions for referenda on October 19. The first batch seek objections against our newcomer neighbours and colleagues, and the second set seek action that is already covered in the constitution. They lead into a separatism question. These are questions that come from the government only, and can be answered by the government without further input, so they are actually wastefully expensive pseudo-democratic offerings only for the government's purposes.

What happens to the questions that citizens want?

Why were two successfully produced citizen petitions sent to committees instead of being handled? Why are those committees not meeting? The citizen-led petitions could easily have been addressed in the Legislature, and even solved there, as asked by the Forever Canadian one. At the least they could become referendum questions, as asked by the petition to protect water instead of coal. These should have been priorities for a democratic government. Why was our provincial government reluctant to seek the simple solutions asked by Albertans?

What happens if referenda results conflict with the government's policies? Ms Smith and her government have prioritized matters such as an expensive and unintegrated pension plan and an isolated police force, that are important to Ms Smith and her caucus but are ignoring, even avoiding, those sought by the people. Ms Smith, honour the electorate. Call the Legislature back. Act for the people! Make actions initiated and requested by citizens an honest part of your government.

SUDOKU of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
